

THE ZEBULON RECORD

Volume 24, Number 40

Zebulon, N. C., Friday, November 14, 1947

Theo. Davis Sons, Telephone 2561

Douglas "Peahead" Walker, coach of the Wake Forest football team, looks at a picture of himself in last week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post. The article was complimentary to both Walker and the boys from the north end of the county, who embarrassed the Eagles of Boston College by dumping them, 14-13, in front of representatives of both the Orange Bowl and the Sugar Bowl at Boston last Saturday.

Coltrane Gives Analysis of 1948 Corn, Wheat, Hay Feed Prospects

By D. S. COLTRANE, Assistant Commissioner
North Carolina Department of Agriculture

Facts on the nation's prospective short supply of feed for the 1947-48 feeding year now are fairly well established. Since Zebulon has a freezer locker plant and has just placed a number of beef cattle on farms in this area, these facts are of prime interest to all readers of the Record.

Catalogues for Poland China Hog Show Being Compiled by Chamber

Catalogues for the North Carolina Poland China Association's 1947 show, which will be held in Zebulon on Friday, December 12, are being compiled by Walter Kirby and P. M. Horton of the Poland China group, and C. V. Whitley and Barrie Davis of the Chamber of Commerce.

The booklets will contain pictures of the hogs at auction and also scenes of Zebulon, including the business section and the school. Cost of the printing will be defrayed by sale of advertising in the catalogues.

Kirby and Horton both said Sunday that prospects for a successful show had never looked better. Buyers are expected from North and South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, and Iowa.

Less feed per animal—particularly hogs, beef cattle and sheep—will form the general trend in livestock feeding for the feeding year (October 1947-September 1948). The reduced corn crop this year will be largely responsible for the smaller supply, although the oats and grain sorghum crops are also below 1946.

The latest calculation shows that 113,363,000 tons of concentrate feeds (grains, meal feeds, and high protein feeds) will be needed by the probable animal and poultry population at the estimated rates of feeding. This compares with an available supply of 107,589,000 tons after allowing for a practical carryover of 10,000,000 tons of feed grains into the next feeding year.

Additional requirements will total 868,000 tons of alfalfa meal and 532,000 tons of bone meal.

The total need for grain concentrates and meal feed is 102,230,000 tons. Available for feed are 97,090,000 tons. (Continued on Page 8)

Wakelon to Return to Eleven-Man Football Next Year, Says Principal

Although six-man football has received much favorable publicity of late, Wakelon School will give up the game in favor of conventional eleven-man football in 1948, Principal Fred Smith said Monday.

"I am convinced that we can field a good team," the Wakelon principal stated, "and we can also come nearer financing the sport with gate receipts."

Attendance at Wakelon's home games thus far this season has been light, and gate receipts have been negligible. Last year under Coach Roy Lowry gate receipts were also small, although attendance was greater than this year. Wakelon has lost four, won none this season.

Meanwhile the Southern Pines six-man team, developed by A. C. Dawson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dawson of Zebulon, met the Lowes Groves sextet from Durham County on Wednesday of this week for the eastern championship.

Governor Cherry recently attended a six-man game at the resort town, and came away impressed with the sport's possibilities for the smaller schools of North Carolina in particular.

Wakelon Leads County Schools In Books for Europe Campaign

F. H. Jeter Addresses Zebulon Farm Bureau; Shaw Sends Greetings

E. H. Moser, president of the Zebulon Farm Bureau, told members of the local unit at their November meeting Monday night at Wakelon School that he expects the organization to reach its Zebulon quota by the end of this week. Membership November 3 was 373, and the 1948 quota is 550.

Frank Jeter, editor of the State College Extension Service News, was the featured speaker at the Monday meeting. Other business, taken up before his speech, consisted of nomination of officers to be elected at next month's meeting, and selection of delegates to the state convention. The complete list of nominees will be given in next week's issue of the Record.

In connection with the membership drive, the following letter by R. Flake Shaw was made public by D. D. Chamblee, secretary of the Zebulon Farm Bureau:

Beginning with 1943, 14 basic laws have been written affecting the national farm program. These laws expire in 1948 and a new program will have to be written.

Through the many county, state and national Farm Bureaus many of these laws were substantially supported and without the help of these groups, they might not (Continued on Page 2)

Former Governor J. M. Broughton, one-time judge of the Zebulon Records Court, announced his candidacy for the United States Senate last week.

Vic Huggins to Speak On 1948 Rotary Plans At Local Club Tonight

Members of the Zebulon Rotary Club will hear Vic Huggins of Chapel Hill, governor of the 189th District of Rotary International, tell of his plans for the 1947-48 Rotary year tonight at the Woman's Club.

Huggins, a hardware dealer, made an informal talk some weeks ago at the local club, when Zebulon Rotarians were hosts to the club service chairmen of the clubs of their district. This visit by the district governor will be his formal call for the year.

Sidney Eddins, program chairman, led an open forum discussion at the local club last Friday night, and produced one of the most interesting programs of the fall. Each Rotarian was given an opportunity to speak on his pet project—many of them did speak.

Participating in the discussion were E. H. Moser, who spoke on the Farm Bureau; C. V. Whitley, Chamber of Commerce; Dr. L. M. Massey, need for better telephone service; Fred Smith, progress of the Books for Europe campaign in the Wakelon School; Willie B. Hopkins, Community Chest drive; Armstrong Cannady, street signs; and Sidney Eddins, need for more support of Scouting by the sponsoring organization.

The supper was served by Mesdames Ralph Talton, Howard Beck, Fred Beck and Rodney McNabb.

School Children Gather Over Fifteen Thousand Books for First Prize

School children of Wakelon, working under the direction of Principal Fred Smith, led the 43 rural schools of Wake County in collection of books for shipment overseas to war-devastated sections of Europe.

The local school turned in 15,758 books and magazines for an average of 20.8 units for each of 735 students to nose out Wendell, where 11,994 books were collected from 581 students for an average of 20.6 units per pupil. By taking first place in the county, the local school won $75.00 worth of classroom maps offered by the Southern School Supply Company of Raleigh. The Wendell School won a $25.00 dictionary offered by James E. Thiem.

Wakelon class, turning in 1823 acceptable books and magazines. They were topped, however, by Miss Lessie Richardson's seventh grade in Wendell, which collected 3,763 units to take to the individual grade first prize of a globe, offered by Alfred Williams, Jr.

Each grade will receive a $5.00 cash prize offered by Ferd Davis, county chairman of the drive, as will Mrs. Wilcox's seventh grade at the Shepard School in Zebulon. Principal Fred Smith also gave a (Continued on Page 5)

Local Men Participate In NCEA Convention At Raleigh Yesterday

A. C. Dawson, Jr., of Southern Pines, formerly of Zebulon, gave the address of welcome to the fall meeting of the North Carolina Education Association, held in Raleigh yesterday.

Dawson, vice president of the state organization, has become executive head of the group in all except name since the recent scandal involving the president, R. L. Fritz of Caldwell County. The former local resident has made a fine name for himself in school affairs, and is at present principal of the Southern Pines school.

Ottis Freeman, principal of the Corinth-Holders School, also took a prominent part in yesterday's meeting, where he presided over a North Central Divisional meeting of principals.

All Beef Cattle Shipped Into Community Placed On Farms, Sawyer Says

All beef cattle shipped from western North Carolina to the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce have been placed or disposed of, J. R. Sawyer, chairman of the Beef Promotion Committee of the local organization, said this week.

"We have had very good luck in placing these cattle," Sawyer declared. "Almost every farmer took his allocation, and in some cases farmers took more than the number they agreed to accept. Altogether we placed 37 of 38 head, and we would have placed the other one, had it not been necessary to slaughter it."

Sawyer stated that he felt the success of the beef promotion drive would help cushion the loss of income predicted for tobacco farmers next year because of acreage cuts. He expressed gratitude for the efforts of C. V. Whitley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Ralph Talton, County Agent J. L. Reitzel, and Agriculture Instructor Ed Ellington in making the cattle placement campaign a success.

Hopkins Chapel Church Holds Barbecue Today

Hopkins Chapel Church will have a barbecue supper today to raise money for the church repair fund. The menu will feature a choice of pig or chicken barbecue, and plates will sell for $1.00.

The meal will be served in the building formerly occupied by the J. G. Bunn store at Hopkins Cross Roads from 4:30 this afternoon until 10:30 tonight.

Allen Cawthorne Finds Himself Two Years Ahead of Detroit's Builders

Zebulon once more has found itself years ahead of a larger town. In this instance the time amounts to some two years, and the larger town is Detroit.

Many Zebulon residents have read the full-page advertisements of the Nash Motor Company in recent issues of Time and Newsweek telling of the new Nash all-welded bodies, but few know that Allen Cawthorne has been building automobiles that same way since early 1945.

Allen specializes in taking the chassis of a wrecked automobile, rebuilding the engine, and then welding a new body to the chassis.

One of the first cars he used this technique on was the Ford convertible owned by Sprite Barbee, apparently damaged beyond repair when a train struck the car. Allen began work on it, and did so well that he's been welding ever since.

More recently he cut a ton-and-a-half truck belonging to Eugene Jones in two and lengthened it, thereby making a three-ton truck.

"I'm not smarter than those guys in Detroit," Allen allows. "I'm just faster on the draw!"
