

A TASK WELL DONE

With the exception of this article, all items on this page were taken from "The Students' Guide," a school paper published by the Wakefield-Zebulon colored school, and printed in the RECORD shop. This publication reflects great credit upon those responsible for it, and it is to be hoped that it may be a regular feature of school life from this time.

Copy for the paper was brought into the shop well in advance of the date of publication, and was neatly prepared and carefully arranged. This made the printer's task less difficult.

Special commendation is due the school and faculty because of the progress that has been made during the past years. The Wakefield-Zebulon school is a decided asset to this community, and all who have had any part in its development may feel that they have not wrought in vain. What the school and its teachings may mean does not yet appear in full; but already one may judge in part; and it is safe to say that pupils who graduate from the school are much better fitted for citizenship than they could have been without its training.

Read this page and join the RECORD in congratulations and good wishes for the teachers in our colored school and for the work they are doing.

TEAMWORK TRIUMPHS

In playing basketball it takes five boys to make a team or six girls to make a team. If the players are divided in their efforts they can not make a success. To play a good game the cooperation of every member of the team is needed. Two or three can not win a game. Every man has an important job to perform.

Some people think the person who makes the most baskets is the star. That is never true. Every person's talent is not the same. While one person can play guard he can not play forward well, but all help to win the game. A player can not shoot unless he gets the ball and he can not always get it himself. He needs the help of his team mates. There would be better teams if the members would quit trying to star and play to win the game.

SERVING THE NEEDS OF THE BOYS

There have been many interesting developments in the Wakefield-Zebulon School for the past four years, particularly in the matter of bringing cultural and educative exhibits to the students.

The vocational department is a fair example of this type of growth. It has meant a great deal to the people of the community, but at the same time it is developing the skill of the boys along the lines of manual training.

Vocational agriculture is a fitting subject for rural boys because it enables them to carry on their form of work in a broader manner. It is through the aids of this department that the boys are able to judge grain, also livestock, such as: chickens, hogs, cows, mules and horses.

The boys are also taught along the line of constructive work such as building houses and other things that are useful buildings on the farm. After they are able to judge grain, livestock and know how to build various things for the farm and home use they also know how to rotate crops, select soil and plan its management. It is expected that boys who take vocational work will be in a better condition to carry on farming on a higher economic level than ever before.

VOCATIONAL BOYS SPONSOR
FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The Vocational boys of Wakefield-Zebulon school sponsored a Father and Son Banquet in the school auditorium Thursday night, December 6, 1937, at eight o'clock.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with lights of various colors. Refreshments were served.

There were many guests present. Some of the speakers of the evening were Mr. Dean, of A. & T. College, Greensboro, N. C.; Professor E. H. Moser of the Wakefield-Zebulon school, and a number of others were present.

Frank Freeman, a member of the vocational department, was given $1.50 as a prize for keeping the most accurate record of his project during the year of 1937.

The Vocational boys' instructor is Mr. J. T. Locke, a graduate of A. & T. College.

The occasion was pronounced a success by everyone present.

NEGRO HISTORY WEEK
IS CELEBRATED

PARENTS' DAY INAUGURATED

The students and faculty of the Wakefield-Zebulon school culminated observance of Negro History Week on Wednesday, February 9, with a pageant.

The day was set aside as Parents' Day. One hundred and three parents registered during the day. Many came early in the morning and visited classes.

The program, especially planned for the day involved students from the whole school. The elementary school pupils presented two phases of the program—a health playlet and a patriotic drill, in honor of the great American characters born during the month.

The pageant, in which both elementary and high school pupils took a part, presented very forcibly the contributions of the Negro to the culture and civilization of the country. The portrayal was centered around a court room scene in which Ethiopia was the defendant. Ethiopia pleaded her own case by calling forth as witnesses and exhibits great Afro-American men and women.

The whole program was received with much applause by a very appreciative audience.

Mr. S. B. Simmons, itinerant vocational agriculture teacher of North Carolina, gave an inspiring talk.

Miss Stanley, a member of the staff, gave a brief lecture on health principles. Mr. Carroll gave an informational talk about the school attendance, report cards, and made announcements.

Miss C. R. Miller acted as mistress of ceremonies. The program was worked out for the day by a faculty committee, composed of Mr. Wilcox, Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Adams, Miss Stanley, Mrs. Wilcox, Miss Price, Miss Morgan and Miss Shuford. The other members of the faculty, Mr. Jones, Mr. Locke and Miss Smith, had very definite duties to perform. Mrs. Carroll directed the music. Visiting parents were served a light repast at noon.

SCHOOL SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The people of Wakefield and Zebulon should visit the Wakefield-Zebulon school and learn of its great improvement. Not only the people of Zebulon and Wakefield, but the adjoining communities.

Great work has been accomplished under the leadership of Mr. R. A. Carroll, principal. When one stops and thinks of the many things that have been added to our school within the last few years, not only should we be proud of these things, but of him and his co-workers.

There is little comparison between what the school was a few years ago and is now. Note the lavatories, agriculture building, the science room and its equipment, the well equipped home economics room and library.

You will find it very interesting to visit your school.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS CLEAN UP

The home economics girls of the Wakefield-Zebulon school had a clean-up day Friday, January 14.

The girls arranged the room into four units. Kitchen, dining, sewing, the first semester and cooking will be taught by the teacher, Miss Elizabeth G. Smith, the second semester. During the first semester the girls made two garments each. The garments were a school dress and a Sunday dress. These dresses will be shown January 28th when the girls give their style show.

THE N. F. A. IS ACTIVE

The N. F. A. Chapter of the Wakefield-Zebulon school was organized in the month of September, 1934. The officers of the chapter are:

Chester Wiggins ..... President
James Wright ..... Vice-President
Jhennie Logan ..... Second Vice-President
Raymond Parks ..... Secretary
Earl High ..... Assistant Secretary
Eugene Flowers ..... Treasurer
Onnie Lee Privett ..... Reporter
Mr. J. T. Locke ..... Advisor

The N. F. A. Chapter of the school contributed to the Efland Home for Girls. The chapter also contributed Thanksgiving gifts to the older people in the community. The chapter did a great deal of shop work for people in the community.

FOUR SOPHOMORES
MAKE HONOR ROLL

January 17, 1938, at the end of the first semester there were four names to go on the honor roll from the sophomore class.

Every student whose name goes on the honor roll must make an average of "B" in each subject. The honored students are:

Miss Matrie Lyan, Miss Geraldine Morgan, Miss Hettie Mae Foster and Miss Mary Eliza Taylor.

Miss Matrie Lyons, fourteen years old, has been on the honor roll ever since she entered high school. She is said to be the best in her class.

SOPHOMORES TO GIVE PLAY

The sophomores of the Wakefield-Zebulon school will give a play during the last semester at the school.

The title of the play is not known as yet. The sophomores have been organized since 1936. The officers of the class are as follows:

President ..... Plumer L. Harrington
Vice-President ..... Raymond Perry
Secretary ..... Beatrice Merritt
Assistant Secretary ..... Geraldine Morgan
Treasurer ..... Noretha Jones

NEWS FROM THE SEVENTH GRADE

Some of the seventh grade classroom subjects are health, language, spelling, history, reading and arithmetic.

Our health teacher, teaches us how to be healthy by keeping clean, eating the proper kind of food, by getting the proper amount of sleep, the kind of clothes we should wear at play, and how to be a Scout.

In English we are taught how to talk, when to talk, what to talk about, and how to use English correctly.

Quietness in the seventh grade is not 100 per cent. While some of the children are quiet, others like to talk and run up and down the hall. They need the teacher over them every minute to get them to act as they should.

The effort of some of the pupils in the seventh grade is very poor. If some of the pupils try once and fail, they should try again and again, to be sure. There are others who do not care how poorly they do.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU
KISS AND MAKE UP?

FEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month.

You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. Bewise. If you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

RELAX!

When you're nervous they tell you to relax. Easy advice to give, but mighty hard to follow. You will find it much easier to relax—to overcome Sleeplessness, Nervous Irritability, Restlessness, Nervous Headache after you take
