"BRAVE NEW WORLD"

Before V-Day, we heard the expression, "a brave new world," used continually. It beat on our ears until our nerves wore thin under its continual grating. We were almost ready to give up hoping for peace, if we should also have to face "a brave new world."

Now the post-war period, much talked-about by manufacturers as the day when a multitude of wonderful mechanized marvels would come on the market, is here. And the "brave new world" is just as so many expected—a world that is as filled with quarreling, selfish, distrustful nations as was the old one.

With the introduction of the war's most terrible and destructive weapon, the atomic bomb, hopes were aroused that at last the countries of the earth would wake up and see war as futile as it really is. The bomb, against which no defense has yet been developed, was to force the powers into cooperating toward a lasting peace. Hiroshima and Nagasaki were to be reminders of what could and would happen to lawless nations.

The United States should share the secrets of the atomic bomb with all of the United Nations. To do this will play a large part in doing away with any distrust that the Russians and others have in us. We will lose nothing, for it is only a matter of months before scientists all over the world will have searched out the secrets of the atom.

We should contribute to the United Nations Relief fund, but there should also be plenty of publicity given to the causes for which our money is being spent. We do not want to be looked upon as a great big Santa Claus, but rather as a nation with a heart.

These are only two of many things that must be done before we will have done our part in making our world safe for peace, and until these are done, we will never see "a brave new world."

CHURCH NEWS

church is asked to assemble to hear Pastor Griffin discuss the season's special meaning as given by Dr. Olin Binkley in his new book, "From Victory Unto Victory."

The special Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for foreign missions will be made during the time of observance. Envelopes will be furnished contributors.

GIFT REMINDER

Many in this community have responded generously to the call for helpers in making Christmas enjoyable for our soldiers in hospitals, especially at Camp Butner. This is a reminder to those who have meant to take part, but have not yet sent in their donations.

Mrs. Wallace Temple, chairman, must take to Raleigh all packages from this neighborhood. She asks that they be sent to her by December 4 in order that she may get them to headquarters in time for inclusion.

Mrs. Temple To Remain Chairman Local Red Cross

Pointing to the great increase in requests for Home Service since the end of the war, Raymond Snow, chairman of the Wake County Red Cross Chapter, has announced the appointment of a Home Service Committee to serve the local Red Cross chapter as a planning, policy-evaluating, advisory and organizing group. The local set-up, however, under Mrs. Wallace Temple, will not change.

Chairman of the committee will be Mrs. R. C. Hoffman, who has had considerable experience in Home Service work in the Wake Red Cross Chapter. Other members are: George A. Moore; J. L. Emanuel, Monseigneur J. L. Federal, Mrs. O. L. Ray, Lewis Conner, Mrs. A. C. Bulla, and Mrs. Nora E. Lockhart and Mrs. E. Logan, Negro members. Snow and Robena McLean, executive secretary of the Wake County Red Cross Chapter, are ex-officio members.

The need for such a committee has become acute since the end of the war, Snow said, because of a steady increase in calls for assistance in this field of Red Cross service. The Home Service field has become the most important phase of Wake County Red Cross activity as servicemen and their dependents seek aid in obtaining discharges, benefits, claims, guidance, and financial assistance.

Through its Home Service, Red Cross assists with emergency communication between servicemen and their families; supplies information concerning government regulations and legislation affecting servicemen, ex-servicemen, and their dependents; provides the armed forces with social histories; assists servicemen, veterans, and their dependents in applying for benefits and claims; offers consultation and guidance in personal and family problems to servicemen, ex-servicemen, and their dependents; gives financial assistance to servicemen, ex-servicemen, their dependents, and dependents of deceased servicemen within limitations of Red Cross regulations.

Miss Grace Coltrane

Miss Coltrane Honored As Pianist and Singer

By Carmen Poole Flowers

One of Zebulon's own girls who has made a name in the American field of music is Miss Grace Coltrane, the charming and talented daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Coltrane.

Miss Coltrane's musical career began at Wakelon School. Her last two years there she studied piano at Peace College in Raleigh under Miss Lovie Jones.

Miss Coltrane received her B. M. degree at the Greensboro College in piano and public school music. She studied piano, voice and pipe organ one year at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Massachusetts. She also studied two years in New York at the Juillard School of Music, graduating in voice.

A CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my overflowing gratitude to my many friends and loved ones for their kindness and sympathy shown during my recent illness. May heaven receive every one of you.

Mrs. Repsie McGee.

went to Louisville, Ky. She had one season with the San Carlo Opera Co.

She was a pupil of Estelle Liebling, who is famous for the many pupils who have made good under her direction, one of them being the famous coloratura, Galli-Curci.

Miss Coltrane was on several radio programs in New York, one of which was the Hour of Charm with the all-girl orchestra under the direction of Phil Spitalny.

For the past two years she has had radio work in San Francisco and has appeared with the San Francisco Opera Co. She has also appeared in opera in Sacramento, San Jose and many other California cities.

STANDING UP TO A BIG JOB

Long Distance has been busier than ever since V-J Day. There have been more calls—more rush calls—longer calls.

Service generally is good but there are more times when the lines get overcrowded. Then it's more important than ever to "please limit your call to 5 minutes" when the operator requests it.

We still haven't enough long distance telephone lines, but now that we can manufacture equipment for our own use, we are on our way to restoration of pre-war Bell System standards of service.
