Why are public banking hours short?

Much of a bank's work must be done before the doors are opened each day and after they have been shut. For instance, here are some of the jobs to be done: opening the vault, supplying tellers with cash, distributing mail, proving cash, making up the balance sheet, sending out-of-town checks for collection, to mention a few. In short, public banking hours are as long as may be necessary to serve the community efficiently.
