

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bullock and children are moving this week to a farm on Route 2 from Raleigh. They will be greatly missed in church and community life. Mrs. Bullock has for years been one of the most active members of the Wakefield Home Demonstration Club.

C. V. Whitley and Norman Screws attended the Furniture Exposition in High Point this week, representing Zebulon Furniture Store.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cox attended on Sunday afternoon the funeral of Mr. Cox's brother-in-law, J. W. Mitchell, in Greensboro. They left here on Saturday. That night Mrs. F. D. Caviness, an aunt of Mr. Cox, died in Greensboro, and they attended her funeral before coming home. Dr. Clyde Turner conducted this service at the First Baptist Church on Monday afternoon.

Miss Cornelia Herring spent several days at home last week between semesters at Meredith College.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander Portner, who have been traveling in Canada and the Far West since their wedding trip to Mexico, have taken residence in Washington, D. C.

Before her marriage Mrs. Portner was Miss Erveane Donald Massey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eger Donald Massey of Middlesex.

Paul Bunn of Richmond visited relatives here this week.

Douglas Finch of Middlesex has returned to his work there after being in bed for a while with an attack of influenza. During a part of his illness he was in the home of his parents, the Elmer Finches, of Zebulon.

Melvin Massey had his hand cut rather badly last week in a planer at Massey Lumber Co. plant here. The injuries are healing as fast as could be expected.

The following invitations have been mailed:

Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas Allen invite you to be present at their twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary Sunday afternoon, the eighth of February, from three until five o'clock, Wendell, North Carolina. Omission of gifts requested.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tucker, formerly of Zebulon, now of Louisburg, visited friends in Zebulon Sunday.

Miss Mary Lois Allen came from Peace College to spend the week end with Mrs. Joe C. Minor and Miss Courtney Allen, also of Peace, spent the week end with Miss Dorothy Herndon Horton.

MRS. MASSEY HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. L. M. Massey was hostess to her bridge club, all members of the Wakelon Faculty who reside at the teacherage, and Mrs. C. V. Whitley.

The living room, library, and dining room were thrown ensuite and seven tables of contract were in play.

After the usual number of progressions, Miss Deane Hardison received high score prize for guests, Mrs. Wallace Chamblee, high for club members, and Mrs. W. C. Campen, low.

The hostess served a supper plate with coffee to Mesdames C. V. Whitley, John Wall, Helen Gregory; Misses Deane Hardison, Vernon Batchelor, Mamie Beam, Annie Lou Alston, Ena Dell Anderson, Frances Gullede, Virginia Bullock, Mary Lacy Palmer, Nan Wheless, Louise Hocutt, Mary Evelyn Thompson, Bridget Palmer, Dorothy Brake; Mesdames G. S. Barbee, John K. Barrow, Sr., John K. Barrow, Jr., Wallace Chamblee, W. C. Campen, F. D. Finch, Charles E. Flowers, Irby Gill, Albert Medlin, Avon Privett, Fred Page and W. D. Spencer.

JEFFREYS-LILES

On Sunday afternoon, January 25, at half past two o'clock, Miss Annie Elizabeth Liles was married to Franklin Davis Jeffreys in the home of the Rev. Theo. B. Davis, officiating minister. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Liles of Wendell, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Jeffreys of Wendell, R. 2.

The ceremony was witnessed by a group of relatives and young friends of the couple.

For her marriage Miss Liles wore a costume of blue with matching accessories and corsage of white rosebuds. Her hat was a spring model with veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffreys will for the present make their home with the former's parents.

Miss Eunice Outlaw, who has been teaching at Penderlea, has resigned to accept a fellowship at WCUNC, where she will do further study.

KILLED BY MISTAKE IN HIS HOUR OF TRIUMPH

The tragedy that befell a composer, who just as he glimpsed the success of his song, now popular throughout the country, was killed by a bullet intended for another person. Read about this sad incident in the February 1st issue of

ABC's of Canned Food Labels

All homemakers know that canned food comes in three grades, A, B, and C, but many do not know precisely what these grades mean. With the rise in food prices it is well to compare the differences in quality among the grades. The less expensive grades do not necessarily mean less nutritious food. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the meanings of these grades labeled either as A, B, and C, or Fancy, Choice, and Standard, are as follows:

Grade A (Fancy)—This grade includes the best food on the market as to size, color, degree of maturity, and freedom from blemishes. The fruits, always meaty, highly colored and ripe, are packed in sirup that is extra heavy (very sweet), heavy (sweet), light (somewhat sweet), and in sweetened water. The vegetables are always very tender and juicy.

Grade B (Choice)—The only difference between A and B grades is that the B products are not so well selected, and are packed in sirup or water. Nevertheless, Grade B canned food is of excellent quality.

Grade C (Standard)—Grade C canned food is of good quality, but differs from the other two grades in that the products are not so uniform in color, size, or degree of maturity. The fruit, as in Grade B, is packed in either sirup or water. The vegetables are less tender, but in some cases have more food value because they are more fully mature than the products in the higher grades.

Small Glenda Eddins came Tuesday from Raleigh to visit in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Eddins.

PUNISHMENT DEMANDED

After Congressional investigation and decision that Admiral Kimmel, Lieut. Gen. Short had failed in their duty at Pearl Harbor and were therefore largely responsible for the naval disaster there last December 7, a cry has gone up that they be punished. Eash has been relieved of his command.

KEYNOTES RED CROSS APPEAL

Frances Fedden, attractive Bronxville, N. Y., artist's model, is the 1941 Red Cross poster girl. Thousands of posters like the one pictured above have been distributed throughout the country calling attention to this year's Roll Call membership appeal. Painted by Bradshaw Crandell, prominent New York illustrator, the poster carries a national defense theme, portraying the active part being taken by the Red Cross in serving the armed forces.

FOUR WARS IN ONE LIFE

Mrs. D. M. Dizor says she had thought no person should have to know more than three wars; but she is experiencing the fourth. The other three were the Civil War, Spanish-American War and the first World War.
