CHURCH NEWS

BAPTIST CHURCH

The following services will be conducted in the Zebulon Baptist Church, Sunday, Oct. 23:
9:45—Sunday School.
11:00—Morning Worship. Sermon: "The Whats of Prayer."
7:00—Young People's Meeting.
7:30—Evening Service. Theme: "Food for Evil."

G. J. GRIFFIN, Pastor.

KNIGHTDALE PASTOR RESIGNS

The Rev. L. R. Evans for some time pastor of Knightdale Baptist Church, and the only full-time pastor the church has had, has resigned to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist Church at Spencer. Mr. Evans is moderator of the Raleigh Association, but will not leave until after the meeting of that body the latter part of this month.

His work at Knightdale and in other pastorates in this section has been of high order and his going is regretted by many, who wish him continued success in his new field.

W. E. GAY

W. E. Gay of Zebulon, Route 1, died on Sunday, Oct. 16, and was buried Monday afternoon, the burial service being conducted by the Rev. Carl Ousley assisted by the Rev. Theo. B. Davis. Interment was in the family cemetery. Mr. Gay was 77 years old and is survived by his widow; three sons, B. E., J. C., and O. P. Gay; three daughters, Mrs. G. R. Poole of Somerville, N. J.; Mrs. E. L. Joyner, Zebulon; Mrs. J. R. Skinner, Whitakers. He was a member of Wakefield Baptist church.

NEW PERMANENT WAVING METHOD PROVES POPULAR

The old saying, "There's nothing new under the sun," is being exploded right here, for there's an innovation in permanent waving that is hard to believe can exist.

It is the Carter's prescription wireless method of waving the hair which has been installed by the Zebulon Beauty Shop.

This new scientific method of permanent waving eliminates entirely the discomfort of waving hair and gives a more lasting permanent wave without the use of hine or chemical heat. It proves nature's closest rival in natural curls, but it is not the so-called machineless. Every wave is unteed and it is suggested that investigate the method and refer Carter's prescription wireless wave at the beauty shops have installed it.

This method in Zebulon is exclusively at the Zebulon Beauty

Federal Surplus Commodification has been authorized to purchase an additional 38,000 pounds of butter during the year ending June 30, 1938.

The Wakelon Bulldogs scored in the first minute of play last Friday in their game with Apex when Kimball intercepted an Apex pass and raced forty yards for a touchdown behind perfect blocking. This early lead was never relinquished, and before the game was over the boys in red and white had scored three more touchdowns and added two extra points to pile up a score of 26-6 over the fighting Apex boys. The Apex score came early in the second half when Debnam's punt was blocked on the eight yard line. There line plays and a pass netted a touchdown for Apex.

A punt return of sixty-three yards to the Apex two yard line by Morris set the stage for the second Wakelon score. After Ray had picked up one yard thru the left side of his line, Morris went off right tackle for the score. Kimball's try for extra point by a dropkick was no good. Another touchdown was made before the half by Morris, who again hit the right side of his line. Pate took a pass from Kimball for the extra point.

The Bulldogs tallied their fourth touchdown late in the last quarter when Eddins took a short pass from Kimball and ran twenty-eight yards for the score. Kimball's try for the extra point was again blocked.

Although "Baby" Mitchell never scored, he thrilled the crowd by several long end runs. Coach Brownie of the Apex team praised Mitchell's playing.

The entire Wakelon team played its best game of the season, and Coach Austin expressed himself as pleased with the team's work. This win gives the locals three wins out of four starts for this season. Their next home game is with the strong Smithfield team on October 28.

Tobacco Stolen

Nearly four hundred dollars worth of tobacco was stolen from J. M. Whitley on Tuesday night, probably between one and two o'clock. The tobacco was stored in a packhouse at the rear of the L. E. Long home. Mrs. Long was awakened by some cause and noticed several times the gleam of a flashlight. Though vaguely uneasy she did not arise to investigate. Mr. Long was not at home. There are no definite clues to lead to the thieves, but officers are at work on the case and it is hoped that developments may lead to a solution of the crime.

Hog Cholera Outbreak

When hog cholera appeared in three sections of Wilson county last week, the farm agent had to vaccinate 225 animals to get the dread disease under control.

Potato Storage

Idle tobacco barns on the farm of A. B. Tapp of Timberland, Hoke county, have been converted into sweet potato curing houses to care for the harvest from 10 acres of the sugar spuds.

CLUB NEWS

WENDELL CLUB HOSTESS

The Garden Club of Wendell invited the Zebulon club to meet with them in the school gymnasium on Wednesday of this week for a special exhibit of flowers and potted plants, pottery and handicraft. There will be sessions in the morning and afternoon with out-of-town speakers on topics connected with gardening and related interests. Lunch will be served at the gymnasium.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

On Tuesday afternoon the October meeting of the Woman's Club was held. Mrs. F. D. Finch reported the district club meeting in Raleigh in Sept. and displayed the cup won by the Zebulon organization for attendance at that time.

Mrs. J. E. McIntire announced that Miss Barrett of Wakelon's faculty will work with girl scouts during the winter.

Mrs. Irby Gill gave a list of programs for the club year and it was decided to sponsor again the work done in literature at Wakelon.

Mrs. Theo. Davis, in charge of program, presented the Rev. G. J. Griffin who spoke on International Relations with special reference to the European situation. Explaining the similarities and differences between the nazi and fascist aims and ideas, he traced some of the developments of each and noted how both differ from communism. Recent territorial changes were defined, and questions asked by members were discussed. This address was much appreciated by those present.

Mrs. A. N. Jones will have the program at the November meeting.

Mesdames Irby Gill and F. E. Dunn, hostesses, served refreshments during the social hour.

GARDEN CLUB

On Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 the Zebulon Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Norman Screws with Mesdames C. V. Whitley and Claude Pippin joint hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Foster Finch, who introduced Mr. J. E. McIntire, of the Wakelon faculty, who spoke most interestingly on the subject, Trees. Starting first with how the tree is made up, he led to the following points: Necessity of a good root system, preparation of holes, depth to plant, moisture, planting, careful pruning, proper spacing, suitable trees for street planting and care of mature trees. A round-table discussion followed this talk.

Mrs. H. C. Wade, who is sponsor for the Colored Garden Club, told of the many things that this club had done in the past few months, namely: built a sidewalk to school, built five bridges, planning to open a new street to school, organized a Community Club, planning to erect a gateway at the school entrance. Mrs. Chas. Flowers announced that the Zebulon Colored Club,

Being still young and perhaps foolish, I do not know much about bussing and kissing and such like. Perhaps some of our older and more experienced swains can tell us whether the following taken from the Pink Rag is true, correct and proper as well as good poetry:

There was a young man in Augusta
Who puckered his lips for a busta,
But his gal said, "Nay, nay"
I don't kiss them that way".
So he custas, and custas, and custas.

If you'll drop by the Zebulon Drug store and look in the big window at the side you will see what one might call the well-end of a sick man. There you see the original "yerbs" from which some of our most famous remedies are made. Medicine is something I don't like much hardly, but when I get sick I want what I don't want.

Did you go to the fair last week? I did. I had a choice between going to the State Wake Forest football game and the fair. I went to the fair. I saw all kinds of animals there from folks to hogs. Believe me, the best behaved animals I saw were the Jersey cows. But as for that, the hogs beat the folks, that is some of them. Saw a fellow spin like a top on either end. He may not have had any brains in his feet but they were sure educated. And I saw two Japs who could do a lot of things with their feet that I can't do with my hands, or for that matter with my hands, feet, and head thrown in.

Tother day I saw a colored girl coming down the street apparently dressed hulu style. Nothing appeared visible except her skirt, that is no clothes above her waist. To the great relief of my embarrassment I saw that she had on a sweater almost exactly flesh colored, so speak, like a negro. So clothes or no clothes, guess I had better not jump to conclusions too quickly. Now just suppose it had been my or your best girl, then what?

Did you see that little gal steal the show from the star, Bobby Breen the other night? He could sing, but that little tot shore could cut capers on the ice. That just reminds me that there are plenty of bigger stars a-shining than the one we are looking at, if we would only change our gaze.

Well, so long. Maybe something will really happen like a fight, a wedding, or I find a quarter, so I can really make a killing as a metropolitan reporter next week. Till then—
Swish swash.

STATE FAIR PROFITABLE

The State Fair this year had perfect weather, which no doubt was reflected in the attendance, the largest on record. Exhibits were of high order, amusements more entertaining than usual, races as exciting as possible. The statement that a profit was made for the state is in no sense a surprise; but none the less gratifying for being expected.
