

Paint-For Barns And Lips

The Department of Commerce has reported that the paint consumed annually in the United States would cover a fence 500 feet high encircling the earth. The amount of lipstick used each year by American women would paint 40,000 barns.

THE POOR MUST PAY

"One of the gravest indictments of the Congress which has just adjourned is its refusal to think about our terrible tax mess," writes John T. Flynn in a syndicated article. "This responsibility belongs to no special party—both great parties ran away from the subject. A politician is more frightened by taxation than by any other form of menace." Further on in his article, Mr. Flynn points to the ridiculous fallacy of the "soak the rich" policy of taxation. This may be good bait for uninformed voters, but as an economic possibility, to quote Mr. Flynn again, it "is the saddest of all illusions."

During the last fiscal year, Federal, state and local taxes collected in the United States amounted to $12,500,000,000. If every person who had an income of $25,000 a year or more, had been taxed to the limit—100 per cent—collections would have reached less than $4,000,000,000, one-third of the tax load. And if the government had confiscated 100 per cent of the incomes of all persons earning $5,000 a year or more—a sum which is certainly a far cry from riches—collections would have reached about $10,000,000,000, more than $2,000,000,000 less than the amount necessary to pay our extortionate tax bill.

The taxpayer who provides the bulk of tax funds in this country, whether he knows it or not, is the average small-salaried worker—the man or woman earning $20, $30, or $40 a week. Indirect taxes are the principal support of all units of government—taxes which are hidden in the cost of food, clothing, tobacco, amusements, gasoline, beauty preparations and everything we use. The Twentieth Century fund has found that a $1,000 wage earner in New York pays $123 in taxes; a $2,000 salary worker, $238; a $5,000 a year man, $618; and a $100,000 executive, about $60,000.

We are not now paying anywhere near enough taxes to meet present government expenditures, let alone reducing our nearly $40,000,000,000 Federal debt. Only the poor man can furnish the tax money—there aren't enough rich men, if you take all they have.
