THE FOUR COUNTY NEWSPAPER—WAKE, JOHNSTON, NASH AND FRANKLIN

VOLUME XIV.

ZEBULON, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1938

NUMBER 48

THIS, THAT, & THE OTHER

MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

Some of the shirts sold now have the collars sewed with so many rows of stitching that when you go to turn one and put the unworn side up you find it so hard to rip you begin to wonder whether the result will be worth the trouble. Before you are through you are wondering if the shirtmakers had it in mind to persuade you to buy new garments by making it so hard to mend the old.

If there's one thing that exceeds all others in tempting a gardener to work himself—or herself—to death, it's one of these warm, showery days we've been having lately. Every sower of seed and planter of slips knows there's no time like just before a light rain for getting things in the ground. Out you rush and work until your shoulders are wet with rain as well as the sweat decreed in Genesis 3:19. You run into the house and catch up inside work that was left while you gardened so frantically. When the shower is over you dash outdoors to finish the planting and begin transplanting peppers, tomatoes, petunias, cosmos, marigolds, zinnias, collards, pinks, beets, snapdragons, or what have you. Again the rain stops you and you hurry in to do a little more housework, which is sadly behind by now. Even should you get all the little plants in their beds, there is sure to be grass to be picked out, and weeds never pull so easily as when the ground is wet.

By night you are almost too tired to live and don't know whether to be proud of your industry or ashamed of having gone far beyond your strength. Still, it's a great life, if you do weaken at times.

Cooking School Has Large Crowd

The Cooking School put on last Friday by the Zebulon Supply Store in co-operation with Carolina Power and Light Co. drew the largest attendance of any held in Zebulon. Space had been made in the Furniture Department for more than a hundred chairs which proved too few for those who came. With complete electrical equipment, a temporary kitchen had also a cabinet and table where Miss Annie Miles Harris competently lectured and cooked, using the Frigidaire range for demonstration. Miss Harris baked a layer cake, made biscuit, cooked a one-dish meal of Italian spaghetti, broiled steak, used a thrift cooker in preparing stuffed pork chops with vegetables and a carrot pudding. She specially emphasized the possibility of saving current by thoughtful planning of meals and work.

Mr. Ruffin with moving pictures showed the advantages of the Frigidaire range.

The Zebulon Supply Store gave away a number of valuable prizes and the different foods cooked were also given to those present.

Each woman was given a coupon entitling her to an attractive cellophane apron upon application later at the store.

It was regretted that Mrs. Enfield, who was to have helped with the school, was kept away by her mother's illness; but Miss Harris pleased all who saw and heard her.

The Supply Store really did the thing in a big way.

SCOUT NEWS

The Boy Scouts on Tuesday night heard Mr. Humphries, the Scout executive from Raleigh, N. C. He made a very interesting talk to them on the needs of Scouting. He also discussed the new Scout camp west of Raleigh.

The Scout-master from Troop 6 in Raleigh was also heard and he and Mr. Humphries answered any questions the boys asked them.

The trip to the mountains was postponed. A trip to the Scout camp was substituted. The price was $8.00 and 8 boys decided to go.

Graduates At E. C. T. C.

Commencement activities at E. C. T. C. begin on Friday evening, June 3, with the music recital and on Monday with graduating exercises. Dr. Samuel Glasgow of Macon, Ga., will preach the laureate sermon. Wm. T. Atty. at Law, of Warrenton will deliver the address.

The alumnae association will hold a luncheon on Saturday of commencement classes of 1913, '28, and '37. Special guests.

CHURCH NOTES

Rev. R. H. Herring has recovered from his recent illness sufficiently to be able to fill his pulpit at the Baptist church on next Sunday, when the regular services will be held.

Revival services at the Wakefield Baptist church are being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Carl Ousley, with Dr. Carl Townsend of Raleigh preaching in the afternoon and at night.

Revival services at the Methodist church, with Mrs. Steidley assisting Pastor Bradley, were brought to a close on Wednesday night. Mrs. Steidley brought helpful and inspirational messages and the community has benefited thereby. No figures as to additions to the membership are available at this time.

Pastor Theo. Davis will begin revival services at Kenly on next Sunday. He will be aided by Dr. J. C. Owen, former missionary to China.

Mail Did Fly Airmail Week

On Monday, May 16, the associate editor of the Record mailed a letter to a son at the Post Schools, Schofield Barracks, Oahu, Territory of Hawaii. Stamps costing twenty cents were affixed the missive being sent by special air mail. It left Zebulon at 11:00 a. m. to be picked up in Raleigh by plane. On Thursday a reply was mailed, stating that the letter had been received and might have been at the postoffice since some time the day before. The returning letter, however, took one week to reach the Zebulon post office, a distance of 4500 miles.

FORMER ZEBULON BOY TO PREACH

Charles Olin Greene, graduating this week at Wake Forest College, remembered his childhood home and pastor and sent to the editor an invitation to attend the commencement exercises. Mr. Greene is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Greene, who for years were residents of Zebulon, going from here to Cleveland County nearly fourteen years ago. And Olin is now the Rev. Olin Greene, having become a minister of the gospel and pastor of churches.

PILOT CORRESPONDENT

Cameron Stallings is the new Record correspondent from Pilot. Readers in his section are asked to help him by giving items for his section of the paper. He has made a good beginning and we hope he may continue to represent the paper for years.

CATFISH CUTS OFF WATER

Mount Holly had a bad time last week when the town's supply of water was cut off for some time. Investigators finally found that a catfish had been drawn into the main pipe line, and they had considerable trouble removing it. A screen was placed to prevent the entrance of any objects had broken through to allow the fish to be removed.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

Tax Bill Becomes Law

Withholding his signature to the last moment, President Roosevelt permitted the Tax Revision Bill to become a law without his official approval. In a radio broadcast he explained that "in many respects the bill is a good one but abandons the principle of progressive taxation. I am, however, delighted to remove any existing barriers against the small business that is trying to set itself squarely on its own feet, by paying its debts and seeking to make a reasonable profit." Observers expect a market upswing in industry with the tax question finally disposed of.

Unprecedented Spending

In the four fiscal years from 1933 to 1937, Federal agencies have spent in "non-recoverable" projects $14,887,000,000. This does not include the veterans' bonus of $1,750,000,000, which is "water-over-the-dam," nor the various loans of the HOLC, FCA, RFC and other sources from which an undetermined sum may be ultimately salvaged. For every man, woman and child in these four years, the Government has collected in taxes of all kinds $109, but has distributed in "non-recoverable relief" $115. Only fifteen states have matched in their own tax contributions the government's dole, leaving 33 states dependent upon the prosperity of less than a third of the total states in the Union.

Kidnaped Children Found—One Dead

Betty Hobbs, four years old, who was taken from New York, has been found in Ohio, and has been restored to her parents. Mrs. Anna Legare has been charged with kidnaping the child and placing her in the home of a sister as a daughter of Mrs. Legare.

Peter Levine, son of a New York attorney, was kidnaped on Feb. 24. It is said that no ransom was paid, though a large sum was demanded. Search for the boy was intensive but fruitless. The child's body, head, hands and feet missing, was found Sunday night on the shore of Long Island Sound where waves had washed it. Identification was made by clothing.

Thin Men Win

More merriment than money was the result of the ball game last Friday between thin men and fat ones. Vigorously cheered by the small crowd who thoroughly enjoyed the game, the score was 17-2 in favor of the lean players. However, Judd Robertson made a home run for the fats, and others did valiant service. No exact record was kept of errors, but they were unimportant. Nobody minded them. Nor were uniforms even mentioned. The game and not the accoutrements thereof held the center of the stage—and a part of the immense ball park that was having its gates and grandstand put in place as the game began.

On Friday of this week local fathers will play their sons for the benefit of the playground fund.

Tobacco State Baseball League

Six towns in Eastern Carolina have formed a sure-enough big baseball league. Among them are Zebulon, Angier, Fayetteville, Sanford, Laurinburg and Erwin. Plans have been perfected that indicate that we shall have some real ball players here this summer. A fenced-in park has been made at Wakelon and the diamond has been filled in the low places and dragged. A team has been recruited from college teams chiefly in the state, that promises to be a winner.

P. L. Cashwell's name was omitted last week from the Board of Directors.

As at present outlined the team is as follows:

The first base will be held down by Harold Bissett from Carolina. His home is at Bailey. Foy Grubb will occupy third base. He comes from Spencer. "Dick" Hoyle of Wakefield, Wake Forest man, will reign at second base or be at short stop. His brother "Bill", State College, will roam in the infield or outfield. "Fred" Hoyle, Wake Forest player, will do outfield work. Emmett Johnson, Oak Ridge, and Red Oak, will play short-stop. T. D. Jones, one of the "Jones boys" hails from Mebane and will be outfield player. Leander Morrison, Catawba College player, from Spencer, will also play outfield. June Page comes from Georgia Tech, lives in Raleigh, and will be the catcher. The pitchers are: Allen Green, State and Wakefield; Jack Covington, (Continued on Page Three)

Recorder's Court

The Zebulon Recorder's Court this week almost finished its sitting before dinner time, getting through with the less than half dozen cases before one o'clock.

John Thomas Barfield asked another man's wife the wrong question. She reported it to her husband and he to the judge. Sentence was suspended on condition that he pay to the court the costs of the action.

James Revell decided that he would revel somewhat. For acting like a man out of his mind and place he paid $5.00 fine and the costs of the court for drunkenness and disorderliness.

James Brantley seems to have turned loose the ax handle he was making and got hold of the wrong sort of handle. Result: Five dollars fine and costs for drunken and disorderly conduct.

Roscoe Pearce tried driving a car with one hand and apparently without his whole mind, since he was charged with drunken driving. He prayed the court to suspend judgment till the July term of court. His prayer was granted.

Matthew Denton in going up and down the earth chanced to find Creamy Carter's pocket book. It contained $9.36 in good money. The bills were ear-marked. Matthew traded one of them to a merchant who knew of the loss. Matthew refused to surrender voluntarily his temporary gold mine, so the matter went to court. The judge told him he would have to work three months on the highways for the unlawful retention and refusal to surrender another's property. He appealed to the Superior Court.
