MY CALENDAR

No dates are in my calendar
With which I mark the days—No man-made thing can chart for me
The season's mystic maze.

For no one needs a printed tale
To make it very sure That spring has come when lilacs speak Of memories that endure.

I mark the summers hours by songs Of birds in glen and glade—
And all the years not one mistake Has any singer made.

And autumn has a tender word
It writes across the sod—A shining word of faith and cheer That men call goldenrod!
—Arthur Wallace Peach.

Mrs. Ted Davis was taken to Duke Hospital, Durham, on Tuesday afternoon to receive treatment.
A blood transfusion was given Thursday.

Miss Ruth Daughtry of Goldsboro visited Joselyn House last week.
She was one of her Junior suite mates at Meredith College last year.

Miss Lorraine Bridgers is at home after attending summer school at ECTC, Greenville.

Jocelyn House returns to Meredith College Wednesday, Sept. 8th, to begin her Senior year in Music.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Joyner and son, James, formerly of Wakefield, now of Mt. Olive, were in Zebulon for a while on Monday and stopped in the Record office, where they were most welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. House attended the Home Coming services at old McKindree Methodist church in Edgecombe county Sunday.

A barbecue dinner was served under the pines in the yard. This church is in the community within which Mrs. House's mother was reared. Her grandmother was a member of this church when Rev.
C. L. Read held his first charge at this church when beginning his ministry. He was invited to attend these services but due to being under a doctor's care, was unable to attend.

CHAMBLEE REUNION SUNDAY

The annual reunion of the family and relatives of the late Sidney Chamblee will be held on next Sunday at the old home place now occupied by C. S. Chamblee and family. This occasion is always noteworthy as to program and dinner, and is regularly attended by large numbers of the family connection.

Miss Inez Pitts is home for the cotton-picking-vacation from her school teaching. She had as visitor during the week end her cousin, Miss Brummitt of Oxford.

Mrs. Ida Hall and Mrs. Evelyn Morrow visited Myrtle Beach last week. On the return they stopped in Hamlet, from which place Miss Marjorie Birmingham accompanied them home for a visit.

Miss Geraldine Bell, daughter of the Hunter Bells, underwent an operation for appendicitis last week in Rex Hospital where her mother was already a patient.

Mrs. S. G. Flowers with her daughter, Jean, and son, S. G., Jr., and Miss Frankie Hall went to Manteo for the weekend.

Mrs. Ivey had recent visitors in her home, her mother, Mrs. Dutton, and sister, Miss Dutton, of Florence, S. C.

J Leonard James, Wake County Tax Collector was a business caller at the Record office yesterday. Mr.
James stated that the people were settling up back taxes very satisfactorily and by 1938 he believed most of the past due taxes would be settled. His son, Burt accompanied him to Zebulon.

The editor of the Record and Mrs. Davis appreciate the following announcement and wish the young couple much happiness:

not been well for months.

Mr. G. K. Harris of Plymouth, his son, Lee Roy Harris.

Good Work Done At Library

The library at the woman's club is closing this week with a much better circulation record than it had last summer. The Olivia Raney Library in Raleigh furnished the books and 1,538 books have been read since June 1st. About 250 Magazines that were given to the Library by members of the Woman's club have been given away to people who came asking for something to read.

I want to thank the people of the community who have helped to make the library a success this summer.
