HILLIARD MASSEY

Hilliard Massey died suddenly on Oct. 20 at the home of his father, J. H. Massey of Pilot, after several years of ill health. The funeral service was held at Pilot Baptist church with the Rev. A. A. Pippin officiating.

Surviving besides the father are the widow and three sons: Carroll, Wilbur, and Henry. The first wife, formerly Miss Fannie Edwards of Severn, was killed in an automobile accident. The second wife was formerly Miss Ruth Taylor of McCullers. Two children by the first marriage died in infancy.

Also surviving are five sisters: Mrs. E. P. Denton, Zebulon; Mrs. Gregory Bissette, Wilmington; Mrs. Dolly Bissette, Pilot; Mrs. J. E. Tharrington, Raleigh; Mrs. Fred Hall, Youngsville; four brothers; P. H., of Franklinton; P. F., of Zebulon; J. P., of Pilot; G. U., of Raleigh.

Mr. Massey began teaching in the state schools in 1908 and until illness forced his retirement was widely known for his personal good qualities as well as for the character of his work in the schoolroom. Well may be repeated here what was said so many times by those who knew him best: He was a good man.

NEW WAVE PROVES POPULAR

Because of the interest manifested in the new Carter's machineless method of permanent waving The Zebulon Beauty Shop is repeating this week the special ad run in this paper last week. If interested at all, go up to the Shop, above Zebulon Drug Store, and ask all the questions you wish. Skilled operators will be glad to tell you about the new method and show you the results of its use. Not that they claim to know everything. Miss Antone says: "It really is mysterious how Carter's method makes such lovely, natural looking curls so quickly, comfortably, and safely."

UNUSUAL DISPLAY AT ZEBULON SUPPLY CO.

In the big front windows of the Zebulon Supply Store is a display both attractive and unusual. On bedsteads and standing on end are Simmons Innerspring mattresses in varied colors. Tempting indeed to the tired person who passes, they also offer inducement to those who have plenty of time to lounge. Also shown are new rugs in congoeum and linoleum, designed to add color and comfort to the home while subtracting labor. Look over the Supply Co. ad in this paper, then drag out that old, worn mattress and trade it in on a new Simmons.

FARMERS REPAYING FSA CROP LOANS

RALEIGH, October 19.—Despite adverse crop conditions, including low cotton yields in many sections, and low cotton prices, North Carolina farmers farming under the supervised loan program of the Farm Security Administration this year already have repaid $139,000 more on their loans than for a similar period last year. From June 30 to middle of October this year, $431,921 was collected as compared with $292,287 for the same period in 1937, Treasury receipts show.

Collections for the one week ending October 12, totalled $70,510.94, and collections for the week ending October 19 amounted to $64,875.07, bringing total cumulative repayments from Farm Security Administration borrowers in North Carolina to $2,409,484.99.

Although certain crop conditions and cash crop prices have not been favorable this year, FSA farmers on the average grew more food and feed crops, both last year and this year, than previously. Those who had more potato hills and fuller barns and smokehouses, as a rule, were better prepared to meet low prices because they did not have to go in debt for subsistence goods, it was pointed out.

Exit means going out of a room; departure means going away from a place; exodus means migrating from a country.
