They'd certainly need help, unless all hands went barefoot—that sounds crazy, but you know what I mean—and unless they wore almost as little as those young folk who played tennis on our court last summer.

When a child I heard of a woman who paid forty dollars for one dress. It did not seem to me that such things really could be; and my aunt's colored helper agreed when we discussed the matter. "No sir," she exclaimed, "nobody'll go pay that much for one dress, 'cept it's got gold on it." And when I heard that a neighborhood bride had spent sixty dollars cash money for her trousseau I expected to see gorgeousness, and was much disappointed when she appeared at church in a navy blue suit one day and a navy blue taffeta the next time. Still, I consoled myself by thinking that her underwear must be mighty fine. It was not until I tried buying my own clothes and keeping accounts of what was spent, that I realized something of what clothes cost, and that family dressing on thirty-three dollars a year has my sympathy.

The best management I ever heard of was that of a good-looking, neatly dressed young woman who said that by planning for three years' clothes in one budget she could manage on an average of twenty dollars a year. At intervals I have tried to figure that out and my calculations have always left her minus either a hat, Sunday shoes, or a best dress. Yet she had them all. Some day I'm going to ask her to teach me how she did it. I know she did her own sewing, crocheted and embroidered beautifully, and was a careful buyer; but I don't know how she bought all the materials for twenty dollars.

Her having done so is some encouragement about the thirty-three dollar family; though I have no idea they can plan one-tenth so well.

Anniversary Week

Beginning next Monday night the local Colored Baptist Church will observe Anniversary week, this being the eighth year their pastor, Rev. C. A. Marriott, has served them. Special programs for each night's service have been prepared by a committee headed by Mrs. J. A. Gresham, and many have already been distributed. Choirs of other churches will take part in the singing and all organizations of the church will have places on the program for the week.

Cards of Thanks

The wife and sisters of William Isaac Bolden who died Feb. 10, wish to thank their relatives and friends for many kindnesses and much sympathy. While in Atlantic City for nine years, Mr. Bolden attended Shiloh Baptist church and often said it reminded him of his old home church. He is sadly missed, but we feel our loss is heaven's gain.

We wish to thank all of our friends for their kindness to us in the sickness and death of our mother and for so many nice flowers and the use of your cars.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

MEN, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—how your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

lie Payne, Zebulon; Mrs. Ola Merritt, Zebulon; twelve grandchildren, one great grandchild, all of Zebulon except Mrs. Alice Harris of New York City; Mrs. Mary Brooks of Rocky Mount; one brother, Mr. Alex Merritt of Zebulon.

Mrs. Weaver was loved by all who knew her, and faithful to all the churches in this county. Joining the Wakefield church at an early age and living in Zebulon, she had to attend most of the time there. She will be missed by both church and school. When asked to do something she would say, "I'll do what I can."

Funeral service was at the Wakefield Baptist Church, with Rev. A. A. Morrissey in charge, assisted by Rev. Hawkins of Spring Hope. Interment was in the Bolden cemetery.
