

THE ZEBULON RECORD

Volume 24. Number 35

Zebulon, N. C., Friday, October 10, 1947

Theo. Davis Sons, Telephone 2561

Pictured are the fields of the Purina Mills feed farm near St. Louis, Missouri, which were visited recently by Eldred Rountree of Massey's Hatchery. The local man was the guest of the Missouri concern at a sales conference two weeks ago, and saw demonstrations of new methods of caring for poultry and livestock.

Carload of Beef Cattle to Be Sold Local Farmers This Fall

A carload of young heifers and steers will be shipped to Zebulon this fall for sale to local farmers, Bob Sawyer, chairman of the Beef Promotion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, announced last night.

Willie B. Hopkins Is Local Rotary Speaker; Discusses Town Service

Willie B. Hopkins spoke to a full house of Zebulon Rotarians Friday night, choosing as his subject "Community Service." Willie B. is community service chairman for the club, and knew from experience what main points should be brought out in his talk.

The Zebulon Boy Scout troop, which is sponsored by the Rotary Club, was lauded by the speaker for the good work it is doing among the boys in and around Zebulon. He chided the Rotarians, however, on their failure to work for the new hut for the troop.

A list of the various campaigns and drives sponsored by the club was named by the speaker, including the community chest.

George S. Ferrell Is Made Sergeant

George S. Ferrell, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buyrtie S. Ferrell, route 3, Zebulon, N. C., was promoted to sergeant recently at 15th Air Force headquarters, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Enlisting in the air force in May 1942, Ferrell graduated from the Altitude Training school, Topeka, Kans. and later served as an instructor of high altitude procedure for air crews at Salina, Kans.

Ferrell was discharged in January 1946 and he reenlisted last March for duty at 15th Air Force headquarters.

Zebulon Community Chest Drive To Begin Next Week, Says Hopkins

The drive for funds for the Community Chest will shift into high gear next week, Willie B. Hopkins, local chairman, announced today. Assistants and solicitors will be appointed this week and complete plans laid tonight for canvassing the town next week.

The Community Chest funds are divided among fourteen organizations, combining the plea for contributions into one united effort. In this community, the

The feeders will be sold at cost to farmers, who in turn will be asked to keep them until fall of 1948. The heifers, according to County Agent Reitzel, will prove more profitable if kept for breeding purposes, and their purchasers will be urged to use them as a foundation for large herds of beef cattle.

Mr. Reitzel stated yesterday that he expects to attend a meeting of the Beef Promotion Committee tonight in the Theo. Davis Sons Building, at which time plans will be made for financing the project, and reselling the cattle from the car.

The sale of these feeders will not be restricted to Wake County, the county agent said.

Samaria to Have Song Festival on October 19

The Samaria Baptist Church Song Festival will be held on the third Sunday afternoon, October 19, at 1:00 on the church grounds on highway 95, six miles each of Zebulon, L. A. Hagwood, festival chairman, announced today. The festival will feature outstanding quartettes, many of who sang in the Wilson and Benson Conventions.

To accommodate the large crowds expected, an amplifier will be installed with loud speakers both inside and outside the church.

The Royal and Woodall quartettes of Smithfield and the Friendly Four of Durham have already promised to participate, and groups from other towns are planning to enter the competition.

Boy Scouts are the main organization receiving Red Feather aid. The local chairman asked that when a solicitor calls upon the people in Zebulon, they respond with a generous contribution. All the work done by local people is altogether voluntary.

Goal for the local drive had not been announced by Raleigh this morning, but Willie B. expected to contact them today for full information on Zebulon's part in the drive.

County School Officials Hold Fall Meeting at Wakelon Yesterday

Large Premium List Published for Fair; Half-Holiday Tuesday

Premiums to be awarded for winning exhibits at North Carolina's State Fair will total nearly $25,000 and will be limited strictly to Tar Heel exhibitors, Dr. J. S. Dorton, director of the fair, has announced.

Last year most Zebulon farmers did not enter any of the fields open to them, although some prizes were taken locally for tobacco and swine. The Wakelon School booth at the fair, which comprised pictures of the federal lunchroom project made by Barrie Davis, won a $50 prize.

Total premiums, setting a new high record, will be about $6,000 above the $19,000 offered at the 1946 exposition. This year's fair is scheduled for October 14-18.

At the school committee meeting last night it was decided to give a half-holiday Tuesday at Wakelon School in order that students may take advantage of free tickets to the fair.

Principal Fred Smith said that school will end at 12:30 Tuesday. The fair tickets are now in his office.

PTA Executive Board Meets with President To Discuss Year's Plans

Work toward bringing the laboratory equipment of the science department of Wakelon School up to the desired standard was begun Tuesday night when the executive meeting of the Wakelon Parent-Teacher Association tentatively chose the purchase of $300 worth of laboratory equipments as the objective of the group for this school year. The meeting was held in the home of the P-TA president, Mrs. Jack Mitchell, at Glory.

The budget for the coming year was set up to include this purchase, along with Venetian blinds for the windows of the Home Economics department and financial assistance for first aid rooms for both the elementary and high school buildings.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. R. Vance Brown, was submitted to the executive board, showing $250.81 in the treasury. At the opening of school last year, the Association was in debt $60.

At the request of Mrs. Ida Hall, county health nurse, the board decided to recommend at the first membership meeting that the Association obtain five dozen "nightingales" for the use in the preschool clinic.

Attending the meeting with Mrs. Mitchell were Mrs. F. L. Page, Miss Mary Lacy Palmer, Miss Rebekah Talbert, and Marlin Quick of the Wakelon faculty, Mrs. A. S. Draughon, and Barrie Davis.

First membership meeting will be held October 21, Mrs. Mitchell announced. A membership drive, headed by Miss Talbert, will be conducted through the school children until that time. Dues this year are fifty cents.

Dr. D. B. Bryan, dean of Wake Forest College, and chairman of the Wake County Board of Education, who served as toastmaster at the banquet of the members of Wake district school committees at Wakelon School last night.

Wake Farmers Urged To Take Advantage Of Government Seed

In an effort to encourage farmers to seed permanent pastures, the Wake County AAA Committee has worked out an agreement where farmers can get pasture seed on grant of aid. Under this system the farmers will have to pay only a small part of the cost of seed. Ladino clover can be secured through the AAA Office at a cost to the farmer of 55 cents per pound, while the government pays $1.60. Orchard grass will cost the farmer 11 cents per pound and the government 15 cents. Red top grass will cost the farmer 6 cents and the government 20 cents.

Farmers are urged to take advantage of these pasture seed at once. Pastures should not be seeded later than October 30.

Supper to Be Served From Pearce School

Supper will be served as usual at the Pearce school building Saturday night, 6-7 o'clock.

The plates will consist of barbecue, slaw, stew, coffee and cake. Price 75c. All proceeds go for the church building fund.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Larby Perry, Mrs. Henry Kearney Baker and Mrs. Otha Upchurch and Mrs. Melvin Pearce.

Annual Harvest Days to Be Held At Watkins Chapel, Hales Chapel

Hales Chapel Church will have their Harvest Day Dinner consisting of basket lunches, barbecue and other good things to eat. The public is cordially invited Thursday, October 16.

The annual Harvest Day Sale will be observed in the Watkins Chapel Baptist Church, Emit, on Friday, October 24th. The Service of Worship and Dedication will begin at 11 a. m. in the church, with all former members and

Discussion Meetings, Banquet Held at Local School in Afternoon

Wakelon School was host yesterday to approximately 75 members of district school committees of Wake County, when the school board members met at 6:00 p. m. for forum discussions and held a banquet meeting at 7:15 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Members of the Zebulon school board met with their colleagues from Wendell and Wake Forest, and discussed major problems facing all three schools. Solutions to the problems, chief of which was absenteeism in the farm harvest season by the individual schools were discussed. Following these group meetings, a combined session was held in the school auditorium with County Superintendent Randolph Benton presiding, and recommendations were made by the recorders of each group meeting.

At the banquet, which was served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Dewey Massey and her lunchroom assistants, Dr. D. B. Bryan acted as toastmaster, and thanked local school patrons for their hospitality. He recognized other members of the Wake County Board of Education, including John Park, editor of The Raleigh Times; C. V. Whitley of Zebulon; and Tom Banks of Garner, district commander of the American Legion. Wakelon's participants in the fall school meeting included W. G. Temple, H. C. Wade, J. P. Gay, C. S. Chamblee, Ferd Davis, and Principal Fred Smith.

McMillan and Pickens To Speak to Legion

Two excellent speakers, R. L. McMillan and Wiley Pickens of Raleigh, have been obtained for the Ladies Night of the local American Legion Post Monday, October 20, according to Phil Whitley, program chairman.

McMillan is well known to local veterans, having consistently taken a prominent part in Legion activities. Pickens is the executive vice-commander of the State Department of the Legion.

A chicken barbecue supper will be served to members attending the meeting at the Legion Hut, Phil Bunn said yesterday. The supper meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:00 p. m., with the business meeting following.

Tom M. Freeman, supply pastor
