1950 Fat Stock Show to Be Held On September 27; Sale to Follow

The Fat Stock Show, held last year as a sort of experiment, proved to be so successful that the Wendell Chamber of Commerce decided to make it an annual affair.

Feed dealers, livestock specialists, and buyers for the packing companies, all agreed that the 1949 show sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, was well worth making an annual event.

Planned primarily to encourage farmers in this area to raise more livestock for sale as another source of farm income, the show has proved to be a source of entertainment and education.

The 1950 show will be held on September 27, and the sale of the animals will be held the following day. These dates fall on Wednesday and Thursday.

Committees for the 1950 show are as follows:

Entry: Marsh Knott, Frank Jessup, Rocky Mount, Bill Scarborough, Raleigh, and Jack Kelly, Swine Specialist, of N. C. State College.

Also to be held in connection with the 1950 show will be a type judging contest under the direction of the vocational teachers of the four schools above.

According to E. H. Moser, Secretary of the Wendell Chamber of Commerce, the 1950 show will be twice the size of the 1949 show.

RUTH CURRENT:

Hints for Homemakers

Sunshine is one of the best and safest bleaches for white clothes after laundering. Likewise, it often fades colors. It may have just the opposite effect on some common stains; so cautions must be taken, says clothing specialists.

The heat of strong summer sun may set and darken stains, such as those from cherries, peaches, pears, plums, soft drinks or the mustard served on hot dogs. Play clothes, sunsuits, house dresses or aprons, even bathing suits worn at picnics, may be permanently marked by exposing such stains to the sun.

Chemists say such stains should be given first aid immediately by sponging with cold water while they are fresh and moist. If any traces of the stain remain, they may be treated at home by rubbing glycerine or soapless shampoo into the stain, then sponging with cool water. Sometimes it helps to apply a few drops of vinegar to the stain after the glycerine or shampoo treatment, rinsing thoroughly afterward with cool water. Never use soap or heat until the stain has disappeared.

Calcium is one of the chief minerals in bones and teeth, say nutrition specialists. About 22 per cent of the calcium in the body is used for framework. Small but important, the other 1 per cent remains in body fluids, such as blood. Without this calcium, muscles can't contract and relax, and nerves can't carry their messages. For calcium to be used properly, other substances are needed in right quantities — vitamin D and phosphorus, for example. The best food for calcium is milk. The body can hardly get enough calcium without using a good deal of milk in some form. Next best foods for calcium are some of the leafy vegetables, but these should not be over-cooked.

Power Company Serves 100,000 Rural Customers

One hundred thousand farm and rural customers now are being furnished electricity in the Carolinas by Carolina Power and Light Company, Ralph Talton, manager of the Carolina Power & Light Company in Zebulon, said today. The 100,000th rural connection was made sometime during July, the same month which saw the Company add its 250,000th customer for the whole system.

In Wake County, said Manager Talton, CP&L has approximately 1,256.02 miles of rural lines which on June 25th were serving 9,569 customers.

In 1935, CP&L was serving 10,066 farm and rural customers in the two states, with rural lines totalling 1,536 miles. In 1937, customers of this class had been doubled, and progress was steady until the war years, when equipment could not be installed. By 1945, farm and rural lines had jumped to 6,530 miles and customers to 41,699. In the following two years, 20,000 more were added, in 1948 alone almost another 20,000.

In 1949, 11,262 rural and farm customers came onto the system and in 1950 (ended June 25) another 9,444. Today, the 100,000 rural electrical users on the CP&L system are served by over 13,800 miles of line, with an average of approximately 7.3 customers per mile.

The banner farm-rural county on the system is populous Buncombe, with 939 miles of line serving over 11,000 farm-rural customers. Close behind comes Wake with more than 9,500 such clients and Johnston with 8,300.

In the period 1935 to 1950, the average customer on the Company's rural lines has doubled his use of electricity.

An opportunity to determine whether they have a professional career in baseball will be afforded the youth of the area when the St. Louis Cardinals conduct their tryout camp at Municipal Stadium in Goldsboro on August 11-12, under the direction of Goldsboro manager Jim Herbison, assisted by veteran Red Bird scout Kemp Wicker.
