Battery A Begins Final Preparation For July Training

One more drill remains before Battery A, 113 Field Artillery Battalion, will enroute for Fort Jackson, South Carolina, and the remaining drill, like last night's meeting, will be devoted to combined sections training, with every man in the battery participating in working a problem outside the armory.

The news that First Sergeant Sidney Holmes has received permission to attend the 15-day encampment was happily received last week. Sgt. Holmes is the only combat veteran with artillery experience in the battery.

Second Section

A second firing section will be trained during the coming two weeks to man one of the two additional guns received by the National Guard unit last week. This training will necessitate additional drills for the cannoneers.

A special effort will be made during the coming week to recruit four men to bring the strength of Battery A up to its authorized number, WOJg Clifford Gilliam stated. He urged men 17 years old and over to contact him at once, if they can attend maneuvers.

Facilities Available

Last week Mr. Gilliam read a list of the facilities available for the men at Fort Jackson. These included two golf courses, swimming pools, lighted ball fields, a club, and Post Exchange. Except while on the three-day field problem during the second week, the men will be off duty each day at 4:00 p. m. They will be off at noon on the first Saturday and will not have to report back for duty until Sunday night.

Sgt. Gordon Temple, manager of the National Guard softball team, announced that he will enter this group in competition for the 30th Division Championship at Fort Jackson.

Corn Hybrids Produce Fine Yield of Silage

Tests conducted during the past two years at Willard, Statesville, Waynesville, and Laurel Springs show that corn hybrids that are popular in North Carolina for grain will produce as much tonnage of silage per acre as will open pollinated varieties such as Eureka and Pamunkey, the Agricultural Experiment Station reported this week.

"It's not the size of the man in the fight, but the size of the fight in the man."

The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time. — Thomas Jefferson

Willard Gill declared that he didn't believe either candidate changed many votes last Saturday, at least in Zebulon. He agreed with us that a good rain would have helped Zebulon more than the visits of Graham and Smith, although like many other local

Recreation Program Set For Thursday; Women, Cub Scouts Organized

Zebulon's summer recreational program will begin at the Wakelon athletic field next Thursday morning, June 22, at 9 o'clock, Recreational Director Lee Rhodes has announced. The program will be continued each day, Monday through Friday, from 9 to 12 in the morning, 3 to 5 in the afternoons, and 6:30 to 8:30 in the evenings.

"We are expecting to have a successful season," Mr. Rhodes declared. "We will always have several adult helpers as well as Mr. Appenzeller and myself to assist in supervising activities. The morning and afternoon activities are primarily for the younger children, and the evening hours are intended for adults and teenagers."

The recreational program, Mr. Rhodes emphasized, is intended for every age group. Activities already planned include volleyball, basketball, softball, horseshoe pitching, badminton, and storytelling. Other games and activities will be added as the summer program advances.

Successful Season

"We are looking forward to a successful season," Mr. Rhodes concluded. "But we can attain success only through continued cooperation of the citizenry and by everyone taking an active part."
