

The Zebulon Record

THE FOUR COUNTY NEWSPAPER— WAKE, JOHNSTON, NASH AND FRANKLIN

VOLUME XVI.

ZEBULON, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1939

NUMBER 19

P.-T. A. Study Group Meets

Is your home developing the best personality of the child? What part does the school play in developing the personality?

Everyone who is interested in the youth of today is invited to meet with the P. T. A. Study group Thursday night, November 16 at 7:30 in the Home Economics Department. Mrs. Lyda Bridges will speak. The subject is "Mary, Mary Quite Contrary."

After the discussion the Wakefield Baptist Church will serve refreshments.

Who Are They?

The poet and the peasant, and Dock. Readers may agree or disagree with this column in this paper. The editor does not write it and assumes no responsibility for opinions expressed therein. Other columns of the Record are open free for comment, criticism or refutation. Be sure to sign your name to be filed with your contribution, as is "Dock's"; though not to be used unless you are willing.

CLASS MEETING

Mesdames Allan Pippin and W. B. Bunn were hostesses to the Fidelis Matrons of the Baptist Sunday School on Monday night at the Pippin home. Mrs. Myrcelle Riggsbee led the devotional. An unusually good attendance planned activities for the next two months, as there will be no regular business session in December. A Christmas party will feature the holiday season. In the social hour following discussion of duties of class officers refreshments were served.

THIS, THAT, AND THE OTHER

By MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

When our shop phone rang last Friday evening I hurried to answer, closing the door of my tiny office to shut out the noise of the big press, the Kluge, both linotypes and a folder, all of which were going full tilt. Listening carefully, I recognized the plaintive tones of Lula May, who goes to our house in the afternoon and cooks supper.

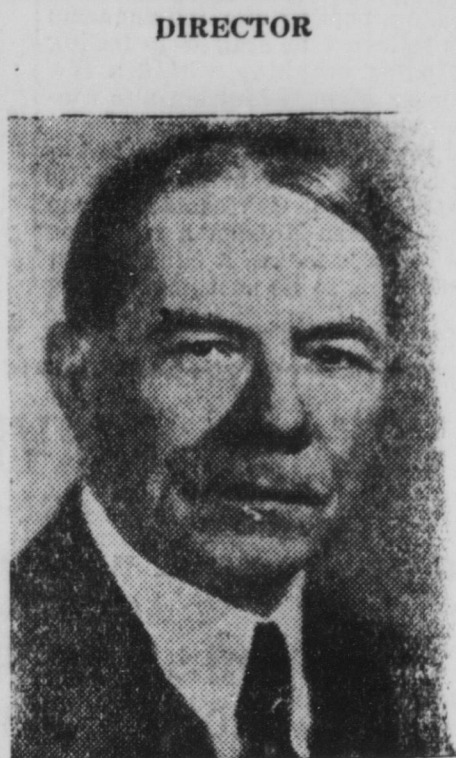

She said, "You wanted slaw for supper. didn't you?"

"Yes," I replied.

"Well," she went on, "I always puts my knees in slaw when I makes it, and—" In horrified surprise I interrupted with "You always do WHAT?" "I always likes to put my knees in slaw. I've put in vinegar and salt and a little sugar, and I thought there was a jar of my knees here, but—" By this time I had realized what she meant was the stuff I call may-on-nays and interrupted again to say I'd take some when we went home.

The slaw tasted all right.

You may be surprised at the following quotation's having been taken from Liberty—and sup-

DR. J. HENRY HIGHSMITH

Director of Instructional Service, State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh, and President of the North Carolina Education Association.

P.-T. A. Meets On Tuesday

"School Education for the Use of Leisure Time" will be the subject for discussion at the P. T. A. meeting Tuesday night, 7:30, November 14. Rev. George Griffin will be the speaker. Frederick Page will give a reading.

The parents and friends of the school are urged to attend.

RESEARCH

The new regional laboratories set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture will have as their main purpose the search for wider uses for farm crops, particularly the surplus crops.

That's horse sense, anyway.

And in Ladies' Home Journal for December Gladys Taber says, "I don't believe in saving things for some future that may not come. Things laid away and saved so often are never used by any one. . . . You can't possibly estimate the future. . . . The only heritage we can be sure of passing on is a lovely memory." And for that reason Mrs. Taber pleads for charm and graciousness in everyday living.

More good sense. But I rise to remark that there are many situations in many homes that make charm and graciousness difficult of achievement.

Honesty makes me admit that one of my big faults has always been saving best things for most special occasions. The owner of the articles thus kept may derive

(Continued on back page)

AT CHURCHES

ZEBULON BAPTIST CHURCH

You are invited to worship with us Sunday, November 12 at any or all of the following services:

9:45—Sunday School

11:00—Morning Worship. Sermon subject: "The Basis of Peace."

7:00—Young Peoples' Meetings.

7:30—Evening Worship. Sermon subject: "We Will Do Thee Good."

G. J. Griffin, Pstor

WAKEFIELD CLASS MEETS

The young married ladies' class of Wakefield church met October 27th, with Mrs. Glenn Joyner. The program was "The Great Commission and Enlistment." After the program officers and a teacher were elected.

After adjournment a social hour was enjoyed. Bingo was played, Mrs. Charles Mitchell winning the prize. Bobbing for apples was enjoyed by all. Then every body was carried to the fish pond. Catching Hallowe'en favors. At this time Mrs. Kress Allen was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

The hostess served fruit punch, candle stick salad, saltines and mints, carrying out the Hallowe'en idea.

Mrs. W. R. Bullock
Class Reporter

HARVEST DAY AT CORINTH CHURCH

Corinth Baptist Church in Johnston County will have Harvest Day on Nov. 15. An all-day program is being arranged, featured by a morning session and dinner on the grounds. Farm products, except cotton and tobacco, will be sold, the proceeds going to the church.

The public is cordially invited to attend for all day or for a part of the time.

PHILATHEAS MEET

The Philathea Class of the Baptist S. S. met on Monday night in the home of Mrs. J. M. Whitley. Mrs. A. N. Jones led in devotional service after which Mrs. R. H. Herring spoke on "When We Pray," giving a message of comfort and inspiration. Following this the duties of class officers were discussed and reports were heard.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the proceedings.

Mrs. E. C. Daniel will have the December meeting of the class.

6 WEEKS UNTIL CHRISTMAS
TIME TO START SHOPPING!

PRESIDENT

ALBERT H. BEST, JR.

Principal, Hope Valley School, RFD 1, Durham; and President of the North Central District Teachers Association of The North Carolina Education Association.

Working For Uncle Sam

It is a little difficult to realize that nearly 950 thousand persons are employed in the executive branch of the United States Government. It keeps on going on and up, as shown by the U. S. Civil Service reports which indicate an increase in one recent month of 4,758 persons. The payroll for that month was $141,670,976, which was nearly three million dollars more than in July.

In the breakdown the number of employes in the District of Columbia total 124,610, or about one out of every 5 of the entire

(Continued on back page)

Wakelon Wins Over Apex, 13-0

The Wakelon Bulldogs added another scalp to their belts yesterday as they trampled an Apex eleven, 13-0.

This game kept the slate clean for the locals in games on their own field. Other victims that went down under the Wakelon players are Raleigh and Smithfield. Smithfield was completely at the will of Wakelon, making only 2 first downs to Wakelon's 15. Wakelon won that game, 14-0.

The first Wakelon score came in the third period when a sustained drive carried the ball deep into Apex territory. Willard Morris made the touchdown on an end run.

The other score came in the third quarter when Forest (Baby) Mitchell raced 70 yards to score. On a line push Morris shoved the ball over for the extra point.

The Wakelon defense was excellent. Apex could only mark up one first down. This came in the first half. Wakelon could only mark up two first downs in the first half, but came back strong in the second half for 14 first downs.

The Apex team fell back on passing attack when line plays failed. However, Wakelon's backs were too much for them and intercepted two of their passes, and allowed them to complete absolutely none.

Wakelon drew the only penalty. This was a five yard off-sides one.

Wakelon tackles Norlina next week there. From the way things look now, this promises to be another Bulldog win.

Better light promotes better sight.

THE POET AND THE PEASANT

By DOCK

"There certainly was a large crowd of people in Zebulon Saturday," said the Poet.

"Yep," said the Peasant, "and I was one of them. I'll bet that there was at least a thousand folks who braved the rain to attend the drawing, and quite a few of them lived right here in Zebulon. It makes us country folks feel good when the townsfolk rub elbows with us. Makes us feel that we are appreciated."

"You are appreciated," said the Poet. "There isn't anything that we enjoy more than seeing a large group of people from the surrounding countryside on our streets. We are proud to have you call us neighbor."

"Now that certainly is nice," said the Peasant. "I'll tell you something else that was nice, and it happened in Zebulon last Saturday. There was a large number of cars and the traffic was heavy on main street, but I don't believe that I have ever seen it any better taken care of. That preacher, Mr. Allen, and his boy scouts did a might fine job of helping the local authorities during the rush. I understand that the scouts also helped with gathering the tickets."

"Yes," said the Poet, "I wondered if I was the only person that appreciated the efforts of the boy scouts under the leadership of Mr. Allen. I am mighty glad that you mentioned it. They really should be commended."

"You know what," said the Peasant, "the folks as well as the scouts are to be commended on the excellent manner in which they obeyed the requests of the boys. Mr. Allen said that there wasn't a single person that seemed to resent the scouts' efforts. That is mighty fine, I think."

"I'll be looking for you and about three thousand other people at the drawing tomorrow," said the Poet. "$45 is, after all, a lot of money. Be sure and be here by four o'clock. The local merchants and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be glad that you came. And you know that all of the townspeople will be glad to see you. Bring what you have to sell and buy what you need to buy."