BEYOND THE EQUINOX

Beyond the autumnal equinox, beyond that destined day of cold and heavy cloud which with dark slanting silver cuts the bond between two seasons, makes the dry brooks loud once more with swift sky-water,—past that storm, earth will be brave with scarlet and with plum, the mountains ache to crimson and be warm, and fields complete the summer's final sum.

Beyond the equinox, beyond the hour when frost comes on to whiten morning grass, there will live still the secret wayward flower, the closed blue gentian and late carrot-lace. In the wild corners of untraveled hills, in rough lost pastures, by a sagging barn, there will be blossoms, though the summer falls, and stubborn beauty for the heart to learn.

Hilliard Green, Jr., was taken to a hospital on Tuesday evening. He is suffering from an infection that started with a slight trouble in his nose.

Miss Jocelyn House was at home for the weekend from Star, where she is teaching. On Saturday she played for the marriage of Miss Margery Buffaloe in Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Overton of Oxford with their two sons, John and Alex, Jr., were here Sunday to visit in the Needham Pitts home. Mr. Overton is a brother of Mrs. Pitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Flye of Greenville visited the latter's sister, Mrs. A. V. Medlin, during the weekend.

The Philip Masseys and daughter, Miss Anne, visited the Howard Masseys at Franklinton last Sunday. Her friends here will regret to know that Mrs. Howard Massey has for some time been confined to bed by illness.

Mrs. W. C. Campen is able to be up again after having to spend several days in bed as the result of a fall while picking flowers from a vine in her yard.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Campen is taking a rest cure at her home here, having a general "run-down" condition. She is responding well to the treatment, and is able to see some of her friends at intervals.

Mrs. Robert Phillips was brought home from Mary-Elizabeth Hospital last Sunday, and is improving, though she will not be permitted to sit up for at least two weeks yet. She is able to see visitors.

As Mrs. J. M. Potter and three small sons were returning to Raleigh on Monday morning after having spent the week-end in Zebulon with relatives Mrs. Potter stopped her car at Wilder's Grove because a school bus was loading just ahead. As she waited a Negro driver ran his car into the rear of that occupied by the Potters.

No great damage was done either car, and no one was hurt except for being shaken up. The Negro claimed that he had never before seen a bus stop at that point.

Mrs. Ralph Bunn, who has not been well for some time, left on Monday for the home of her aunt, Mrs. Shumaker, in Raeligh, where she will stay while taking some medical treatment from specialists.

Miss Amy Lee Wilkins of Grifton, is spending this week with Miss Kiva Horton.

The Ladies' Home Journal for November has a large advertisement in which is the picture of Margaret Whitley, daughter of the Baylus Whitleys of Siler City. This is of interest here where the Whitleys have many relatives and friends.

Mrs. Lelia Yarborough and Miss Mildred Yarborough of Spring Hope and Mrs. J. B. Outlaw spent Sunday in the home of their cousin, B. C. Bunn.

Mrs. Chester Vogler of Manteo, for years of Wendell, was welcomed in the Record office for a short while on Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Vogler went from here to Kinston where she is spending some time with her married daughter, formerly Miss Greta Vogler, who is now the mother of twins.

Miss Dorothy Barrow is teaching this year in the school at Fremont, having begun her work about two weeks ago. She was at home during last week-end.

Miss Inez Pitts has returned to her home here after a week's visit with relatives in Granville County.

Mrs. Joe Wood of Raleigh is spending a few days here with her mother, Mrs. M. D. Terry.

Pittman Stell, Rev. A. A. Pippin, and Theo. B. Davis attended the meeting of the Tar River Association at Wise on Wednesday of last week.

Because of misinformation this column stated that Ted Pippin was at Wake Forest College. He is at Oak Ridge Institute.

Dr. Bulla and Mrs. Hall gave tests for tuberculosis at Wakelon last week.

C. V. Whitley went to High Point this week to look over new ideas in home furnishings. To look over his furniture stock one would believe nothing could be added in kind or quality to make his store complete.

Brevard College will observe Parents' Day on Sunday, Oct. 16, on which day parents are invited to visit the college and their children. Talmadge Harper of Zebulon is a student in Brevard College.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Eddins, Jr. and Mr. L. N. Land of Raleigh spent last week in New York City with relatives and friends.

Mr. Mike Eddins is home for a few days this week.

ENTERTAIN BRIDE-ELECT AT RECEPTION FRIDAY

On last Friday evening from 8:00-11:00 one of the loveliest parties of the season was held when Misses Anne and Caroline Richardson delightfully entertained at a reception at their country home "Rosedale Manor" honoring Miss Elizabeth Brame of Wendell, bride-elect of Oct. 22. The home was beautifully decorated with lovely fall flowers. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Wade Privette of Bailey and were directed to the cloak room, presided over by Mrs. Tom Allen. They were introduced to the receiving line by Miss Caroline Richardson, hostess. In the line were Miss Elizabeth Brame, honoree; Mrs. W. A. Brame, her mother; Mrs. Rena Henry; Mrs. E. V. Richardson, mother of the hostesses; Mrs. William Farmer, Mrs. Wallace White, Miss Martha Hamilton, of Monroe, houseguest of the Richardsons; Miss Anne Richardson, hostess; Mrs. G. G. Glenn.

Miss Helen Privette had charge of the register. The Bride's Book was presided over by Miss Maggie Richardson. In the dining room and sun parlor refreshments were served—fruit punch, cup cakes, mints and peanuts.

Music was played all during the evening. Mrs. Paul Brantley and Mr. John Mattox sang, accompanied by Mrs. M. C. Todd. Piano selections were given by Miss Peggy Green and Miss Helen Privette.

Assisting in serving were Miss Jane Blalock, Virtee Umstead, Rosalie Woodlief, Margaret Lewis, Myatt Dean, Mary Frances Raybourn, Mrs. Bob Turner.

SALE AT ANTONE'S

A. D. Antone's Department Store began a special anniversary sale last week-end. This store is filled with merchandise and an effort is being made to clear out all the surplus at prices that will tempt the customer to buy. Not only are lower prices made on summer stocks, but new fall goods are also put with the bargains. Twenty years of merchandising has taught the Antones the advantage of a turnover in stock that all may be kept up to date. Their sale continues through all this week. Miss Evelyn Antone is again helping her parents and brother in selling, and Miss Geraldine Parker is as busy as ever in the store.
