

Robert Mills Book Club Meets Here

Mrs. P. H. Massey and Mrs. Eleanor White were hostesses to members and guests of William Robert Mills Book Club on Tuesday evening, October 14th, in the home of Mrs. Massey. Beautiful fall flowers, attractively arranged, and the soft light of several lamps made a lovely setting for the program of the evening.

The program for the year's study is "Mexico" and Mrs. R. L. Eagles and Mrs. Numa Freeman gave two splendid papers on the Mexican People and Their Revolutions and Destiny. Mrs. L. M. Massey of Zebulon, accompanied by Charles Horton of Zebulon, sang "Make Believe" and "A Brown Bird Singing."

Special guests of the evening were Mesdames R. H. Herring, Exum Chamblee, Carlton Mitchell, L. M. Massey and Mr. Charles Horton of Zebulon, Mrs. Anna Partin of Enfield and Miss Ida Maie Yow of Louisburg.

Mrs. M. L. Rowland was welcomed into the club as a new member by the president, Mrs. R. B. Mitchell.

The hostesses, assisted by Miss Yow, served a delicious salad plate, coffee and mints.

Flowers Store Gets New Line of China

Dalmon Whitley, owner of Flowers Store in Zebulon, has increased the stock in the china department of his business until it now compares with like departments in the largest stores. Just this week he received a big shipment of chinaware, colorful and beautiful.

In addition to china, the department features an excellent line of what-nots and novelty items, both in glass and china.

Mrs. W. G. Temple Entertains Her Club

Mrs. Wallace Temple was hostess recently to members of the Friendly Nine Bridge Club and Mrs. Lois M. Wall and Mrs. George H. Temple were guests.

Following several progressions, high and low score awards were presented to Mrs. Armstrong Cannady and Mrs. Lois M. Wall.

Late in the evening the hostess served a dessert plate with sandwiches and coffee.
