CHURCH NOTES

METHODIST REVIVAL BEGINS

Revival services at the Methodist church here began on Sunday. Mrs. Steidley pastor's helper, who assisted in a similar meeting here two years ago, arrived on Sunday time for the night service, at which time she spoke effectively of Faith. Three services are held each day, one at 8:00 in the morning, one at 4:00 on the afternoon for children, and the last at 8:00 at night. The public is invited to attend. Mrs. Steidley is a speaker of marked ability and has a most pleasing personality. Pastor Steidley is deeply concerned and is doing all he can for a spiritual revival in his church and community.

REV. FORD BURNS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Ford Burns, pastor at Piedmont Middlesex and Fuquay Springs, supplied the pulpit of the Baptist church on last Sunday morning. On next Sunday Rev. S. L. Morgan, Jr., recent college graduate, will supply. After that it is thought that Pastor Burns will be able to preach.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT WAKEFIELD SUNDAY

A memorial service will be held at Wakefield Baptist church next Sunday at 11:00 o'clock. After the service, those who have loved ones buried in the Wakefield cemetery will decorate the graves. Any one who has a relative buried in this cemetery, has not cleaned off the weeds and grass on his lot this spring, they are requested to do so before Sunday. It is desired that this be done this year so that the whole cemetery will be clean and worthily presented to visitors.

The Fidelis Class and Y. W. A. of Wakefield Baptist Church held their May meeting with Misses Eddins and Savon Eddins hostesses at their home. Twenty-three were present. Mrs. Freddy Hood directed an interesting program on Ja-

Revival services will begin next Sunday night at the Wakefield Baptist Church. Dr. Carl M. Townsend, pastor of Hayes-Barton Baptist Church in Raleigh, will be the pastor, Rev. C. L. Ousey will be the speaker at the meeting. Services will be held at 4 in the afternoon and at 8 at night. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Supplement Fails

A vote taken at Wakelon School Saturday on the question of a supplement to the local funds failed to pass. The vote was tabulated showed 183 for the proposed tax; 220 against it; total registration of 628.

Additional funds were to have been used for a 12th grade school and for equipment, a one-month term not being considered.

R. Horton of Zebulon and family left last Sunday for six weeks in San Salvador, California, other points, as guest of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. The trip is in recognition of outstanding work done as a representative of the company.

DR. CARL TOWNSEND

Pastor of Hayes-Barton Baptist Church, Raleigh, who will assist in revival services at Wakefield, beginning on next Sunday. Dr. Townsend is pleasantly remembered in this community.

Hail Hurts Crops

On Monday afternoon, following a gentle shower that had fallen earlier, farmers near Zebulon were much concerned to note heavy, dark clouds that presaged wind and hail. However, there was no hard wind and only rain to fall.

Other sections fared badly. On Tuesday morning J. E. Carter entered the Record office bringing tobacco and squash leaves that had been ruined by hail. They came from his farm in the lower edge of Wake county, but he said the hail extended into Johnston county, doing considerable damage. Another streak extended north of Zebulon, hurting crops on the Dr. Fowler farms and those adjacent.

Mr. Carter advises that farmers take out hail insurance, ruefully admitting that he had none yesterday.

On Tuesday D. D. Chamblee found himself fairly swamped with applications for hail insurance.

Atlantic Christian College Wins Honor Through Paper

At the annual spring convention of the N. C. Collegiate Press Association The Collegiate, newspaper published by Atlantic Christian College, won second place in its class, that for papers of schools with enrollment less than 1,000. The Collegiate surpassed only by The Davidsonian of Davidson College, rating "fair in treatment, news stories, and features; good in balance, vitality, originality, copy-reading, headlines, typography, front page make-up, inside make-up, editorial column, editorial features, and sports; excellent in coverage and superior in printing."

This paper takes special pride in this award of merit, since The Collegiate is printed in the Record shop. The office force has enjoyed working with the student editors and manager in preparation for printing their paper.

BRADLEYS CALLED TO FAIRMONT

Rev. J. W. Bradley and Mrs. Bradley were called to Fairmont Wednesday because of the sudden death of Mrs. Bradley's brother-in-law, J. E. Blalock. Funeral services were set for Thursday.

CLUB COLUMN

GARDEN CLUB

The last meeting of the Garden Club for this year was held as a picnic on "The Rocks" on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Mrs. C. E. Flowers, retiring president, briefly reviewed the work of the club since its organization as a part of the state federation, and presented the new president, Mrs. F. D. Finch. After a short talk outlining the plans made for next year, Mrs. Finch presented in behalf of the club a gift to Mrs. Flowers in token of appreciation for her faithful service as leader.

Mrs. Theo. Davis discussed Plants and Flowers of the Bible with special reference to those known to modern gardeners.

A picnic supper was enjoyed, bringing to a close a successful year's work. Officers of the Woman's Club were guests.

Zebulon Baseball Club Organized

The Zebulon Baseball Club, sponsored by the Rotary Club, was organized last week with Eugene Jones as business manager; A. V. Medlin, president; and R. V. Brown as secretary-treasurer. The above officers with R. H. Bridgers constitute the board of directors.

The Zebulon team is a member of the Tobacco State League and will play the opening game June 3rd in the Wakelon ball park which is now being repaired and put into first class condition. A new fence and other repairs are being made.

The present list of players who have been signed up by Manager Jones include: Harold Bissett of the University of North Carolina at first, William Hoyle of State at second, Richard Hoyle of Wake Forest at short, Grubb of Carolina at third, Jimmie Page of Georgia Tech behind the bat and Bill Griffin, captain of State, Frederic Hoyle of Wake Forest and Leroy Spill of Elon in the outfield.

The pitching staff for this year, which has not as yet been completed, will include Allen Green of State, Ted Pippin of Oak Ridge, a pitcher from Catawba and Irby Wright from the University of North Carolina, who will also assist in coaching the pitchers.

The club made an excellent showing last year and expect to do even better this year. Manager Jones, along with the Rotary club, asks that all of the local fans who can, lend their assistance to the boys this year and help them win the pennant in the league.

Southern Baptists

The Southern Baptist Convention, in session the past week at Richmond, Va., elected Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Texas as president of the convention. The convention named a commission to confer with Secretary of State Hull about recovering from Japan compensation for missionary property destroyed in China. On the eve of the convention a handsome diamond brooch was presented to Mrs. W. N. Jones of Raleigh for her outstanding leadership in women's work. The convention next year will meet in Oklahoma City.

Campbell College Celebrates 51st Commencement

Campbell College will celebrate its fifty-first commencement June 2nd with Editor Santford Martin of the Winston Salem Journal delivering the commencement address and Dr. Sankey L. Blanton, First Baptist pastor, Wilmington, preaching the sermon May 29.

Students from Wake county in the graduating class are Mary Iva Gay and Ralph House, Lyda Mae Faison, and Gladys Yancey, Zebulon, Annie Laurie Britt, Garner, and Harvey B. Jones, Holly Springs.

Mary Iva Gay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gay, has taken an active part in public speaking and dramatics this year, and is a member of the Sappho literary society.

Ralph House, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. House, has been a varsity debater and head cheerio this year. He is president of the Wake county club, and a member of the Phi literary society.

Annie Laurie Britt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Britt, and a Home Economics major, was one of the May Queen's attendants.

Harvey B. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones, is a member of the Engineers' club here.

Lyda Mae Faison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Faison, and Gladys Yancey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Yancey, both in the commercial graduating class, are members of the Sappho literary society.

Reynolds To Speak At Corinth - Holder Commencement

The Senior Class of Corinth-Holder High School are very fortunate in having to deliver their Commencement Address, Friday afternoon, May 27 at 5:00, Senator Robert R. Reynolds. They urge each of you to be present as they are certain he, as well as they, will have something interesting for you.

Last week it was stated that Supt. H. B. Morrow would deliver the address but he secured Senator Reynolds to speak instead.

Ball Game Friday; Fats Vs. Leans

Mrs. Hunter Bell announces a ball game on Friday at 5:00 p. m. at the school diamond, admission to be 10c and 20c. Fat men will endeavor by weight of person and personality to overcome the skillful slimness of lean opponents.

Among the players are J. E. McIntire, R. H. Bridgers, R. V. Brown, F. D. Finch, Willard Gill, and others equally efficient. Proceeds will be used for equipment of the playground. A large attendance is desired.

The playground is open every morning in the week except Wednesday, and all afternoons except Saturday. Children of any age are welcomed.

Mrs. Belle Gibbs Simmons, wife of former Senator F. M. Simmons, died at Morehead City Hospital on Saturday of last week and was buried on Sunday from Christ Episcopal Church, New Bern.
