SILENCE

Silence walks through the city,
But no one turns to stare,
For no one sees that Silence
Has roses in her hair.

And no one follows Silence
Upon her quiet way,
In wonder at her loveliness;
But there will come a day

When strangers will remember
They heard her softly pass,
And cry one to another
How beautiful she was.

—Sidney King Russell

Mrs. R. H. Herring had as her guest for the weekend her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Harrill of Rutherfordton, who is attending summer school at Wake Forest.

Mrs. Pattie Harrison has returned from a visit to her son, S. M. Harris, and family in Lumberton and is now with her daughter, Mrs. F. D. Finch.

Mrs. J. A. Strickland of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Blowing Rock is a guest in the home of her sister Mrs. W. C. Campen.

The many friends of Mrs. Ebbie Stallings rejoice that she is now able to be up in her wheel-chair for a part of every day, and is making gradual progress toward complete recovery.

The Record's associate editor gratefully acknowledges the gift of a year's subscription to The Southern Garden from Stearns Engraving Company, Raleigh.

Her friends here will be concerned to know that Mrs. Lela B. Horton of Wendell, formerly of Zebulon, went on last Sunday to Mary-Elizabeth Hospital where on Monday she underwent an operation. Mrs. Horton's condition is thought to be satisfactory.

Miss Eunice Outlaw, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Outlaw, was one of 95 on the first honor roll at Meredith College for the spring semester.

B. H. Johnson has returned to Zebulon after treatment last week at Mary-Elizabeth Hospital. The Johnsons will be here the greater part of the summer, making headquarters with Mrs. Johnson's parents, the Pittman Stells.

R. L. Isaacs Seriously Hurt
R. L. Isaacs of Raleigh, well known in Zebulon, was seriously hurt last week when he fell at a roller-skating rink and broke his hip. He is now in a hospital with the broken bone in a cast and must stay in bed for an undetermined period of time.

Small Hazel Chamblee Herring came from Raleigh on Wednesday of last week to visit her grandparents, the M. B. Chamblees.

A Zebulon housekeeper asserts that the nicest surprise she has had for months was when she ordered fish recently for a dinner at which she had unexpected guests—and the fish were sent up dressed and ready for cooking. That was a favor shown her by the City Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Conn are spending this week at Morehead City.

The editor and Mrs. Davis appreciate an announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Meisenheimer of Raleigh to Dr. J. O. Bailey of Chapel Hill. In her girlhood the bride was a special friend of the Davises, who wish all happiness for the newly-weds.

Mrs. Lee Roy Harris and children, who have been spending some time at Albemarle beach, near Plymouth, returned home Tuesday. With them came Shelton McNair, young nephew of Mr. Harris, to visit in Zebulon.

Mrs. Clem Godwin of Coates is visiting her father, J. T. Robertson. She expects to go home Friday.

R. V. Brown and Z. J. Robertson went to New York to attend the Schmeling-Louis fight on Wednesday night.

Nathan H. Pepper, head of Physical Education Department and Athletic Director of Wakelon High School, Zebulon, is this week completing an intensive course in "Materials and Methods of Teaching Safety" conducted at New York University by the School of Education and Division of General Education in cooperation with the National Conservation Bureau.

Mr. Pepper is making a special investigation entitled "A Suggested Course for Civics in Rural Schools of Wake County" as part of his work for the course, which is being attended by teachers and directors of health, physical education and safety in schools and public departments in various parts of the United States.

Mrs. R. E. Pippin and children, Ray, Donald and Julian, left on Wednesday to spend the rest of the summer at Catskill Bay, N. Y.

Fred Allen Mangum, Jr., of Raleigh, has been visiting Mrs. Starkey Hoyle, his aunt, this week.

Mrs. Eugene Jones of Wakefield, returned home from the hospital this week.

Mrs. F. H. McGuire had as visitors Sunday her sisters, Mrs. Lou Wheelless of Wake Forest and Mrs. High of Middlesex; and her nephew, Sam Blythe of Charlotte. Mrs. McGuire went to Middlesex when Mrs. High returned home.

MRS. CONN HOSTESS

Mrs. Graham Conn entertained her bridge club Friday evening, June 17th, at her home.

Summer garden flowers filled the room where tables were arranged for bridge. After the games prizes were awarded. Mrs. Claude Pippin received high score and Mrs. Robert Dawson received low score. Mrs. Fred Page received high score for guests. Following the progressions a salad course was served.

Guests included Mrs. Norman Screws, Mrs. Russell Temple, Marion Whitlock, Ruby Dawson, Ruby Stell, Mrs. Raleigh Alford, Mrs. Claude Pippin, Miss Catrina Gill, Mrs. Eugene Privett, Mrs. Irby Gill, Mrs. Fred Page.

ANOTHER VEGETABLE

In Temple's Market on Wednesday was a fine head of broccoli grown by Mr. Chadwick who moved here from Raleigh. And looking at it were several Zebulonians who were not quite sure whether it was a new kind of vegetable or a collard that had lived too fast.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Pearl Clark gave her mother a surprise birthday dinner last Sunday in honor of her forty-second birthday.

Dinner was served to the following out in the grove:

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Clark, Enda Clark, Dennie Clark, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wall, Robert Lee Wall, Comador Wall, Lamna Wall, all of Knightdale; Mrs. Kennedy, J. D. Kennedy, Elwood Kennedy, Kelford Kennedy, Ernestine Ellington, Ernestine Morris, Ivadean Morris, and Effie Kennedy.

PROGRAM SATURDAY NIGHT; CERTIFICATES BE PRESENTED

The class in steel guitar of Hawaiian Teachers, Ltd., taught by Kathleen Lee, finishes the thirty week's course Saturday, June 25th. Saturday night at eight the parents and friends are invited to a short program to be given by the students at the Womans Club. Those who have completed the course are J. H. Batts, Jr., Edward Price, John Bradshaw, Eloise Tippet, Gay Horner, Elizabeth Pate, Wade David, Julian Mitchell, Kenneth Frazier, Claudius Watson and Mahlon Honeycutt. Certificates will be presented.

CHURCH NEWS

Sincerely yours,
Ford A. Burns.

The Daily Vacation Bible School at the Baptist Church closed on last Friday after two weeks of work, directed by Mrs. F. E. Bunn. Commencement exercises were held with each division of the school represented and directed by the workers in charge.

During a social hour after the program refreshments were served to all attending.

Assisting in the school were: Beginners' Dept: Mrs. Allan Young, Misses Frankie Hall, Er-cell Littleton, Dorothy Horton.

Primary Dept: Misses Cornelia Herring, Elizabeth Pearce, Eunice Outlaw, Janet Massey, Jocelyn House, Margaret Watson.

Juniors: Mesdames F. E. Bunn, R. E. Pippin, M. T. Debnam, C. V. Whitley, J. D. Horton.

Intermediates: Mesdames P. F. Massey, W. D. Spencer and Rev. R. H. Herring.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whitley with Charles and Nancy, and the S. A. Lees and daughter, Betty, of Raleigh will leave on Sunday for a week at Carolina Beach where the two families have taken a cottage.

NEW MAGAZINE FOR SOUTH

A new publication, The Southern Garden, has been started in Raleigh, the first issue being for April of this year. The June copy shows an attractive cover in colors and contains informative articles on the growth of dahlias in this section; on perennials that are not annuals; rock gardens; malnutrition in plants; and timely advice and suggestions. There are also editorials, household helps and a house-plan with other features. The price is one dollar a year for the twelve issues, and is safe to say that subscribers will get their money's worth, as the magazine will be able to deal directly with problems that concern gardeners in this section.

The Duke of Windsor's favorite midnight lunch is a glass of cold milk and a piece of hot gingerbread.

The energy value of one quart of milk is equal to 1 pound of lean steak, 5 pounds of spinach, 3 1-2 pounds of codfish, 8 eggs or 6 bananas.
