MOTHER, DAUGHTER PAINT UP

Sherry Hulfish, of Alexandria, Virginia, is following in her mother's footsteps when she takes her paint brush in hand. Here, Sherry and Polly Hulfish engage in a mother-and-daughter project. In the lower picture, Miss Hulfish, who is five, stands before the record player, created from an old washstand by her mother and decorated to add beauty to Sherry's room.

Attention Being Focussed on Work Of Home Demonstration Women

"The Home — Basis of a Better World" is the theme for National Home Demonstration Week in North Carolina, April 30-May 6. During this special week attention is being focused on what 63,242 home demonstration club women in the State are doing to improve their homes and keep their families well. At the same time, home demonstration members are broadening their horizons and developing a better understanding of national and international affairs in every state, Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico.

2,050 H. D. Clubs

In the 2,050 communities in North Carolina where home demonstration clubs are organized, women are celebrating the week with country-wide meetings, tours to improved homes, demonstrations, exhibits, newspaper articles, and radio broadcasts. According to Miss Verna Stanton, assistant State home agent for the State College

Extension Service, community "Home Demonstration Days" are being held to recognize the 32,264 leaders for their contribution to the development of better homes and community life. Other activities are pointing up achievements as rural women hold open house across the State.

Small Beginning

From a small beginning in 1911, the home demonstration program in North Carolina has grown to an organization covering all of the 100 counties. This broad program features good home management, nutrition, food production and preservation, home furnishings and color arrangements, family relations, clothing for the family, citizenship, music appreciation, good reading, community activities, and many other interests of rural families.

"Better informed, healthier and happier rural people are important assets to our democracy," says Miss Stanton. "Rural people will continue to work toward these vital objectives as they improve their homes and community life, which form the basis of a better world."

Miss Becky Talbert Speaks to Rotarians

The wonderful work being carried on in the special education class at Wakelon was described by Miss Rebekah Talbert at the Rotary meeting Friday night. The teacher told of the remarkable improvement in many of her pupils which more than justify the expense of such classes.

At the end of her talk, Miss Talbert answered questions from the Rotarians, who were deeply interested in her work.

Charles Flowers, Jr. Accepts NYU Work

Dr. Charles Flowers, Jr., who has returned from the Boston Lying in Hospital to Johns Hopkins, has accepted an Associate Professorship of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the New York Medical School. He will begin this work on October 1.

Blockleaders Are Named For Local Sunday School

Blockleaders for Sunday School promotional work were named at a meeting of the Zebulon Baptist Sunday School Council last Wednesday night by James Alford and Ralph Bunn, membership leaders. Dr. L. M. Massey presided at the meeting, and Rev. Carlton Mitchell made a brief inspirational talk.

The blockleaders, who are charged with promotion of Sunday School attendance, include Mesdames Thurman Murray, Hazel Beck, R. H. Herring, Garland Godwin, W. A. Allman, Mary Peoples, W. G. Temple, R. H. Brantley, Haywood Jones, Worth Hinton,

Plentiful Foods Are Listed; Pork, Eggs In Least Demand

The U. S. Department of Agriculture issued its monthly list of Southern plentiful foods this week, and Mrs. Maude McInnes, home demonstration agent for the State College Extension Service, said May food markets will feature excellent supplies of pork and pork products, eggs, and carrots.

Nationally, there are more chickens on farms this May than last year, and egg production for the month may show a substantial increase, Mrs. McInnes said. In addition, the fall crop of pigs is now going to market. Plentiful supplies of carrots, in third place on the list, will come mostly from California and Arizona during the next 30 days. The Arizona crop this season is reported about 12 per cent greater than last year.

Other Vegetables

Other vegetables listed as May plentifuls are cabbage, onions, Irish potatoes, lettuce, canned corn, and canned lima beans.

Broilers, fryers, hens, manufactured dairy products, fish, dry beans and peas, and peanut butter will be plentiful in May. All are recommended by USDA nutritionists as excellent sources of proteins, the home agent said.

Fresh fruits are missing from the list for this month, Mrs. McInnes said, but she emphasized that raisins, prunes, and canned peaches are abundant.

Delegation Is Chosen For Triennial Meeting

Names of North Carolina's five delegates to the sixth triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World, which convenes in Copenhagen, Denmark, on September 9, were announced this week by Miss Verna Stanton, assistant State home demonstration agent for the State College Extension Service.

They are: Mrs. J. S. Gray, Route 2, Franklin, president of the State Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs; Mrs. P. P. Gregory, Shawboro, first vice-president; Mrs. W. K. Cuyler, Route 1, Durham; Mrs. H. D. Webber, Catawba; and Mrs. Norman Johnston, Route 2, Benson, chairman of the Federation's Jane S. McKimmon Loan Fund.

Sail August 18

The delegation will sail from New York around August 18. Some of the group will tour France, Italy, Switzerland, and Germany before the conference. Others will make a short tour at the conclusion of the conference.

Sessions will be held in Rigsdagen (the Danish parliament), Christiansborg, Copenhagen. Mrs. Raymond Sayre, Ackworth, Iowa, is president of the Associated Country Women and will preside at the general sessions.

Lions Club to Hear District Governor Day

District Governor Louis K. Day will be the principal speaker at the Lions Club meeting Thursday night, May 5, at 7:30 in the recreation room of the Zebulon Methodist Church.

Lion Louis Day is an interesting speaker who always brings a message of importance. Every member of the Zebulon Club is urged to hear him at this week's supper meeting.

SPRING STYLE

Bright new fashions are blossoming with the arrival of spring. One of the outstanding new cottons this season is a harlequin plaid sundress in green and lilac gingham by Gale and Lord. The National Cotton Council reports that colorful plaid cottons will be among the most popular fashion fabrics this spring and summer.

Dr. Massey Named Officer by Executives

Dr. L. M. Massey of Zebulon has been named vice president of the Executives Club of Raleigh. Massey was elected at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Club. Col. John W. Harrelson, chancellor of State College, was named president.

The Executives Club was organized in Raleigh five years ago and membership is limited to 200 business executives and professional men in Raleigh and Wake County. Dr. Massey has been a member of the club for several years.

Dr. Massey will be inducted into office at the next meeting of the club on Tuesday evening, May 9, at which time Carlos Fallon of South America will speak.

Successful Tourney Held by Local PTA

The finance committee of the Parent Teacher Association wishes to thank all of those who contributed in any way to the success of the bridge tournament Saturday night. A total of $87.25 was cleared, which will be used to purchase material for the special education class at Wakelon, according to Mrs. Garland Godwin, tournament director.

National Guard Battery Plans for Summer Camp

With the date for summer maneuvers only two months off, Battery A, 113 Field Artillery Battalion, continued its intensive training last night under the direction of Lts. Philip Pearce and William Shore, and First Sergeant Sidney Holmes.

A class was held for the non-commissioned officers following the regular drill, and Capt. Barrie Davis told the non-coms of plans for combined section training which will be conducted during two full drills this month.

Zebulon Democrats Name Delegates; Reelect Committee

Zebulon's Democratic voters, meeting at the fire station at 2:00 p. m. last Saturday afternoon, re-elected Mrs. Irby Gill as chairman of the precinct executive committee, and continued in office the four other committee members selected two years ago.

Other committee members are Raleigh Alford, vice chairman, Willie B. Hopkins, G. C. Massey, and W. B. Bunn.

Delegates to the Wake County Democratic Convention, scheduled for noon next Saturday in the courthouse at Raleigh, were elected at the precinct meeting April 29. Zebulon, on the basis of the vote cast in the presidential election two years ago, is entitled to 37 delegates.

Scouts Hold Meeting, Plan Summer Trips

Members of the Explorer Unit of the Zebulon Scouts camped Saturday night on the banks of Little River near the Roy Joyner home. No casualties and a whole lot of fun was reported by the campers.

The Boy Scouts will hold their regular meeting tonight in the Scout Hut. The work has been ably supervised by Scoutmaster Gordan Temple, assisted by Craven Brown, J. P. Arnold, and Harry Patton.

Trips Are Planned

Trips to the state parks at Cliffs of Neuse near Goldsboro, Morrow Mountain near Albemarle, and Hanging Rock north of Winston-Salem are being scheduled for Scouts and Explorer Scouts who meet troop requirements for achievement and advancement, Scoutmaster Temple said.

The Cliffs of Neuse trip will probably be taken before school closes, with the others being made in June and July, he stated.
