Furthermore, industry of all kinds is regulated and controlled to the hilt by the governmentwhich is not true of either labor or agriculture. Taxpayer groups are also extremely active in Washington, and all of them, with a few honorable exceptions, seem to be trying to figure out ways and means to make the other fellow pay for the war. They are all for sacrificeso long as someone else does the bulk of the sacrificing. The blackest picture of all, in the view of many writers, is found on Capitol Hill itself. There are, of course, congressmen who are not swayed by political considerations-who are doing their best, and who reraid began and wardens were pre- fuse to play old-fashioned politicsas-usual in attempts to make certain of holding their jobs. Unfortunately for the nation, there are a good many congressmen, in both parties, who seem to be thinking almost exclusively in terms of votes. They don't want to step on the toes of their constituents. They don't want to awaken them to the unpleasant realities that totail war involves. They don't want to vote for bills which will make their constituents have to go withr h pct. out things. They are, in short, seeking to please all groups and all interests-and that means that they are doing their best to either dodge difficult issues, or to strad-

It's getting out the silence cloth, the table cloth (maybe pressing it), the whole set of glasses, the Sunday napkins, the best dishes, knives and forks, and working over a centerpiece; the striving to appear cool and collected, regardless; the knowledge that after dinner all those dishes must be washed, sorted out and put away that gets you down. For no matter how inexpensive they are, if you have a family of any size and don't save something for occasional use only, pretty soon the set will not be complete.
