County Red Cross Worker Resigns Job

The resignation of Miss Roberta Enloe, director of the Home Service of the Wake County Red Cross Chapter, has been announced by Mrs. Robert C. Walker, executive secretary of the Chapter.

Miss Enloe, a native of Franklin and a graduate in social service of the University of North Carolina, has served as Home Service Director of the Wake County Chapter since 1944.

Her resignation was occasioned by illness in her family, and she expects to resume Red Cross work when the emergency has passed.

Parent-Teacher Association Hears Teacher Welfare Panel Discussion

The Wakelon School Parent-Teacher Association had the liveliest program in its history Monday night, when six panel discussion members and a chairman talked about teacher welfare on the stage of the Wakelon auditorium.

All members of the panel, which included Vester Brantley, a member of the State College faculty, Ralph Talton, manager of the Zebulon office of the Carolina Power & Light Company, T. Y. Baker, Jr., official of the N. C. Department of the American Legion, Mrs. Howard Beck, Mrs. A. S. Hinton, and Mrs. Garland Godwin, with Ferd Davis as discussion chairman, spoke with frankness, and kept the audience amused and interested throughout the discussion.

Principal Fred Smith presided at the meeting in the absence of the PTA president, Mrs. Jack Mitchell. At the business session the group decided to hold a Dad's night in December, and voted to sponsor collection of funds to refurbish the high school laboratory.

1927 Bales Cotton Ginned by Nov. 1

Nearly 300 more bales of cotton have been ginned up to Nov. 1 of 1947 than there were up to the same date last year, George H. Scarborough, special agent, announced yesterday.

Census report shows that 1927 bales of cotton were ginned in Wake County during that period from the crop of 1947 as compared with 1662 bales for the crop of 1946.

Wakelon Drops Game To Bethesda in Final Six-Man Football Play

The Wakelon Bulldogs went down fighting before the hard-charging Bethesda sextet last Friday to lose their last game of the season, 25-12. Unable to hold the wide end runs of the Bethesda boys in check, Wakelon took advantage of the winners' fumbles to stay in the game.

Bethesda scored twice in the second quarter to lead 13-0, but the Bulldogs uncorked their passing attack to score near the end of the half on a pass from Bill "Sam" Brantley to Jimmie Greene.

Bethesda scored in each of the final periods to increase the lead to 25-6. In the final minute of the game, Bill Brantley tossed a pass to Bobby Bridgers just past the line of scrimmage. Without any interference, Bridgers dodged through the Bethesda secondary to score standing up. The play was good for 16 yards.

Bill Brantley, switched to center on defense, was best for Wakelon in this department, and Bobby Bridgers broken field running was the highlight of the Wakelon offense.

Scout Plans for 1948 Announced Here; Four Patrols Serve Zebulon

The Zebulon Boy Scouts met Monday night in the Scout Hut, with about 25 boys present, including several visitors. The patrol leaders led the group in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance, the Scout Oath and the Scout Laws.

Plans were made for the trip to the Occoneechee Council Court of Honor in Raleigh, and the troop plans to charter a bus for the occasion.

A return match between the Wolf and Rattlesnake Patrols in tag football will be played Sunday afternoon at 2:00 on the Wakelon field. In their first game, the Wolves topped the Rattlesnakes, 8-0.

Woman's Club Hears Address by Minister

The Senior Woman's Club met Tuesday afternoon in the club house with Mrs. R. H. Herring presiding in the absence of Mrs. F. L. Page.

Mrs. B. H. Johnson, program chairman for November, presented Rev. Carlton Mitchell, who made a talk on the "American Home."

Mrs. Dunnegan, piano teacher at Wakelon School, presented two of her pupils, Laura James Sexton and Willie Brannan, who played two solos. Mrs. Carlton Mitchell sang a solo.

An appeal was made by Mrs. Foster Finch, for the club to contribute gifts for Wake County servicemen who are either in the hospital or on the high seas, and who have no relatives to send them gifts.

Mrs. Exum Chamblee is selling Christmas cards, in order to raise money for the club.

Makes Talk Here

Vic Huggins of Chapel Hill, district governor of Rotary, addressed the Zebulon Rotary Club last week, and met in executive session with the club's directors Friday night.

This visit was the second made to Zebulon by Huggins this fall.

Local Woman's Club Will Send Christmas Boxes to Servicemen

Members of the Woman's Club have been called on again this year to donate boxes for the veterans still in government hospitals. The packages may be prepared with the donor's name inside, if it is desired. On the outside of the box "Zebulon Woman's Club" should be printed and a list of the contents of the box attached.

Suggested gifts for the boxes include shaving cream, chewing gum, toilet articles, playing cards, stationery, pencils, pens, sewing kits with a variety of buttons, wash clothes, towels, etc.

The boxes should be given to Mrs. Foster Finch by November 23 so that they will be ready in time for shipment.

Mrs. Fred Page, president of the Woman's Club said that "the boys remembered us then so let us always remember them."

P. M. Horton Combines December Sale with Local Poland China Show

P. M. Horton of Zebulon, Route 4, proprietor of the Fall Branch Poland China Farm at which he maintains one of the finest herds of hogs in the United States, has announced that he will combine his December hog sale with the N. C. Poland China Breeders Association fall showing in Zebulon December 12.

The sales, which became an annual event when Horton began it in 1939, was widely attended by both Tar Heel and out-of-state

Hopkins Cites Brown, Massey, Schools' Aid In Successful Campaign

Willie B. Hopkins, chairman of the Zebulon division of the Raleigh-Wake County Community Chest campaign, stated yesterday that the local drive went over the top this week with the reporting of approximately $150.00 in contributions from Garland Crews, principal of the Shepard Colored School.

Previous reports had carried the total to $850, and the Shepard contributions swelled the amount to $1,002—two dollars more than the local quota.

"We were both pleased and surprised that Zebulon reached its quota so promptly," Hopkins said, "especially since we failed to attain our quota last year, and people generally have less money this fall. All of the chest workers' deserve commendation, especially Vance Brown and G. C. Massey."

Hopkins also cited good work of local schools.

The colored school now is sponsoring a traveling minstrel show, which plans to turn over its profits to the county chest fund, since the Raleigh-Wake quota still lacks several thousand dollars of being reached.

Farm Bureau President Tells of Barbecue Set For December Meeting

We are mailing out this week to all paid up members, invitations to the Zebulon Farm Bureau supper, to be held Tuesday evening, December 9, in the Wakelon Gymnasium at 6 o'clock.

You will find attached to this invitation a return post-card addressed to Robert Ed Horton. Please indicate whether to reserve one plate or two plates for you and your wife.

It is necessary that we receive these return cards by November 30, in order that we may know how many to plan for.

If you have not paid your membership dues for this year, and want to be in on the barbecue, see Robert Ed. Horton, D. D. Chamblee, or John H. Ihrie before the first of December, and get yourself in good standing for the barbecue.

The high price of hogs makes it imperative that we plan the barbecue for members and their wives only.

E. H. Moser, President
