This, That and The Other

By MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

It is pleasant to watch since school has closed and see the small sons who come with their fathers to town. Sometimes a father is in a hurry and pays scant attention to the child. At such times the son is also grave and earnest, stepping purposefully with strides as long as he can manage, never pausing to look into store windows.

Other small boys seem to have come with an idea of fun, and skip along joyfully, either licking a cream cone or evidently with one in the backs of their minds. But they, too, keep an eye on the parent and don't get far away from him.

And almost without exception they are very clean, barefoot and overalled. The fathers don't always look as proud of the youngsters as I feel, though half the time I may not know who they are. To me nothing on earth is more fascinating than a little boy.

We are told that only half as much tea as usual is to be had here this summer. Don't let that worry you too much. You can make a good substitute by drying raspberry leaves. The young, tender leaves are best, of course, but any will surprise you, if you have never tried tea made from them. Dry the leaves in the shade, first washing them free of grit or dust, and put your "tea" away in cereal boxes till wanted.

It is a sad commentary on our nation, or on human nature to note how, even in the midst of war's alarms, we fuss and fume among ourselves. We are, as Josephus Daniels put it, apparently more willing to give up our sons than to give up the things we have come to think necessary to our well-being. Some of us have the attitude that life without plenty of gas and plenty of sugar is hardly worth having.

Personally, since the time when they killed little pigs and plowed under third rows of crops, nothing governmental has amazed me. That fantastic performance still rankles in my mind, and often creates a doubt of the wisdom of sub-

Gas Cards Open Piano Students To Inspection Do Good Work

It is stated that gas ration cards will be open to inspection by the public. That means those who have X cards are liable to have those doubting the rating making investigations and asking for proof.

Amounts of gasoline available may seem too small for necessary traveling; but there's little can be done about it. Governor Broughton has several times declared there is discrimination against this state, but nothing has been done definitely to relieve it. Ant any rate tires standing still don't wear out as fast as tires running over the highways.

Sugarless Cake For Local Cooks

The recipe given below was requested by a reader to help with the sugar rationing situation.

Cambridge Gingerbread
 1-3 cup shortening
 2-3 cup boiling water
 1 cup molasses
 1 egg, well-beaten
 2 3-4 cups sifted flour
 3 teaspoons Rumford baking powder
 1 teaspoon soda
 1-2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1 teaspoon ginger
 1-4 teaspoon ground cloves

Melt shortening in hot water. Add molasses and well beaten egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Stir into first mixture, blending well. Bake in a greased shallow square pan in a moderate oven (350deg.F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Self-rising flour may be used in this instead of plain; in which case omit baking powder called for.

Fair Weather

Many were glad to see Monday clear and hot. The rains of last week brought splendid seasons for setting and replanting tobacco; but they also made grass grow at a discouraging rate in fields where crops are planted. Chopping is now the order of the day.

Wakefield Club

The May meeting of the Home Demonstration Club will be held Wednesday afternoon, May 27. Mrs. McInnes will be present and will speak on "The Staff of Life."

On Monday, May 18, Miss Jocelyn House took eighteen of her pupils to Raleigh to play in the auditions sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, of which Miss House is a member. This was not a contest, in that the pupils were not competing against any other pupils, but each received a rating. Those who will receive certificates "With Honor" are Clyde Morris, Hilda Morris, A. V. Medlin, Jr., Charles Horton, Rachel Bunn, Betty Jean Gay, Mary Alice Jones and Melba Duke, of Zebulon; and Luella Nowell, Bootsy Renfro, and Barbara Ledford of Wendell.

Those who will receive certificates "With High Honor" are Laura James Sexton, Mary Sue Long, Fay Privett, and Dorothy Mizelle of Zebulon; and Flora Ann Nowell, Helen Leppard and Hortense Bridgers of Wendell. There were no failures or "just passing grades."

Methodist Church

Services for Sunday:
 Church school—10:00
 Church service—11:00
 Sermon topic: "Purpose for Living"

Young people—7:45.
 We had fourteen present for the young people's service last Sunday night. All of our young people are invited to attend.

We have some fine Christian souls in our church. The way they try to make strangers feel at home and speak to all the people present is very noticeable and highly commendable. If we had more of this spirit in the church, we could really accomplish great things.

Our Vacation Church school will begin Monday morning, May 25, at 9:00 o'clock. We hope that all the children and young people of our church will attend. Parents and teachers are urged to give their full cooperation to the end that we may have the very best Vacation School.

Baptist Church

Services for Sunday, May 24:
 9:45—Sunday School
 11:00—Morning Worship. Sermon topic: "Unsoiled Lives"
 7:30—Young People meet
 8:00—Baptismal Service

The Vacation Bible school now being conducted will continue on through the week of May 25 until May 29.

In the afternoon there will be speeches by former pastors and visitors followed by a sermon. There will be special music by visiting quartette. After service flowers will be taken to the cemetery.

All members of the Wakefield community are asked to bring dinners.

Rotarians To Be At Conference

The Rotary continues to hold 100% meetings.

Bob Sawyer spoke five minutes on member who had made best records without missing. Durward Chamblee led with Vance Brown and Vaden Whitley running 2nd and 3rd.

Vaden Whitley had the program, his subject being a jack of all trades. Vaden said we think of a Jack as being something powerful and trade as one's vocation, so Jack of your trade means master of your profession. Vaden made an interesting talk, inspiring one to be a master of his vocation if he wishes to succeed.

Mallie Todd and Bob Nowell of Wendell Rotary Club were welcome visitors.

There will not be a meeting of the club this week in Zebulon as members will attend the state meeting in Raleigh.
