

Social Security Adms. Holds Regional Meet

Several dozen administrators of the unemployment compensation feature of the social security program, together with representatives of the board and other high officials from Washington, met at the Sir Walter Hotel last Friday and Saturday to discuss some of the problems confronting them.

Among the speakers was Ralph L. Steele, certified public accountant of Raleigh, who has made a study of federal taxing laws, and who spoke plainly of some of the shortcomings of the present law. Rather, his criticism was of the "long-comings" of the law, in its requirement for too many and too complicated reports, too drastic penalties for failure to comply with minor requirements of the law, etc. Mr. Steele warned his hearers that unless steps were taken to simplify and popularize the law there is trouble ahead for its enforcement.

Attending the conference were administrators from West Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and North Carolina. They were not little fellows in the set-up, but were the head men. Attending also were half a dozen or more high government officials, who listened with keen interest and later privately commended Mr. Steele's criticism of the act.

The local man intimated that the principles of the act are very good, its purpose fine; but in the requirement of both state and federal laws for so many complicated reports, provisions for extreme penalties, and confusion of the public as to just what can be expected in return benefits, lies danger of so much popular discontent as will make its application very difficult if not impossible, and he pleaded for liberalization of these features.

Offers Pay For Sowing Pastures

North Carolina farmers are urged to take advantage of the opportunities they have to develop good pastures while earning payments under the agricultural conservation program.

On farms where the full amount of the soil-building allowance has not yet been earned for 1937, growers may still earn payments up to October 31 by seeding permanent pastures.

Rates of payment offered for seeding various pasture mixtures have been noted by John A. Arey, extension dairy specialist at State College, as follows:

For mixtures containing 50 per cent or more, by weight, of mammoth clover or red clover, $2 per acre.

For mixtures containing 50 per cent or more by weight, of one or more of the following legumes, annual lespedeza, sweet clover, or alsike clover, $1.50 per acre.

For any mixture of bur clover, white clover, red top, or timothy, $1 per acre.

Payments will also be given for applying lime, superphosphate, or potash to non-crop pasture land, or in connection with the seeding of fall pasture grasses or winter cover crops, such as crimson clover, Austrian peas, and vetch.

For applying 1,000 to 5,000 lbs. of ground limestone per acre, $2 a ton.

For applying 100 to 500 pounds of 16 per cent superphosphate or its equivalent, 60 cents per 100 pounds.

For applying 30 to 250 pounds of muriate of potash on land where superphosphate has been applied in accordance with the program. $1 per 100 pounds.
