PHILANTHROPIC SOCIETY

Last week we had a swell program in society. On the program were various boys telling of the outcomes of a few of the recent football games played in the state. Since boys are interested in football the program was enjoyed. After this we had a few short speeches and jokes; then, we adjourned to gather the firewood for the bonfire, Thursday night of last week.

8TH GRADE ENGLISH CLASS

In Mr. Hartley's 8th grade English class we are studying folk plays of the Carolina Playmakers. We have read two tragedies and one comedy. The names of these plays are "Job's Kinfolks", "The Scuffletown Outlaws" and "Funeral Flowers for the Bride." We have enjoyed these plays very much.

The Carolina playmakers were in Raleigh Monday night and all that could went to see their plays. They were enjoyed very much.

MEETING OF PHILOMATHIAN SOCIETY

The Philomathian Society met Thursday, November tenth in the Study Hall of Wakelon High School, with the president, Ann Bissett, presiding.

Following the roll call and the reading of minutes of last meeting by the secretary, a very interesting program was given pertaining to Armistice Day. The first part of the program was the reading of the Bible by Thelma Brannon. The society next joined in singing Faith of Our Fathers, led by Miss Barret. A poem was read by Mary S. Mitchel. Introduction of the speaker was made by Miss Cox.

Mr. Griffin, the speaker, made a very interesting talk pertaining to Armistice Day, the birthday of a treaty which was signed in France to end the World War. He explained the fact that Armistice to end the World War. He explained that arms shall come to a standstill. Some of the most important things mentioned in his speech were as follows: We have come to think of it as a Peace Day. Today all fear that there will be another war. How can women prevent this. One alone can do little, but if all work together, they can help make peace. One may help by sending suitcases to people of war-stricken nations. Also one can write to foreigners if he knows a foreign language. It is never too early to begin making friends with all, not only foreign countries, but of your own town, city, state, or nation.

The appreciation of Mr. Griffin's talk was expressed by the President. After this the society adjourned.

IMPROVEMENTS OF WAKELON

The Wakelon school got a very good start this year. The students are working in a more organized manner than ever before.

The Student Council under the direction of Miss Glazner and Mr. MacIntire has made quite an advancement as far as pupil responsibility is concerned. We are trying to keep our school clean and orderly. There is to be no cutting classes, no disrespect to our teachers and students and no failure if possible. I am sure that we shall keep this system going and make it mean something to us.

The attendance record has been exceedingly good and we want it to stay that way. To the parents that read the Zebulon Record we ask that you cooperate in helping us to have better attendance this year than ever before.

LATIN

The Latin controversy which was carried on in the News and Observer about a year ago was revived last Monday by an editorial in the same paper. Since it seems quite the fashion to express one's opinion on the value of Latin, here is the contribution of a second year high school Latin student.

Latin helps in memory, accuracy, application, and reasoning. It helps in other school subjects. Upon entering the history class the first word of the lesson is Bacchus, directly from Latin, and in Biology the lesson is concerned with such words as ocelli, the eye of the grasshopper, which in Latin is oculus, cicada, and anus. If it were not for Latin, the Biology or history lessons would be more difficult to understand.

ENGLISH SOCIETIES

Societies hold a most important place in high schools, and in the lives of students today. It is in these societies that young people receive foundation for the social lives they must live in communities. There they are allowed to hold offices, which teach them to rely upon themselves.

The experience which appearing on programs affords them is also beneficial. It gives the student self-confidence with which to meet the problems he will have to face later on.

Although students do not realize it at the time, it is inevitable that at some time long after their respective society may have been forgotten, there will arise an occasion in which an entire situation may be saved by something that the individual learned in the simple society meeting during his school days.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

At the last meeting of the Business Club several new officers were selected since Warren Pace's leaving made a vacancy. Margaret Watson assigned the different parts to be written in the next issue of Wakelon scripts. Miss Toler gave some ideas on the improvement of the paper. Mr. Austin also gave a short talk on improving the paper.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club held a very interesting program Thursday, November 3, 1938. The club met in the Home Economics room, where a program was rendered by Helen Averett, Zelma Gray Powell, Mary Elizabeth Eddins, Rebekah Watkins, Agnes Brannon, Lucile Mitchell and Jodie M. Weathers, Marie Pearce.

The club will meet again November 17.

All the Home Economics girls are looking forward to working in the new building which has been started. We all hope it will soon be completed.

HOME ECONOMICS PROJECT

Miss Palmer's second year Home Economics students have recently purchased new curtains and flower vases for the serving room of the Home Economics Department. The curtains of unbleached muslin trimmed with green ball fringe, and the vases with Wandering Jew and Ivy add a great deal to the appearance of the room. Thursday morning the girls invited Mr. Moser to come and see what they had been doing for the past several days. He seemed to be impressed and said he hoped we would be able to use them in our new Home Economics Department now under construction.

G. M. BELL SOCIETY PROGRAM

The G. M. Bell Society met last Thursday Nov. 10 in the auditorium. The secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting, which was held October 27.

Alma Doris Jones told of her trip to Chapel Hill last Saturday and Clara Croom recited a poem, Thanksgiving. Four girls gave a little play which was interesting but not long.

After the program we sang a few of our school songs.

Frances Mae Medlin.

BASKETBALL

Wakelon's Basketball team will start practice December 1. Wakelon has three games before Christmas. Most of the boys who played last year will be back again this year. The boys' who played regularly last year and are back this year are: Cecil Alford, John Clark, Jr., Alvin Ray, Forest Mitchell, Lewis Watson, Tom Ivey, Stanley Pierce, Robert Lee Kimball and then we have two boys who were not here last year. They are Jack Joyner, who played with Fort Bragg last year and Harden Hinton who played with Corinth-Holder last year. The boys have another year of practice, and I think that they will have a successful year. We hope to show our new coach that Wakelon is on the map. Mr. Austin has played college basketball for four years and he knows his stuff.

WAKELON WHIPS WENDELL

Wakelon Bulldogs defeated the Wendell team 6-0 on the local gridiron last Friday.

The only score came midway of the first period when Lynwood Jones was tackled fiercely by Vasser Eddins and Robert Lee Kimball and the ball was fumbled. Thurman Pate grabbed the ball out of the air and ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

For Wakelon the work of Forest Mitchell was a highlight in the backfield. Kimball's playing was also outstanding. Willard Morris played a bang-up defensive game and got off two beautiful punts that helped set the Wendell boys back. The entire line of Pate, Pearce, Corbett, H. Mitchell, Carter, Alford, and Eddins must be given lots of credit for stopping the hard running Wendell attack.

For the visitors the work of Abraham Joseph stood out.

Several hundred people witnessed the game.

That familiar and homely landmark of the railroad industry, the roundhouse, is to be simulated in the Railroad Transportation Building at the New York World's Fair 1939. It will have nine entrances.
