

Line Up the Bachelors

Mr. Barrie S. Davis,
The Zebulon Record,
Zebulon, N. C.

I say Ole Boy, I didn't see your name in your little article, "Line Up the Bachelors." Why didn't I?

While I'm at it (the typewriter),
I have a few more you could add,
AND as a benefit to the unwed ladies, where they (the men) can be found some hours of the day.
They are:

Herbert "Bill" Perry (Zeb. Drug Co.)

Wilber Driver (City Market)
James "Jimmy Wiggs" (Wakelon Theater)

Needem Earl Horton (at home, I S'POSE)

Bobby Ross Eddins (home, too)
Monroe Jones (Army)

And last, but not least, Barrie S. Davis (Record office)

Just for safety's sake, I'll give no name.

Yours truly,
A reader of The Zebulon Record

Well, here's more material for the gals to mess around with. The folks are sort of helping us along in compiling names. According to our rules, a guy ain't eligible unless he's spent at least 21 years free of the bonds of wedlock, so it could be that some of the names listed above don't belong in the line-up. Somebody check on them for us.

cooked so it pays to prepare it carefully. A wax preparation to add when making up starch is on the market which helps prevent sticking and makes ironing easier.

Some experienced housewives believe that adding salt to the starch mixture helps keep it from sticking, perhaps because the salt raises the temperature of the mixture and thus aids thorough cooking.

Re-cover your ironing board less frequently by dipping new cover in cold starch and tacking it on while damp. It dries tight, smooth, and stays clean longer.

STARCH ON THE IRON: Starched clothes are indirectly to blame for scars on many a hand iron, household equipment specialists say. When starch sticks and scorches on the hot iron, there's a temptation to catch it off with a knife or any other sharp utensil handy. The result is likely to be permanent scratches on the plate of the iron. Once scratched the iron may catch on fabrics and pull threads.

There are several simple ways to remove starch without damage to the iron. If the iron is hot, do it this way: Shake salt on a piece of paper and rub the iron back and forth over the salt until the starch rubs off. From a cool iron starch may be removed by scouring with very fine steel wool or with a moist cloth dipped in fine scouring powder. Sometimes just rubbing with a moist cloth will do the job.

As a prevention against sticking starch, rub a little beeswax or paraffin frequently over the hot surface of the iron. Well-cooked starch is less likely to stick than starch which is not thoroughly
