A commencement program has been arranged for Saturday night, April 27th, 1940, at Corinth-Holder School, for the Bible Clubs of the Glendale and Corinth-Holder High Schools, which have been taught this year by Rev. C. F. Allen of Zebulon. The program will begin with a soft-ball game between the two clubs at 4:30 p. m. This will be followed by a basket lunch to be spread at the Corinth-Holder School, in which all are asked to share, by bringing lunch. At 7:30 P. M. in the Auditorium of the Corinth-Holder School the commencement exercises of the two clubs will be held. There will be music by the Corinth-Holder Glee Club, followed by the address of welcome by Elbert Price, president of the Glendale Club. Two pageants will be given by the Glendale and Corinth-Holder Schools respectively, on "John the Baptist" and "Isaac and Rebekkah". A Bible baseball game will next be engaged in by the two clubs, after which all honors and awards will be made. The principals of the Glendale School and the Corinth-Holder School will be honor guests. They are Messrs Crawford and Cunningham. Other prominent guests will also be present. There are about 100 members of the two Bible Clubs, which have had two meetings monthly during the school year. All interested are cordially invited to attend the entire program.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Daylight saving time has gone into effect in those sections where it is customary to reckon by that method during summer months. First begun about the time of the World War, it was inaugurated for the purpose of allowing workers to begin their day's toil earlier and get in the required hours before sunset. Why setting time-pieces an hour ahead is better than merely announcing that work will begin at seven instead of eight has not been satisfactorily explained. It is claimed that psychology has something to do with it. Farmers, however, have learned that one can't fool the sun, even with psychology.

NEW USE FOR MENHADEN

Down on the coast fishermen are not too well pleased when menhaden are the main catch. Formerly these fish have been used mainly for fertilizer and the price is low, compared to those preferred for eating.

But since the war has almost doubled the price of cod liver oil, experiments made at State College Experiment Station are of special value. Dr. J. O. Halverson and Roy Dearstyne have found that oil from menhaden has about one-fourth the vitamin A content that is in cod liver oil, and may be safely used as a substitute in poultry feeds. Several large manufacturers have already asked about the menhaden oil and a new market for the product may be developed.

CATTLE

Demonstration farmers of Madison County are taking the lead in an active campaign to place better cattle in the county, says John S. Hollamon, assistant farm agent.

The domestic wheat supply in 1940-41 is expected to total approximately 900,000,000 bushels, estimated the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.
