NUMBER 40

JAYCEE CHARTER BANQUET TONIGHT

THIS, THAT, & THE OTHER

By MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

On Easter Sunday night I answered the ring of our telephone to find that Dr. Githens of the department of physics at Wake Forest College was trying to get a message to our son, Ferd, telling him he need not report for an eight o'clock class next morning. The class had been called off and he didn't want Ferd leaving home in the snow Monday early enough to make it. I hung up wondering how many teachers would have made that much effort, not to mention some expense, to save a student discomfort.

The girl who sat a few seats in front of me at church last Sunday was a stranger to most of our congregation. She was very nice looking and was appropriately dressed. But what impressed me was the way she rose when we stood to sing. At my age and size we have a way of gathering ourselves together and leaning for balance, if we don't take hold of the back of the seat just ahead to help pull up. My own efforts frequently remind me painfully of an ailing cow getting to her feet. This girl rose with one flowing, effortless motion, swift, but not jerky; controlled, but not stiff; and then she didn't sway, but stood still. If ever I see her again and we both have the time, I'm going to ask her to sit down and get up for a while and let me watch. Her gracefulness was that pleasing to the sight.

We were speaking of political candidates, my daughter and I, and she jestingly remarked of a certain man that she didn't know him but thought she would not vote for him because she doesn't like his brother.

I replied that I would not vote for another because of something his father did which offended me twenty-five years ago, adding that once I did vote for a man because he reminded me of my son-in-law, and he has never paid us his bill for political advertising, and my vote may be against him hereafter.

By this you may see that with me suffrage is a complicated question. Joking aside, I wonder how many of us are unconsciously influenced by such flimsy reasons as those mentioned above. We may strive to be absolutely impersonal in our consideration of candidates; but every now and then some purely personal prejudice or plea will be found to outweigh much else.

Or it may be the candidate's manager who rubs our fur the wrong way. Right now I am resenting being sent enough typed matter for more than a column of our paper, with a six-cent stamp and a request to "send me a copy of your paper carrying this article." No courteous request to print as much or as little as we found practicable; no suggestion that we might condense or omit. It made me feel like printing just what I thought would be six cents worth. Hateful, and lit-

KEY MAN

The Rev. George J. Griffin, pastor of the Zebulon Baptist Church, who has been awarded the golden key, presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for outstanding service to the community during the past year. The choice was made by a committee composed of Mayor Avon Privette, Attorney F. D. Finch, and Postmaster Sexton.

Mr. Griffin is a member of the board of directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

AT CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH

Spring is here. Every person and every organization of the church should take on new life. Let us begin to do greater things for our Lord and His church. Your regular attendance at church keeps the church alive and growing.

Services for Sunday, April 7:
Church School—10:00.
Young People—6:45.
Church Service—7:30.

ZEBULON BAPTIST CHURCH

The following are comments and announcements for services to be held in our church Sunday, April 7:

9:45—Sunday School. It is encouraging to note the steady growth in our Sunday School. Last Sunday there were 297 present. We appreciate the good work which is being done in this phase of our church work. If you are not in Sunday School somewhere else will you not make an effort to be with us this coming Sunday? We invite you.

11:00—Morning Worship. Sermon subject: "Sin and Its Cure."
7:00—Young People's Meeting.
7:30—Evening Service. Sermon topic: "Thoughts on Happiness."
G. J. GRIFFIN, Pastor.

MISSIONARY TO PREACH

Dr. J. C. Owen, former missionary to China, and known to many here, writes that he will on April 14 preach in the Glenville High School Auditorium on the site of the building where fifty years ago

Town Mass Meeting Held

The meeting of the citizens of Zebulon called for last Friday night was fairly well attended. Mayor Privette stated the purpose of the meeting—to devise ways and means to raise the town's part of $23,000 to extend needed water and sewer lines. After considerable discussion, it was decided on a vote of approval of those present, that the Commissioners sell all property taken in by the town for delinquent taxes if a reasonable offer was made.

Before such sale is made final, the bid is to be publicly advertised and then if not raised within a reasonable time, the Commissioners may close the deal by selling to the bidder. In this way

STATE PRESIDENT

Wisner Chamblee, President of the State Junior of Commerce, and co-organizer of the Zebulon chapter. While he is, naturally, interested in every such club in the state, it is safe to assert that Mr. Chamblee takes special pride in Zebulon Jaycees, because he is himself a "local boy", son of the late Kenny Chamblee of Zebulon and Mrs. Carrie Wiggs Chamblee, now Mrs. Lewis, of Raleigh.

Pre-School Clinic; Fifty-Two Attend

Mrs. C. G. Weathersby, president of the local P.-T. A., reports that fifty-two children were examined at the clinic held Tuesday with Drs. Bulla and Baker in charge, assisted by Nurses Hall and Lyon. Thirty-two parents attended to be advised concerning the welfare of their children. Of those examined 47 were vaccinated against small-pox and 42 had already been inoculated against diphtheria.

Four of the number were given the blue star for being one hundred per cent, these being Barbara Anne Shannon, Dwight Milo Horton, Charles Bernie Eddins, Norma Faye Bridges.

Those in charge wish thanks expressed for the hearty cooperation of all who helped in any way to make this clinic an unusual success.

PRESIDENT

Robert Daniel Massey, president and co-organizer of the Zebulon Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Massey, son of the late Guy Massey and Mrs. Pearl Jones Massey, is assistant cashier in the local branch of the Peoples Bank and Trust Company, and has since his maturity taken a prominent part in all phases of civics, being also interested in matters political, especially in the work of the Young Democratic Club. He is also active in the Methodist Church.

CLUB COLUMN

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Junior Woman's Club entertained Friday evening, honoring their husbands and sweethearts. Jonquils, ivy and potted plants were used in decorating the club house.

Tables were arranged for bingo and at the conclusion of the games high score prize for ladies, theatre tickets, went to Mrs. J. W. Narron and second high, silver salt and pepper shakers, went to Miss Ruby Dawson. Wallace Chamblee received high score for men, theatre tickets, and Raleigh Alford won second high, cigarettes. The Junior Woman's Club presented Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Phelps and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Narron, recent bridal couples, silver in their chosen patterns.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth on which were burning white tapers in crystal candelabra. Fruit punch, poured by Mrs. L. M. Massey, was served with cakes and mixed nuts.

Wake Chosen For Stamp Food Plan

Wake County is one to have part in the stamp food plan recently put into operation by the federal government. It is estimated that more than 10,000 persons will participate in the project. Welfare, public assistance, and WPA clients may be furnished stamps, of which there will be two types. Orange stamps will

Program Begins Promptly At 7:15

J. M. Broughton To Make After-Dinner Speech; Dance Begins 9:30

Zebulon's Junior Chamber of Commerce occupies the center of the local stage for tonight with the spotlight following every movement.

Charter Night will be observed by this thriving organization with appropriate ceremonies, special speakers, and a dance following in Wakelon's gymnasium. Proceedings begin promptly at 7:15, and radio station WPTF, Raleigh, will put the program on the air from 7:30 till 8 o'clock.

At least two hundred are expected to attend, this number having bought tickets. The public, generally, is invited and will be welcomed, provided tickets are bought far enough in advance for plates to be assured.

Music will be provided by Skipper Bowles and his band, of the University of N. C., who will play for both banquet and dance.

Below is the evening's program: Master of Ceremonies, Chairman Leon Thompson.

Welcome Address, President, R. D. Massey.

Response, C. V. Whitley. Recognition of Visitors, State President Wisner Chamblee.

Presentation of Key to 1939 Key Man, E. H. Moser.

The Night Has A Thousand Eyes (by Nobel Cain), Wakelon Mixed Chorus.

Introduction of National Director, Wisner Chamblee.

Charter Presentation, George Underwood, National Director.

(Broadcast ends at this point). Activities Report, Rom Moser.

Introduction of Speaker, Dr. L. M. Massey.

Speaker, Hon. J. M. Broughton.

Wakelon Finals Begin April 30

April 30, Tuesday Night—Mrs. Barbee will present her pupils in a music recital.

May 3, Friday—Society Night.

May 5, Sunday—Rev. C. F. Allen will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

May 6, Monday—Class Night.

May 7, Tuesday—At 9:30 the seventh grades will give a little entertainment. After these exercises the children will receive their reports and promotions for the year, and all books will be collected.

May 8, Wednesday—School closes. Mr. John Lang, State Director of Y. Y. A., will deliver the commencement address. At 12:00, the annual picnic will be held. In the afternoon there will be a baseball game. That night the seniors will present their play, which will be of special interest to everyone, since it was written by local people.
