Zebulon Town Board Receives Novel Dump Use Proposal Monday

A proposal from Robert Eddins that he be permitted to fence in the town dump and grow hogs there was brought before the Zebulon Board of Commissioners at their June meeting Monday night. The commissioners and Mayor R. H. Bridgers discussed the plan at length, and finally voted to permit the use of the dump for growing hogs provided no complaints are received from the citizens of the town.

Eddins proposed to build a fence around the dump and install a gate which will automatically open and shut when the trash truck approaches and passes on through. He estimated that he can grow a dozen hogs on the refuse.

The need of water and sewer service for Lee Street from Arendell Avenue to Wakefield Street was discussed. Although it is outside town, W. A. Allman has a house under construction on the north side of the street. Other houses are planned by Craven Brown and Home Builders Corp.

Chief of Police W. B. Hopkins stated that residents of Barbee Street are reporting an improvement in the water supply. The main along this street is lower than any other in town and sediment accumulated from years of use settled in this line, causing inconvenience for water users. Since the deep wells have been in operation, however, this condition has improved.

Present at the meeting besides the Mayor and the Chief of Police were Commissioners R. Vance Brown, Norman Screws, Howard Beck, Bob Sawyer, and Barrie Davis.
