Indirect light is best for the eyes.

REVIVAL MEETING

The Rev. C. F. Allen is conducting revival services this week at Spring Hill Presbyterian church. Being disappointed in securing the help of the minister whom he had expected, Mr. Allen asked the Rev. Theo. Davis to assist in the meeting. Preaching is at night only. The public is invited.

FROST MONDAY

A fairly heavy frost Monday morning may have surprised some early risers, and the chances are that those who got up late did not see it. There was no special damage done, as the chill of Sunday had warned flower lovers to provide some shelter for their tender plants. Monday night was warmer and Tuesday showed still more moderation in temperature.

Up in Alaska they have already had snow many feet deep; so North Carolinians have no cause for dismay over the cold that will be felt here, as compared to that further north.
