This certificate is your assurance that the salesgirl attending you is a trained beauty consultant, qualified by The Cosmetic School of Beauty Fashion to give you expert advice on your beauty problems and cosmetic needs.

Mrs. Peggy Lewis, employee of Zebulon Drug Company, has completed an eight-week training course entitling her to serve as a beauty consultant certified by the Cosmetic School of Beauty Fashion, it was announced this week.

Admission to the nationally known school is restricted to women experienced in selling cosmetics. High marks on final examinations are required in order to qualify for a certificate.

The training enables consultants to offer advice on proper use of cosmetics and solving individual beauty problems. Mrs. Lewis' work as clerk in the Zebulon Drug Company qualified her to enter the school, which was sponsored in the State by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association.
