VOLUME XV.

THIS, THAT, & THE OTHER

MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

Mrs. Jethro Stell gave me a message from Mr. J. M. Jones of Rolesville, saying if I'd go to his house he'd give me something to eat besides soy beans. It seems that he has a fine garden. He needn't be surprised to see me walk in any day; for I'm remembering often what my grandmother used to say when she hadn't many vegetables—"I've just got to get something to boil, for I feel all burnt up inside."

The book exchange will continue. The club took as major objective for the year the payment of fifty dollars on the clubhouse debt. A minor project is the improvement of some sidewalks in town.

Mrs. Wallace Chamblee and Ruby Stell were hostesses.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 20th.

Hinshaw is certain that both entertainment and valuable information will be furnished all who attend, and plans to give wide publicity for the meeting.

Sherwood Brockwell, State Fire Marshal, will be present to speak. He is well known in more than one capacity, being a comedian of note as well as one of the state's best formed men with regard to fire prevention and control.

It is hoped that every one who can will be present at 7:30 on Tuesday, Oct. 11.

ROTARY DISTRICT GOV. VISITS ZEBULON CLUB

Last Friday night, Irvin Morgan, governor of Rotary International District 189, met with the Zebulon Rotary Club. Mr. Morgan spoke enthusiastically about the work of the club and Rotary in general. All those who heard Mr. Morgan were impressed by his energy and ability. The meeting was enjoyable as well as beneficial.

Cary To Play Bulldogs Here

On Friday of this week Cary will play the Wakelon Bulldogs. The Bulldogs have not been defeated this year and this promises to be the best game they have played because the Cary boys are said to be tougher than ever before.

Wakelon's first two victories were over Raleigh and the Catholic Orphanage. The score for the first: 7-0. For the second: 13-7. A write-up of the second game is in the Flapdoodle.

The price for Friday's game is only 10c and 15c. That is a low price for what will probably be a game loaded with TNT.

Local Club Wins Cup

There is rejoicing among the members of the Zebulon Woman's Club over the winning of the cup offered the club having the largest representation at the district meeting in Raleigh last week. Award is made on results obtained by multiplying the number attending from each club by the distance traveled, and this gave the trophy to the local organization.

Our word "jest", meaning a joke, came from an old French word, geste, which was a tale of warlike deeds.

STRAIT GATE

BY RUTH COMFORT MITCHELL

Sarah Lynn Dana was tricked into love. First came a romantic moonlight plane ride with handsome Gunnar Thorwald, crack Norwegian flyer who shunned women like poison. Next came Sarah Lynn's conquest of the air, an adventuresome episode that opened new vistas for the dark-haired Dana girl. It gave her a common interest with Gunnar Thorwald, whose attention finally blossomed into love. Then near-tragedy struck, and Sarah Lynn emerged a cripple, the bird with a broken wing. Could Gunnar Thorwald love a cripple? Find out by reading "Strait Gate," regularly in this paper.

G. J. GRIFFIN, Pastor.

This week I have something in this column that really does have some sense to it. It's a write-up of the game played by Wakelon Friday at Catholic Orphanage.

First quarter: Wakelon received the kick-off. However, they were unable to make a gain and lost the ball. Neither team ran the ball beyond the other's 35 yard line. Both fought hard and clean and were equally matched. The quarter ended with the ball in midfield. Score 0-0.

Second quarter: Wakelon had the upper hand in this quarter. The Bulldogs took the ball early in quarter and with a heavy line attack ran the ball deep into the Orphanage territory. There the Orphans' line held for a little and delayed the touch-down. However, Robert Lee Kimball ran the ball 15 yards through a broken field for the touchdown. A combination of excellent blocking and Kimball's skill were too much for the opposing team. The try for the extra point failed. Wakelon kicked off. The half ended with the score 6-0, Wakelon's favor.

Third quarter: The Orphans received the ball and were unable to make a gain. After several exchanges the ball was taken by Wakelon for a one-way ride. Willard Morris ran the ball about three yards for Wakelon's second touch-down. R. L. Kimball dropped-kicked the extra point. Wakelon kicked to the Orphans. They launched an aerial attack and sent the pigskin back into Wakelon's land. Another pass gave them a touch-down. They made the extra point with another. The third quarter ended with the score 13-7, Wakelon's favor. Stars for Wakelon: The whole blamed team!

Fourth quarter: The ball exchanged hands several times. Near the last of the quarter a bad centered ball and a bad catch caused a fumble. An Orphanage boy covered it. The Orphanage launched another attack and drove deep toward the Wakelon goal. The game ended with the score remaining 13-7.

This was the second Wakelon victory in a series of 9 (I hope). Anyway, don't forget the game Friday. Remember the admission, 10c and 15c. That's low enough for even the most miserly miser to see the game. Yessuh, and the game is gonna be packed with excitement and fight all the way through. Coach Austin has put the team through the toughest training, this week, that they have had. So it's gonna be Wakelon, all the way through!

I'm still Wakelonianly yours,
The Swashbuckler.

Flower Show

Because of the late flowering of chrysanthemums the Flower Show sponsored by the Garden Club has been postponed until a date which will be announced in a later issue of this paper.
