WHOSE BUSINESS IS IT?

We read the other day these lines in an exchange: "Beautifying this town is the business of those who live here; outsiders and peddlers will not be interested." It sounds like he was talking about Zebulon. Any way, it is just as true if applied to our town as any other.

The mail order house or the peddler who goes from house to house, cares nothing about the homes, the streets or even the people of Zebulon. When he gathers in our dimes, quarters and dollars he has all he wants. He carries it away and it will never come back. He does not leave so much as a good wish for the inhabitants. Two things our people should not forget: Zebulon is home and we owe it to ourselves to make our town just as beautiful as possible, and the other is, our people should trade at home, buy everything they need to be had in Zebulon. This is the way every one of us should feel about our town. And, if there are people who are making their home in our community who do not feel as we do, the sooner they make their departure to other climes, the better it will be for those of us who expect to remain.

Rake, Pile Haul.

In a short time clean-up week will be observed in Zebulon. Why wait? Now is the best time to clean up outhouses, back yards, storage rooms and other places where trash and junk accumulate. It will not take money to make our town a cleaner, healthier and prettier place. Work will do the job. Add flowers and shrubs and there it is!

Dig and plant, —then tell the peddler that you buy at home. Make your motto: Zebulon a good town today; a better one tomorrow.

THE OBSERVING EXPERT!

Frank Parker Stockbridge, born in New England, now living in Pennsylvania, has traveled over much of our country, we would believe by what he writes. In comparing the nearness of barns to dwellings and dwellings to the highways in North Carolina to the greater distance of buildings from the roads in the South, he has this observation to make: "I drove thousands of miles through fine agricultural country in the South, but seldom saw a farmhouse, only the roads leading to them." Wonder where that was. It could not be the Dismal Swamp of Virginia or the Everglades of Florida, for while they may be "fine agricultural country", they will first need a big lot of ditching. It is amusing the way Yankees (?) get their observations distorted when they come down South. For instance: the conclusions of some specialist "a long ways from home" writing of some problem, or some such picture as seen from the back end of an observation car. Or he may be flying along over one of our concrete roads at 60 miles per. In either case one's conclusions would naturally be more or less distorted, even if he were a Tarheel swinging through New England.

HUGH JOHNSON OF RALEIGH who has filed as candidate for the Wake County House of Representatives. He came to Raleigh from Halifax in 1934. Was connected with the N. C. Cotton Growers for two years; has been State Supervisor of the Community and Cooperative Service of the Resettlement Administration; is now connected with V. O. Parker Company in the Real Estate business. He takes an active interest in civic and religious matters.

William T. Hatch of Millbrook, announces his candidacy for one of Wake County's seats in the House of Representatives. Mr. Hatch was an active member of the 1937 Legislature, and served on many important Committees, including Appropriations, Judiciary No. 1, Election and Election Laws, Rules, etc.

DIE FROM TREATMENT

Ten women have died in Orlando, Florida, and others are critically ill as a result of treatment given for cancer. Among the number is Mrs. Funderburg of LaGrange, N. C. Dr. A. T. Neal said the dead women had been given injections of ensol all from the same bottle. He thinks the bottle had become contaminated, saying that others having had like treatment from the same bottle were uninjured. Ensol is a recently discovered serum, and is not in general use.

SEEN & HEARD

ONE WAY TO PUT IT

On last Tuesday morning some one in the shop asked why so many cars and colored women were around or near the courthouse. The colored helper replied: "This is the day they get paid for not working."

BEAUTY AROUND US

At this time Zebulon has beauty. Long sprays of white spirea sway on many lawns; dogwoods in white or pink stand stiffly, laden with bloom; redbuds have lingering tufts of orchid back of pale, heart-shaped leaves; iris in purple, white and pale tints has followed the earlier abundance of daffodils; the poet's narcissus shines from its foliage and perfumes the air with the last of the lilacs; early roses are showing their color; pansies in gorgeous shades open new buds daily; the petunias that went through the winter are laden with white, pink or purple; shade trees are showing leafage in colors much different from the greens they will wear later; Zebulon with the surrounding section has beauty for all who will see.

Daddy's Value

(Louis Graves, Chapel Hill Weekly)

When Herman Weil of Goldsboro was here Monday he told me how he had discovered the degree of adoration in which he was held by his daughter. One day her dog, Laddy, was killed by an automobile. Her mother, going to school to bring her home, expected her to be overcome with grief at the news; but when the girl was told about the fatal accident she took it calmly. A few minutes later, when they had got home, she asked: "Where's Laddy?" Her mother said: "Why don't you remember I told you Laddy had been run over?" In her amazement the girl was silent for a moment. Then she burst into tears and wailed: "I thought you said Daddy."
