

Zebulon Record

OUR COUNTY NEWSPAPER—WAKE, JOHNSTON, NASH AND FRANKLIN

ZEBULON, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 19th, 1938.

NUMBER SIX

Above is the tomb of William A. Jeffreys located about two miles of Harris School, on the highway between Wake Forest and Hope. He was a prominent citizen and died at the age of 38 October 3, 1845. Mrs. Jeffreys was supposed to be buried by his but for some reason she was interred in the family burial ground the Jeffreys home which is just across the highway to the north. Chamblee is the reverent looking gentleman beside the grave.

Local Hatchery Bought By Massey

A number of years ago a community hatchery was purchased by a number of people in the Zebulon community and operated as such for three or four years. A mortgage against it was foreclosed and citizens purchased the stock. D. Massey has been operating for four or five years.

Massey has contracted to lease the machinery from the holders. He expects to make a profit in every way and extend his business so as to fully accommodate the Zebulon community and sections around. He says he uses only eggs from state test-chicks. No community hatching is done. This will insure good quality chicks. He is an experienced man, having had his own hatching flocks for several years. People of this community are congratulated on having as necessary and important an enterprise to rural life as the Massey hatchery in our midst. It is hoped when Mr. Massey gets it into operation that the farmers and poultry raisers will support him by buying their chicks locally.

Zebulon Route 3

Below we give some very interesting facts concerning Rural Route 3 running out from Zebulon. C. J. Morris is carrier on this route. Any one who thinks a rural carrier has nothing to do need only read this account of people, businesses, he has to serve and how what his job requires. And it must be done right, or Uncle Sam will punish him with something like a stick. Here is Mr. Morris's story.

The Vanguard class of the Baptist church S. S. were given a picnic supper at Little River Mill on Friday of last week, the teacher, Ferd Davis, being host.

Circles Meet

The Northside Circle of the Baptist W. M. S. met on Monday afternoon with Mrs. R. H. Herring hostess, and an attendance of 11. The month's program on Cuba and Mexico was given by Mrs. A. N. Jones and Miss Cornelia Herring after devotional conducted by Mrs. John Broughton.

The Central Circle met at night with Mrs. C. B. Eddins. 13 were present. Mrs. Philip Massey led the devotional and Mesdames A. S. Hinton and R. E. Pippin discussed the subject for the month. Cooling refreshments were served at both meetings.

TAR RIVER ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE

By J. Edward Allen, Moderator
On Friday afternoon and evening September 2 there will be held with the Bunn Baptist Church a Leadership Conference along similar lines to those of that one which was held at the Carey's Church a year ago. General Secretary M. A. Huggins will be present and conduct the conference and it is not necessary for me to say to you that it promises to be a very promising and helpful meeting. Brother Huggins requests me to ask that every church in the association be represented at this conference. Supper will be served between the afternoon and evening sessions. I presume every person interested knows how to get to Bunn; the most of them will go to Salisbury in the usual way and then take State Highway No. 39 after crossing the bridge there, this road paved to the Bunn Church.

REVIVAL AT HEPHZIBAH

The Hephzibah Baptist Church will hold the annual revival beginning August 21, Sunday night, 8:00 o'clock. Rev. Exum Baker will do the preaching.

Girl Scouts Hear Lecture

On Thursday of last week girl scouts of Zebulon were privileged to hear Mrs. Ida Hall, county nurse give a lecture with demonstrations on First Aid. The meaning of Tourniquets, compresses and other terms used in the course was illustrated. The meeting was held in the basement of the Baptist church.

Rhythm Band For Playground

Mrs. Hunter Bell is at work getting ready for a rhythm band of playground children. They are making their own instruments. Another playground project is a puppet show which is to be staged in the future, the date to be announced later. Parents and all others interested are to be invited to this, and it is certain to be enjoyable. Watch for the date.

Heat Continues

The heat wave shows small sign of abating. For three weeks now temperatures have been above normal. Monday was the hottest day to that date, with official recording of 96 degrees in Raleigh. Slight breezes offer scant alleviation from the parching air.

Hot weather brings a crop of theorists who offer panaceas, or aids to comfort. One is told to wear more clothing or less, or none; to eat more salt in order that "body balance" may be restored; to drink iced water; not to touch iced water; to eat only cold foods, to have at least one hot dish at every meal. There are enough folks and enough hot weather for them all to be tried out.

Tuesday helped make a record for extended hot spells and also made its own record as the hottest day of this summer with temperature of 98 at four o'clock in the afternoon. Tuesday night was unrivaled for discomfort with the merest hint of a breeze at intervals.

Wednesday's record is not yet made, but there is little promise of coolness.

Getting More Quota Poundage

You may have a neighbor who will have some poundage left on his marketing card after he has sold all his leaf. You can buy his surplus for whatever price you both agree upon. Or you can get your county office or warehouse men to get the card for you. When you deal through them, the price you pay the other grower for his surplus quota will be five cents a pound. If you have tobacco worth more than 10 cents a pound, it will pay you to buy extra quota poundage at the price fixed by the AAA.

will do the preaching.

The Philathea Class of the Baptist S. S. with husbands of the members and other teachers and friends enjoyed a picnic supper at Tarpley's Mill on Tuesday evening of this week.

A misprint from the Niles (Ohio) Daily Times is presented you with the hope that after reading it you will overlook the many mistakes of this tabloid. It's quoted below:

"Dr. C. W. D.—will take part in the services when the Memorial Church is dedicated on Sunday. Morning, afternoon, and evening services will be hell."

From slumber school comes this gag. A professor was preparing his class for a quiz. After several hours of reviewing he asked: "The examinations are now in the hands of the printer. Are there any questions?" From the back of the class a sleepy-eyed boy spoke up: "Who's the printer, professor?"

When a small local boy applied for a job at one of the stores, the manager decided to find out if the boy was serious minded. "My boy," he asked, "what would you do if you had a million dollars?" "Ah, gee," stammered the boy, "I don't know. I wasn't expecting that much at the beginning."

A father recently was surprised to hear his boy spinning a falsehood. He walked up to the boy and on the way to the woodshed said to him, "My boy, when I was your age I didn't tell fibs." "Gosh, father," the boy said, "how old were you when you started?"

Zebulon women support three beauty salons. From the amount of trade they get and the different women that patronize the shoppes I would say that the upkeep of a pretty face is about as much as that of a homely one.

Our barn-yard phillossifer says that an optimist is one that says radio programs will get better. But I will honestly be glad to see the time when we all own television sets that will enable longwinded announcers to see us turn the dial from his program.

A young woman who went to Columbia University to take her degree of doctor of philosophy married her professor in the middle of the second year. When she announced her engagement one of her friends said: "But, Margaret, I thought you came up here to get your Ph.D." "So I did," agreed Margaret, "but I had no idea I would get him so soon."

An immigrant was asked on her examination who made and changed the laws in a republic. She answered: "The Democrats." She was given 100% on that one.

If we were to change the Pledge to the United States flag it would probably read thus: "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republican for which it stands, one nation, invigible, with liberty and judges for all."

Sincerely,

The Swashbuckler.
