NUMBER 27

This, That, and The Other

MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

About twenty-three years ago Miss Frieda Neuse came to Zebulon as the first Home Economics teacher at Wakelon. She was from Buffalo, New York. That winter her mother came down for a visit and was much interested in this section. And nothing impressed her more than the fact that persimmons were allowed to hang on the trees all winter. She felt we were thrifless and wasteful.

I'd like for her to know that at least a part of the persimmons were used even at that date. I mean besides the ones eaten by dogs, 'possums and such. (My father had a little roan horse that ate every 'simmon he could reach.)

Below I give directions for persimmon pudding. Thank Mrs. J. B. Whitley of Siler City for it. She says:

"This recipe came out of The Progressive Farmer many years ago. I secured it from a middle-aged friend in Siler City, to whom it was 'handed down' from her mother. She makes the puddings for sale and they are truly delicious. They keep perfectly for weeks."

PERSIMMON PUDDING

1-2 gal persimmons rounded up, 1-2 gal sweet milk, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup white sugar, 1 tbs. soda, 1 tsp. salt, 2 cups raw sweet potatoes grated, 1 tbs. Cinnamon (powdered) 1-2 tsp. each of powdered cloves, ginger, allspice and nutmeg, flour enough to make a stiff matter but not quite stiff enough for cake. Bake in slow oven about 1 hour.

Persimmons mashed with milk and put through a colander coarse enough to let all pulp through.

CREAMY ICING

1 cup sugar, 1-2 cup top sweet milk, 1 teaspoon flour, boil 5 min., beat and pour over pudding after it is cold.

From the same friend I received the recipe for Date Roll, which follows.

1 pkg. dates, 2 cups white sugar, 3-4 cup sweet milk, 1 tbs. butter, 1 cup chopped nuts (pecans, English or black walnuts). Cook sugar and milk together until it forms a fairly hard ball in cold water. Then put in dates which have been seeded. Cook until all dates are dissolved; add butter and take off stove. Beat in nuts—When it begins to cool pour out on wet towel and roll into convenient strips or loaf. When about cold and firm cut into sizes desired and roll in pulverized sugar.

Put away in a cake box in a cool place—this will keep almost indefinitely.

Mrs. Whitley says: "My first

Payne Recaptured

Bill Payne, escaped convict who has made for himself a more unenviable record during the past several months, was recaptured on Monday in Sanford by federal police. The work was directed by J. Edgar Hoover and local police were said to be unconnected with it. Payne and a companion, Wash Turner, offered no resistance and were taken to Charlotte. Some of the charges against Payne are robbery and murder.

They are thought to have killed George Penn of the highway patrol.

HONOR ROLL

The New Year has not as yet brought many renewals to the office. However, the following have come in and renewed their subscriptions since last week's edition of the RECORD, and are for that reason placed upon our Honor Roll.

BEGINNING NEXT WEEK

Roosevelt Speaks To Congress

On Monday President Roosevelt's address to Congress was broadcast, thus being heard by thousands outside legislative halls. He emphasized crop control, minimum wages, maximum hours of labor, governmental reorganization and tax changes. Reaction to the message was doubtless influenced by the beliefs of listeners, some of whom declared it to be a fearless message, while others heard little to encourage them. Mr. Roosevelt urged the co-operation of business with the government. He declared that while this country earnestly desires peace, we must be adequately prepared for self-defense. He promised a decrease in the deficit, but admitted that there could be no actual balance yet between income and outgo.

Fertilizer Is Being Hauled

Although the year has just begun, preparations for crops are under way. Plant beds are being made ready, and some have been sowed. Loads of sacked fertilizer are being hauled out of town by farmers who are beginning work for 1938.

Whatever may be the outcome of legislation on government control; whether or not there should be devised an "ever normal" granary; whatever may be done about employment and unemployment; the real dirt farmer knows that the toil must go on, and is patiently, uncomplainingly, and somewhat hopefully going about his tasks.

Recorder's Court

This week our readers will have to read between the lines of the Recorder's Court proceedings to understand the stark tragedy, the amusing comedy, the breaks and bruises, the heart aches and breaks of those whose names are recorded as active participants and partakers of the Court's actions and verdicts.

DEATHS

JOHN G. UTLEY

Funeral services for John G. Utley, who died Sunday night at 11 o'clock at the age of 81, were held in the Rolesville Baptist Church Monday at 3 p. m. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. O. Baker, pastor, who was assisted by the Rev. A. A. Pippin.

Mr. Utley, for many years a resident of Holly Springs, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Stone of Zebulon.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Stone, is another daughter, Miss Kate Utley of Zebulon, and a sister, Mrs. J. R. Rambeau.

BEN MAY, JR.

The death of Ben May, Jr., 17, in Zebulon Friday night of last week was caused by a self-inflicted wound. The young man, who lived on Wendell, R2, came to Zebulon with a friend, Sam Anderson, of Eagle Rock, and the two took Misses Josephine May and Thelma Brannan to ride. Returning at about 10:30, the girls were in their homes, when May, in front of Miss May's home shot himself with a pistol, the bullet entering the heart. As no doctor could be at once located here, Anderson drove to Wendell, but May was dead before help could be reached.

It is said that the boy had attempted suicide before the fatal date, and it had been feared that an accident suffered previously had injured his head. No definite reason could be assigned for the cat that cost his life.

Burial was at Hephzibah church on Sunday afternoon with the pastor, Rev. W. H. Poole in charge. Pallbearers were high school classmates of the deceased.

Surviving besides the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben May, are two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Collie and Miss Madeline May; three brothers, Hollis and Elmo May of Wendell, and Burlie May of Zebulon.

GEORGE W. MITCHELL

George W. Mitchell of Raleigh died on Friday of last week at the age of 70. He is survived by his wife and a daughter; three sisters and a brother. Burial was in Raleigh on Sunday. Mr. Mitchell was for several years a resident of Zebulon. Coming here in the spring of 1924 as editor and owner of The Zebulon Record he very quickly developed the paper into a wide-awake weekly. The paper, was a successor to the Zebulon News which had been published by J. B. Whitley, who moved his plant to Siler City leaving the town without a paper. With the coming of Mr. Mitchell The Record developed perhaps the largest circulation it has ever had. His health gave way before he left Zebulon, though he was for years able to do part-time work.
