PIONEERS

All men are pioneers inside their hearts. They are forever seeking wilderness. Behind strong teams they ride in hooded carts. Avid for life, and masterless.

In their hearts they are forever cutting clover. They are forever drawing water from a well. In their dream they are observing, over and over, The ground they would clear, the forests they would fell.

—Lionel Wiggan.

Dr. C. E. Flowers and R. H. Bridgers spent two days this week in Beaufort County hunting.

Mrs. Ebbie Stallings, who has been very sick, is somewhat improved, but her condition is not yet entirely satisfactory. She recently enjoyed a visit from her sister, Mrs. Henry Fowler, and niece, Mrs. Sappenfield, both of Kannapolis.

Mrs. Merritt Massey has been confined to bed for more than a week with a deep cold and complications.

L. R. Hayes of Creedmoor spent last Friday here visiting his niece, Mrs. G. R. Massey.

To Close Wednesday

Wakelon School will close for the Christmas holidays on Wednesday of next week. Class work will be resumed January 3.

T. C. Council of Raleigh was in the RECORD office Wednesday of this week on business connected with his work as clerk of the Raleigh Association.

Bigger Turnip

That big turnip that was exhibited in Zebulon Drug Store recently has been eclipsed by one brought to the RECORD office this week, and which may be seen in the window. This turnip is of the Purple Top variety and was grown by H. K. Privette of Peaces. Smooth and solid, it weighs 5 pounds, 10 ounces. Mr. Privette says that crops in the Pearce community are unusually good this year, and that many of his turnips compare favorably in size with the giant specimens brought totown.

Miss Elizabeth Ferrell, of King's Business College with Scott Paul of Newport attended the Phi Theta Pi Fraternity banquet and dance Saturday night, December 11.

Mrs. L. B. Kirby and Mrs. Joseph Kotzum of Tunstall, Va. and New York respectively, visited Mrs. Z. N. Culpepper this weekend. Mrs. Kirby is the mother of Mrs. Culpepper and Mrs. Kotzum her sister.

APPRECIATION EXPRESSED

The family of C. E. Parker wish to express to friends their deep appreciation of all kindness and consideration shown during his illness and at the time of his death.

Ready For Christmas

ZEBULON SUPPLY STORE is all dressed up and doesn't have to go anywhere; or wouldn't have time if it did want to go. Too many are visiting the Store in these days of Christmas shopping.

There is an astonishing array of merchandise from which to select. Botany prints, single or in sets, bring back memories of our grandmothers' parlors and gardens. These lovely flower pictures will grace any home from the simplest cottage to an imposing residence, as would the blossoms they represent.

Mirrors, elaborate framed pictures, pillows, lamps for table or floor, all speak persuasively of some friend's preference. And, speaking of chairs — there's one rightly called Grandfather's chair. The chances your grandfather or great-grandfather sat after supper and rocked in one exactly like it. Such furniture never goes out of style. And whatnots? Remember them? The ones we first remember were made of spools and hung on the wall, holding everything from newspapers and patterns to Aunt Bet's false teeth. The ones at Zebulon have feet and stand on the floor, but they have spools forming the side supports. They hold nothing as yet.

Front windows display a Christmas tree, decorated, and gifts piled underneath and around. They even suggest an electric Frigidaire Range for a gift! One window is filled with tricycles, bicycles, and red wagons of varying sizes.

Back in the store the Kozy Cottage is fixed up for the holidays, showing grouping and arrangement of furniture to best advantage.

It's all worth going to see anyway, whether you buy much or merely wish you could. It costs nothing to look. And you'll probably find exactly what you like at a reasonable price.

Child Killed By Hiway Patrol Car

Betty Allen, four year old daughter of Harry B. Allen, was run over and killed late Sunday afternoon by a highway patrol car driven by Corporal A. C. Brown. The accident occurred on South Street near the old Rex hospital building.

The patrol car, followed closely by a car carrying several county deputies sheriffs, was on its way to the scene of a week near Garner. Testimony at the coroner's inquest Wednesday varied greatly as to the rate of speed, but witnesses agreed upon one or two facts. The little girl had just gotten out of another car in which she had been riding and started across the street. The patrol car struck her, knocked and dragged her for nearly 90 feet, and the tracks on the pavement showed that the tires skidded for about sixty feet. Officers testified that the car was going at "35 to 40" miles an hour; other witnesses swore that the speed was much nearer 65 miles. The coroner exonerated Corporal Brown of blame in the accident.

Transcript of the evidence at the inquest was taken and will be available for solicitor and grand jury if they later decided to bring indictment in the case.

Sonya Henie At Fuquay Springs

Talley Brothers tobacco warehouse at Fuquay Springs got on the map last week for something besides selling tobacco. Miss Sonya Henie, moving picture actress and champion skater, stopped over for an hour or two to watch tobacco sales. To Curtis Dale fell the honor of piloting the distinguished visitor around. Miss Henie was accompanied by two men, but they were not important enough to get their names in the Associated Press item about the visit.

TO OUR FRIENDS

As another year draws to a close we take this means of thanking our many friends who through the changing seasons for more than three decades have made our store headquarters for drugs and supplies.

We have tried to serve you faithfully and honestly; with you we have enjoyed the years of prosperity and withstood adversity and depression. May the former be more and the latter less in the future!

For all of you we wish that Christmas may mean much of happiness and that the New Year may bring good gifts.
