REPUBLICAN WAITS FOR DEPRESSION

Mr. Arthur Ferrell, rock-ribbed Republican, knew things were going to be bad if the derved Democrats stayed in the White House, but he didn't realize just how bad. Having to close the White House for repairs was bad enough, but having to change his own tire is even worse. Here he is pictured in front of Link Cox's Puroil Service Station saving 25c by changing the tire himself. Norman Screws who took the picture reports Mr. Arthur said he is saving that money for the hard times that are sure to come.

medical care offered there at the Fayetteville hospital.

"I have had to spend a lot of time in hospitals," Privette, a totally disabled veteran of World War I, declared, "but I have never seen any other unit so well equipped or with such courteous and considerate personnel, from the chief surgeon down through the nurses and ward attendants."

"Every veteran should be advised of the facilities there," he continued, "because it may be the means of saving a life—and certainly it will save each man who is hospitalized a great deal of money. The government is providing these services for its veterans, and they should be utilized by residents of this community whenever possible."
