VOLUME XVII

ZEBULON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1940

NUMBER 17

This, That, & The Other

By MRS. THEO B. DAVIS

Last week we employed a colored girl to help in the house. The first day she was there I gave instructions as fully as I thought of them, then came to the office and left her alone. At noon when we went for dinner she said, "Mrs. Davis, I'm 'fraid them butterbeans won't suit your taste. I forgot to ask was you all salty-mouthed."

Last Friday Helen Screws showed me a furniture catalog she had ordered. It was expensive stuff and up-to-date as possible. I was surprised to find one of the pictures was of a bed exactly like the one I grew up in—or, rather, slept in nights. Not only did it have the turned "spool" pieces at head and foot, but the spread shown was the identical pattern of the one I liked best at home. It was handwoven in wool and was dark blue and red on a white background. Helen promised me the picture to send Mother and let her see how stylish we used to be without knowing it.

Over and over I've tried to make biscuit dough and keep it in the refrigerator until needed. But it never did work out right. The biscuit wouldn't look nor taste as they should after being chilled. Yet, my sister has a habit of keeping dough in her Frigidaire, usually mixing biscuit only once a day, though they have hot bread for every meal. I studied over the matter for some time and remembered that Annie kneads her biscuit dough about like that for rolls, while I mix mine quickly, knead it hardly at all and rush the biscuit into the oven. Mine don't taste one bit like Annie's, though, if I do say it, we both are good biscuit makers. Hers are fine-grained, mine are flaky. I have begun trying to make the dough stiffer and to knead it well before putting it in the refrigerator; and it made a lot of difference. But I must let the chilled dough warm up to the temperature of the room before putting it in the oven to bake, or it still goes wrong. And mine aren't yet as good as those my sister makes.

In reading proof last week I came across a report on public morals made by a member of a Baptist church in this state. He spoke of "cigarette-smoking, card-playing, wet-voting, liquor-drinking, obscene-and-propane-language using, lascivious-and-licentious-literature-and-moving-picture - patronizing, religious - duty - neglecting" parents and the need for them to reform. He went on to say that "in well-nigh every gathering where the female sex is present, from the age of the primary grade to grandmother-hood, there is one incessant leg show." And he further asserted that "were its example and influence less harmful to the young, the common sight of cross-legged women making a futile gesture of pulling down a skirt cut knee-high would be ludicrous."

That's one man's opinion, and I gather he finds a great deal wrong with a good many of us, and, while he may be an extremist, his kind are need to help

Please Help Us

For some time, if not permanently, the RECORD will be printed on Wednesday of each week instead of on Thursday, as was the case until this fall. The necessity of arranging the shop schedule so as to leave some days free for other than newspaper work caused the change.

Please cooperate in this. If we believed it would in any wise lessen the value of the paper to subscribers, some way would be managed to print on Thursday still. But the RECORD'S going out on Thursday should mean more time for week-end specials to bring results. Try it and see.

We are forced to emphasize the statement that copy must be in by Tuesday night at the latest. Only emergencies or special arrangement for a given space will assure publication of matter received after this time.

At present we are printing four newspapers between Tuesday at noon and Friday morning. Only a little over two days and three nights for all four. And the nights are most certainly included when any of the copy is late.

Please help us all you can.

Roosevelt Wins; Broughton Gov.

With the state's thirteen electoral votes conceded to Roosevelt and with a ratio of more than three to one for the Democratic ticket, North Carolina has overwhelmingly affirmed faith in the present administration and a desire for its continuance. Wake County went more than seven to one for Roosevelt, though Willie's showing of 2,572 affirms the convictions of some citizens.

Broughton had more than three times as many votes as were given McNeill for governor of the state, judging by reports on Wednesday morning. Returns are incomplete at this time.

CAMPAIGNING MONDAY

With blaring noise of band and loud speaker a truck with some accompanying cars was in Zebulon Monday inviting all Democrats to attend a last-minute rally at Wake County Courthouse that night. A fair-sized crowd gathered and listened for a time to the speech-making, but there was no marked interest shown. It may be those who passed or stopped already had made up their minds, or it may be they were indifferent.

PINE RIDGE BOY HAS DOG WHICH NURSES FELINES

W. L. Williams of Pine Ridge, the cross roads which wishes to be known as West Chicago, has a Boston Bull dog which is playing mother to six kittens. These six kittens are perfectly content to nurse their adopted mama with as much enthusiasm as they would employ while nursing a feline mother. W. L. Williams is a cousin of Frederick C. Pearce, printer's devil, cub reporter, and type delouser at the Record office.

keep the pendulum from swinging even further to the left. Every once in a while I find myself thanking the Lord for fanatics.

CHURCH

BAPTIST CHURCH

The services for our church Sunday, November 10, are as follows:

CHURCH SUPPER

The Ladies of Bethany Baptist church will give a supper at the church on Friday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock. Brunswick stew, chicken and pork barbecue will be served. The price will be 25 and 35 cents. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the church. The public is very cordially invited. Let everybody come out and get a good square meal and help the ladies in their laudable undertaking.

HARVEST SALE

On Thursday of this week Corinth Baptist Church, near Corinth-Holder School, will have a Harvest Sale by the members of the church and the community. Dinner will be served, and an address will be delivered by someone, after which the sale will take place. Farm products, livestock and poultry will be sold.

N. C. COLLEGE CONFERENCE

This conference, organized several years ago for the advancement of higher education, met in Durham this week. Louisburg College was represented in this conference by Dr. Thomas C. Amick.

Zebulon Men Picked in First Draft; May Enter for Year's Training

Rotary Club

The Zebulon Rotary Club held its 40th consecutive 100 per cent meeting last Friday. We are proud of our record. One year ago there would have been a question in our minds whether we could make it. This helps prove that folks can do what they want, if they want to bad enough, even in a Rotary Club.

Bob Sawyer had the program. He had for his speaker Charles Allen, head of Boy Scout work here. Charles' heart and soul are in this work. The work that he has done already will live after we are gone. He spoke of the needs of the under-privileged boys and that some are not receiving advantages they are entitled to. He made a strong appeal. Other members made favorable talks on the subject.

The scouts are building a log cabin on the lot with the Woman's Club building. It will be used as a meeting place. Dr. Smith from Wendell was a welcome visitor.

EVENING CLASS MEETING NOVEMBER 12

The second in the series of evening class meetings being held at Wakelon School in the agriculture building will be next Tuesday night, November 12th. This meeting is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Zebulon.

Plans were considered in the early fall season towards getting for the Zebulon community a potato curing house. Consideration was given to the fact that our farmers have made no effort to produce a marketable potato. With this in mind, it was decided to begin the potato problem from the production side of the question, with the hopes that the farmers could learn how to grow a potato that filled the needs of the market. The meeting on November 12 is the first of our efforts.

Mr. Watson, Extension speaker from State College, will be present, and will be assisted by a marketing specialist, who will discuss the possibilities of organizing a cooperative farmers marketing agency. Film will be shown to illustrate the approved practices for the production of sweet potatoes.

All farmers are urged to attend the meeting at the Wakelon agriculture building, November 12, at 7:30 o'clock.

Teachers Meet

Mrs. Roy Dixon of Dunn, who will preside over the meeting of teachers of the North Central District in Durham, November 8.

From this section teachers holding office are N. G. Brayan, Middlesex, vice-president district principals; G. B. Harris, Franklin, secretary dept. superintendence; Irene Pitts, vice-president department social science; Mrs. Robert D. Massey, secretary, music teachers.

The Bill Stricklands are now at Ft. Bragg and Mrs. Strickland writes asking that her Record be sent there until they are ready to come home to Zebulon.

Printed below is a list of serial numbers which have been drawn and which are held by young men in and near Zebulon. Some of these names were given out last week, others not being published until Monday.

Jaycees Present Hollyw'd Follies

Just imagine! Leon Thompson as Claudette Colbert; Wallace Temple as Mae West; Supt. E. C. Cunningham as Martha Raye and Elmo Bunn and Norman Screws as part of a chorus of girls. These and the other characterizations will be depicted at the Wakelon school auditorium on Thursday night, November 7, when the Zebulon Junior Chamber of Commerce presents its review of Hollywood personalities entitled "Hollywood Follies."

The purpose of the "Hollywood Follies" is to raise funds for the promotion of welfare and recreational activities for and among the youth of Zebulon and the surrounding community. So, a ticket to the "Hollywood Follies" not only entitles you to an hour and a half of fun, but means that you have contributed to a good cause. So, come one, come all, it is fun for the entire family at family prices.

JAYCEES MEET

Zebulon's Junior Chamber of Commerce had thirteen present at the meeting last week. Leon Thompson's father was a welcome visitor, being the first member's parent to attend a meeting of the organization.

R. D. Massey was made chairman of the Jaycee committee to assist with the program for opening the Durham-Engelhard highway. Ed Hales was appointed assistant chairman to work with representatives of other civic bodies in making plans for business advancement in the community.

BIG CATCH

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt of Kinston caught 140 pounds of trout at Tippet's camp between Morehead City and Beaufort, N. C., Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dillon of Raleigh also had a nice catch Friday night, catching 84 pounds. Fishing is still good at Morehead City.
