

AN OPEN LETTER

To Our Subscribers:

Sometime between now and Feb. 1 you will get a personal letter from the Publisher of The Zebulon Record, stating the exact amount you owe on past due subscription.

This letter will request payment of what you owe, so we can pay some of our debts and try to give you a better newspaper. But why wait for our letter? You can easily estimate how much you owe for the paper to Jan. 1 by estimating the time from the date on your label. Won't you send the money or a check for the amount due?

If you do not have the money now to pay your subscription and want us to continue sending the paper to you, our letter will tell you how this can be done. However, if possible, will you not send payment now? It will save us time and money by relieving us of the expense of writing you. Please let us hear from you.

HARRY HEATER BURNED TO DEATH IN OIL TRUCK

Harry B. Heater, of Knightdale, formerly of Cary and a grandson of C. R. Heater of that place, was burned to death Thursday morning when the oil truck which he was driving got out of control, overturned and caught fire. The tragedy occurred on highway U. S. 64, near Knightdale.

Johnny Reaves of Raleigh, riding in the cab with Heater, suffered severe burns and was brought to Mary Elizabeth hospital. Coroner Waring and highway patrol officials investigating the accident, decided that no inquest was necessary.

Heater was 23 years of age. He had been working for the Shell oil company about a year. Reaves started to work this week.

Several people arrived on the scene immediately after the truck overturned, but the flames were so hot and spreading so rapidly they could do nothing for Heater, who was pinned beneath the cab.

Give to a gracious message a host of tongues; but let ill tidings tell themselves.—Shakespeare.

CHINESE SHOW STRENGTH

Hankow, China—In a counter-offense against invading Japanese armies, the Chinese resistance has broken several sectors of the Japanese line. From the occupied territory surrounding Shanghai comes the report that eight Japanese soldiers had ravished two British girls who had ventured beyond the International Settlement. Their escorts were bound to trees and forced to witness the brutal assault by the Japanese troops. The incident will unquestionably increase the tension between Tokyo and the British Foreign Office, already smarting under an almost complete "loss of face" in the Orient.
