LEISURE

What is this life if full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare?

No time to stand beneath the boughs
And stare as long as sheep or cows?

No time to see when woods we pass,
Where squirrels hide their nuts in grass?

No time to see in broad daylight,
Streams full of stars, like skies at night?

No time to turn at Beauty's glance,
And watch her feet, how they can dance?

No time to wait till her mouth can
Enrich the smile her lips began?

A poor life this, if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare.

WILLIAM H. DAVIES.

Billy, small son of the Allan Pippins, has been sick with measles during the past week, and is still far from well.

At Antone's Store counters are being removed and an alcove arranged for the display and fitting of hats. This will add to the appearance of the store and also to the comfort of customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bradley and daughter, Miss Lois Bradley, of Kipling, visited in the Theo Davis home on last Sunday.

Mrs. Mabel S. Lewis, librarian at Bailey, was in the RECORD shop one day last week and gave an interesting account of her work in this newly established library community project.

James Creech has practically recovered from his recent illness and has returned to his work with the J & M Chevrolet Company.

Miss Marcola Allen of the Zebulon Beauty Shop was among the guests at a formal reception given by Misses Anne and Caroline Richardson at their home, Rosedale Manor, near Wendell on last Friday evening, honoring Miss Helen Erame and Mr. Bill Farmer, whose engagement has been announced.

L. R. Harris is on jury duty this week in Raleigh.

Two Zebulon students at Campbell College took part in the State Junior College Forensic Tournament last week. Ralph House was a debater and Mary Iva Gay, poetry-reader. Of eight taking part from Campbell, two were from Zebulon and Wakelon.

Mrs. L. R. Harris and children went to Plymouth on Wednesday of last week, making the trip with Mrs. C. T. Robbins and Mrs. J. S. Brown, and returning on Sunday with Mr. Harris, who went down for the week end.

Mrs. Bennett Pearce is sufficiently recovered from her recent illness and operation to be able to go out of doors on pretty days.

Mrs. Jo J. Pierce spent Friday of last week with her daughter, Lydia Frances, in Oxford.

Sam Croom returned last week from the Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem, where he stayed some time for treatment for ulcerated stomach.

Rev. J. W. Bradley, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Coltrane, Mrs. A. R. House, and Mrs. S. G. Flowers went from here to the Aldersgate meeting in Durham on Tuesday of last week.

Miss Jocelyn House Gives Recital

Miss Jocelyn House of Zebulon, presented her graduating recital in piano last Friday evening in the Meredith College auditorium and was guest of honor at a reception given immediately afterwards in the college parlors. Guests were greeted by Miss Emily Bethune of Bunnlevel who presented them to Miss House, who wore a formal frock of white net, made on redingote lines over white satin and carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. Receiving with the honoree were Miss May Crawford, her teacher, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. House of Zebulon, parents of the pianist, Dr. Harry E. Cooper, dean of the music department at Meredith, and Mrs. Cooper, Dr. Chas. E. Brewer, president of Meredith, and Mrs. Brewer, Miss Virginia Branch of Enfield and Mrs. G. S. Barbee of Zebulon, both former teachers of the honoree, Miss Ragna Ottersen, professor of public school music at Meredith, Mrs. Council Scott of Raleigh, and Miss Alice Keith of the Meredith faculty.

Gladioli in shades of rose decorated the parlor, and spirea banked the punch bowl, where Miss Margaret Grayson of High Point presided. Serving punch and decorated cookies were Misses Louise Daniel of Seaboard, Evelyn Britt of Saint Pauls, Dorothy Lowdermilk of Valdese, Kathleen Johnson of Fairmont, and Lucy Newell of Franklinton. They were assisted by Little Miss Betty Lou Byrd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Byrd of Raleigh, who wore a formal dress of pink net, and Little Miss Nancy Whitley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whitley of Zebulon, who wore blue organdie over pink satin.

Among the out-of-town guests at the recital were Mrs. C. L. Read and Miss Nancy Read, Durham; Miss Irene Pitts of Wake Forest, B. C. Dunford, Jr., Wellington Dunford, and Frank Campbell, all of Winston-Salem; Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Coltrane, Mrs. Raymond Pippin and son, Donald, Mrs. John Horton, Mrs. G. S. Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Barrow, Miss Dorothy Barrow and J. K. Barrow, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Massey, Mrs. E. C. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whitley, Mrs. R. H. Herring, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. ## FLOWER GARDENS ADD TO BEAUTY OF HOME

The appearance of bright new seed catalogues has set the home gardener dreaming of summer flower gardens, masses of color and fragrance.

Before making selections, there are several points the flower lover should keep in mind, declares J. G. Weaver, floriculturist at State College.

Too many of the new novelties or so-called "All-American" selections should be avoided until they have been tested locally. The gardener who likes to experiment should buy only a small package of these seed.

However, a few that can be recommended are cosmos "Sensation Pinkie", chrysanthemum-flowered marigold, and petunia "Salmon Supreme." If these varieties are successful they can be recommended to neighbors.

One of the most important things to avoid is that of buying mixtures of seed. If the gardener wants pink zinnias, the variety known as Exquisite should be purchased. The person who buys mixed seed may get many of the off-colors and poor type flowers.

For cut flowers, Weaver recommends zinnias, marigolds, asters, cosmos, snapdragons, scabiosas, gaillardias, and tithonias. Wilt resistant asters and rust resistant snapdragons can be purchased.

If fragrance or odor in the garden is desired, the floriculturist suggests ageratum, marigold, heliotrope, mignonette, nasturtium, stocks, sweet peas, and double petunias.

Among the best border or edging plants are dwarf petunias, Tom Thumb snapdragons, nasturtiums, phlox drummondii, verbenas, or dwarf marigolds.

THEN AND NOW IN U. S. A.

Where's Elmer?!

They sent him out the rug to beat; But Elmer hurried down the street.

What use, said he, my strength to spend,
When this old rug's so near its end?

I know, instead, what I shall do—
Replace it with one bright and new;

For values best I always try,
And, therefore, all my rugs I buy
