

*This, That And
The Other*

BY MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

If you've nothing better to do, get in on an argument my husband and I are continuing at intervals. He is having Builder's Supply Company make him some frames with glass fitted in sashes to be used in growing early plants. He said they are to be hot frames. I said cold frames. He said Mr. Glover agreed that they are hot frames. I didn't care if he did. I said a cold frame only protects from weather without having artificial heat, while a hot bed or hot frame has heat either from fuel of some kind or from manure. My husband triumphantly replied that was just what he meant to do. I scornfully asked how he'd heat it and he said with manure from the old cow lot or the chicken yard. I insisted that that neither would do; that stable manure would be needed; then went back to the original theme—those things will be cold frames. For reinforcement he went to a catalog and I to Noah Webster. He agrees with the catalog and I with the dictionary. Come on in, folks; the fussing's fine.

While I may be right about the frames, there is no question about my being wrong in setting fire to a small pile of dead grass and leaves swept up from the back yard. They burned so feebly and slowly that, though at first I kept a careful lookout, before noon the little fire was forgotten. But it finally decided to go somewhere else instead of out. And when the menfolk started back to work after dinner the flames had spread in every direction and were creeping briskly over the grass toward a favorite young peach tree and what rose bushes we have. In a few minutes they'd have been badly damaged. It took a good part of the grandchildren's sandpile to stop the fire and some time for me to get over the scare my carelessness caused.

Here's a hint handed in for this column:

Those who wear wrist watches will find that crystals are less liable to break if coated with transparent nail polish. This does not prevent a clear view of the dial.

If it were not for the thought of sickness and wounds, making those Red Cross bandages at the clubhouse would be one of the most enjoyable tasks I ever shared with friends. There is no complicated work about it, no bias seams nor gathers, and you can talk as you cut or sew. One of the

Truck Operators May Get Tires

Essential truck operators in areas where tire recapping facilities are inadequate or unavailable may now obtain a ration certificate permitting them to exchange with dealers a tire which needs recapping for a used tire or a new "war" tire, the Raleigh District Office of Price Administration announces. A "war" tire is one made from reclaimed rubber.

Certificates may be obtained by a truck operator from his local War Price and Rationing Board provided he is operating an essential trucking service and turns in the recappable carcass at the time the certificate is used.

OPA announces two other changes in tire rationing regulations:

(1) Tire dealers have through February 29, 1944 to request the return of Parts B (the stock replenishment portion of a tire rationing certificate) which they were allowed to acquire last summer.

(2) Passenger cars operating as commercial motor vehicles and used exclusively to transport persons at funerals are now eligible for new tires. Since funerals customarily require the use of both a hearse and passenger cars to transport those attending the services, OPA decided to allow tires for these cars on the same basis as for hearses.

Bandage Making

Workers at the Red Cross sewing room this week were Mesdames R. H. Herring, M. J. Sexton, R. H. Jenkins, Allan Pippin, Theo. Davis, W. G. Temple, Ruric Gill, J. G. Terry and Miss Lizzie Lee Dean.

The sewing room is open every Tuesday afternoon till further notice and helpers are wanted. After the work is learned those who prefer to do so may take home the bandage instead of using a machine at the clubhouse.

School News

The pupils of Miss Anderson's sixth grade have been trying to be very patriotic this year. We have organized a club called War Time Club. We are buying a lot of bonds and stamps in our club. Our pledge was written by Willie Brannan and our flag was designed by Walter Hood. Barbara Hardison has written a poem. We are saving scrap paper and scrap iron. We are also writing to soldiers in our club.

We had an auction sale in our room Tuesday. We raised $19.45. The highest thing bought was Miss Anderson's picture for $5.10. Gene Jones got it.

We gave the assembly program Wednesday in chapel. It was called "Investigating For Uncle Sam." George Rigsbee Massey announced the following program.

1. Let's Remember Pearl Harbor, 6th grade
2. Scripture, Louise Denton
3. Lord's Prayer, Student group
4. Poem, Helen Johnson
5. Piano Solo, Willie Brannan
6. Playlet, 6th grade.

After our program we had another auction sale. We raised $51.65. Miss Alston bought a five-cent piece of candy for $6.00. That was the highest sale. Edward Ihrie was our splendid auctioneer. The total amount for our class during the drive at school was $388.80. We hope to help bring peace to all nations soon.

By Stella Bunn

The sixth grade sale was an incentive for a rally put on by the high school group the following Friday. Over $700 in bonds and stamps were bought by the high school boys and girls as Fred Pippin and Mitchell Duke auctioned off canned food, a chicken, sausage, pictures, comic books, candy, gum, etc.

Both the groups taking part in these rallies were very enthusiastic and responded splendidly.

Bond sales for the school reached the following totals:

High School	$3,039.29
Grammar School	1,376.55
Primary School	695.35
Total	$5,111.15

It was reported that more children participated in this 4th War Loan than previously. This is very encouraging we feel as it indicates an awareness of the need on the part of many who before did not take part.

SEVENTH GRADE 4-H CLUB

The 4-H Club met Feb. 1. The president called the meeting to order. After the secretary's report we had our program. The program was as follows:

Devotional, Sue Richards; Prayer, Peggy Richardson; Song, Dixie, Class; Vegetable Parade, 10 girls and boys; Book report, Stella Phillips; Song, America, Class.

After the program, our president assisted Mr. Park, our leader, in a demonstration. He showed us how to plant early gardens. He showed us what kind of soil to use and kinds of care for certain plants.

The meeting then adjourned until March 7.

Bobby Bridgers, reporter

Tuesday morning of this week we were glad to have Rev. Mark Osborne, Jr. speak to the high school group at their regular devotional period. Wayne Chambliee announced the program and presented Mr. Osborne. It is always

Bookmobile Notes 4th Perfect Year To Be Celebrated By Rotary Friday

Members of the Home Demonstration clubs throughout Wake county will be interested to know that the bookmobile carries a good many of the books approved as credit unit reading by Miss Ruth Current, State Home Agent. You club members who are reading for credit points as well as for pleasure and who would like to borrow books from the bookmobile may find out when and where the book truck stops in your community by reading the book notes in your local county paper or by listening to the announcement over the radio. The daily bookmobile schedule is broadcast over Station WRAL on the program, "Tempus Fugit," conducted by Fred Fletcher. Below is a list of a few of the books on your approved list which the bookmobile carries:

Slade by Warwick Deeping, Thunderhead by Mary O'Hara, Under Cover by John Roy Carlson, God is my Copilot by Robert Lee Scott, Mrs. Parkington, by Bromfield. Tomorrow is forever by Gwen Bristow. What happens when an only son goes to war in this latest book by Bristow, plus deep seated suspense and a swift pace make this quite as good as Deep Summer and The Handsome Road by this same author.

The Little Locksmith by Katherine Hathaway. The tender story of a girl who became a hunch-

Deputy Collector In Zebulon Soon

A Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue will be at the Post Office in Zebulon on Feb. 15, 16, 17, 1944 for the purpose of assisting taxpayers with the preparation of individual income tax returns for the year 1943. This service is given without charge and all who expect to require assistance are urged to see the Deputy Collector at this time. More time cannot be given to this locality due to the number of willing dates to be filled in other places.

Taxpapers are urged to have complete information available. This includes all items of gross income and deductions. Employees receiving a salary or wages must know the amount received during the year and the amount of tax withheld by the employer.

If you filed a return for the year 1942 you must know the amount of the tax as shown to be due on the return as well as what part of the tax was paid.

The fact that you requested the assistance of the Deputy Collector at this time does not necessarily mean that you must pay the tax due to the Deputy Collector. You may take your completed return and forward with remittance direct to the Collector of Internal Revenue in Greensboro so as to reach him not later than March 15.

FARM BUREAU MEET

The Farm Bureau will have a meeting at the Wakelon High School building Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Feb. 14. Mr. Weeks will be present and will explain the units that each farmer is required to make. The public is invited to attend.

a pleasure to the boys and girls to have the ministers of our community with us whenever possible.

Approximately 200 Rotarians and Rotary Anns, representing the 53 clubs in the 189th District from High Point to the coast, have accepted the invitations to come here Friday night to help the Zebulon club celebrate its fourth consecutive year of 100 per cent meetings.

Chartered May 8, 1929, the Zebulon club is credited with a notable record of achievement. In order to attain a four-year perfect attendance record, it has had to hold several meetings in the homes of sick members. One meeting was held in a hospital.

The entire membership of the Wendell and Clayton clubs will be represented at the Friday night meeting, and all other clubs in the district have been invited to send several representatives.

The speakers will include State Senator R. Gregg Cherry of Gastonia, the humorist; and District Governor Robert W. Madry of Chapel Hill. Gene Newsom, Durham, past international president, will speak if he can arrange to attend.

Seated at the speakers' table will be the four past district governors, under whose administration the perfect attendance record was made: Hal S. Orr, Rocky Mount; H. D. Jones, Graham; William B. Kiker, Reidsville, and Carter Darrow, Tarboro. Their Rotary Anns will also attend.

The celebration will get under way at the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock with Early H. Moser, president of the Zebulon Club, presiding. Vaiden Whitley of Zebulon will give the welcome, and Hugh A. Page, secretary of the Clayton Club, who organized the Zebulon Club, will respond.

Entertainment features will include skits by Woody Haynes and a group from Raleigh and vocal selections by Mrs. Luther M. Massey.

Senator Cherry is scheduled to speak on post-war planning which is being emphasized by Rotary's 7,000 clubs in more than 50 counties this year.

Dr. Luther M. Massey of the Zebulon club is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Mr. Mabry Whaley, who has been sick in Duke Hospital for the past six weeks, was released today. Mr. and Mrs. Whaley are coming to Zebulon to stay with Mrs. Hannah Liles for a while.

Osborne Accepts WPTF Position

Rev. Mark Osborne, local minister, has accepted a position with WPTF as an announcer and began his new work Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Mr. Osborne's hours will be from 2:30 to 9:30 p.m. each day. This is not his first experience in radio, as he was employed in the same capacity by another southern broadcasting station some years ago.

Correction

In the last issue of the Record the report of the Committee, Mrs. Willard Gill, stated that the total contribution from Zebulon for the Infantile Paralysis Campaign amounted to $153.59. This should have been $193.59, which is considerably more. Mrs. Gill did an unusual amount of work and her report shows probably the best offering ever made by the community for this object. Her work is highly appreciated by every one interested in child welfare and life.

It is said that this community gave more than any Wake County town except Raleigh.
