Lowliness of heart is real dignity, and humility is the brightest jewel in the Christian's crown.—Bond.

The doctrines of grace humble man without degrading, and exalt without inflating him.—Charles Hodge.

Trees the most lovingly shelter and shade us when, like the willow, the higher soar their summits, the lowlier droop their boughs.—Bulwer-Lytton.

Love is not puffed up; and the meek and loving, God anoints and appoints to lead the line of mankind's triumphal march out of the wilderness, out of darkness into light.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Humility enforces where neither virtue, nor strength, nor reason can prevail.—Quarles.

Humility is to make a right estimate of one's self. It is no humility for a man to think less of himself than he ought, though it might rather puzzle him to do that.—C. H. Spurgeon.

14 Million Cords Your Boy Needs

Why are 14,000,000 cords of pulpwood needed in 1944?

A clear-cut answer may be found in the disclosure that the Army Service Forces, whose job it is to equip American invasion forces, plan to land six tons of supplies initially for every American overseas and an additional ton for the first sixty days.

What's the connection? Well, practically every bit of equipment, all food and medical supplies, and most ammunition are all packaged in paper or paper-board before being shipped abroad. And that takes a lot of pulpwood.

Without the protection of pulpwood products, many of these vital supplies might never reach their destination or else be unable because of spoilage. Pulpwood shields them from bad weather, salt water, and cushions them against the inevitable rough handling.

Many persons have become callous to appeals based on big figures since the outbreak of the war. One reads daily about billions of dollars being spent, millions of this or that being needed. So let's put it another way:

Your boy or your neighbor's boy overseas, poised for the invasion, needs six tons of supplies packed in pulpwood. How many cords are you going to cut for him?

Envy, rivalry, hate need no temporary indulgence that they be destroyed through suffering; they should be stifled from lack of air and freedom.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Every cord of pulpwood you can cut is needed to meet the country's wartime needs. If you have suitable wood you can cut, write or phone us now. We are paying top ceiling prices—prices are at a peak—take advantage of it quickly.

To Draft-Exempt Farmers: Recent rulings of the War Manpower Commission clearly define pulpwood cutting as essential war work and urge farmers to devote off-season periods to work in the woods.
