This, That, & the Other

McCall's Magazine for October has an article on "Godfrey's Girl Friday." Godfrey is, it seems, a big man in radio and television and the Girl Friday is Margaret Richardson, formerly of Wendell. Miss Richardson was at one time Miss North Carolina. She has worked with Godfrey sixteen years.

The colored woman who came in on an errand remarked to my husband that it has been a long time since he first came to Zebulon. He agreed. Then she asked if I am still able to do all my work, and I replied that with the excep-

Mr. Williams died at the home of his son, Russell, early Tuesday morning after several months of illness.

Ordinance of Lord's Supper to Be Observed at Local Churches Sunday

The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning worship services at the Baptist Church Sunday. The pastor will offer a communion meditation. The adult choir will sing the anthem, "Heavenly Father" by Davis and two hymn anthems, "Jesus, Thou Joy of Loving Hearts" and "Beneath the Cross of Jesus."

Evening services will begin at 7:30 as the regular fall schedule goes into effect. The Training Union will meet at 6:30. Miss Sue Alford will sing "Be Still, my Soul" by Sibelius and the pastor will deliver the evening sermon.

A joint meeting of both the Junior Board and the Senior Board of Deacons will be held Sunday evening following evening worship. World Wide Communion Sunday will be observed at the Zebulon Methodist Church on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. S. E. Mercer, feels that it is especially significant and meaningful for Christians around the world to join in observing this sacred service in view of the strife and divisions which now plague the world. Christians everywhere have the joy of knowing that "we are all one in Christ." All interested people are cordially invited.

Monday morning my husband called me to come out and look at the sun. First it reminded me of Whittier's "Snowbound" sun, which on "that brief December day rose cheerless over hills of gray; and, darkly circled, gave at noon a sadder light than waning moon." Next I thought of the old Negro spiritual in which one singer mournfully chants, "O, my Lord!" and the full chorus wails, "Judgment a-comin'." Then I turned scientific and wondered whether the approaching eclipse of the moon could be in any way connected with the strange appearance of the sun. It was decidedly a relief when an afternoon paper explained things by saying smoke from forest fires in Canada was responsible. It helps to know the why of things.

It is somewhat instructive to look at clothing carried to hospitals to dress new babies for their journeys home. First sons or daughters.

Battery A Given Excellent Rating By Army Inspector

A grade of "Excellent" was awarded Battery A of the 113 Field Artillery Battalion following a thorough check by a 3rd Army Inspector General on Monday of this week. The National Guard unit scored very high on administration, training, and personnel, but the lack of adequate armory space has seriously handicapped the battery.

Col. Morris Schonholz and M-Sgt. Sterling Young of Ft. McPherson, Ga., conducted the inspection of the administration and facilities Monday afternoon and the training during the drill Monday night.

Each man was questioned as to his duties in the battery by the inspecting officer. Following the personal inspection, prizes were awarded for the best dressed enlisted men.

Col. Charles Elliott selected Sgt. J. P. Arnold as presenting the best appearance of the top three graders and Sgt. Arnold received a $25.00 prize. Major Ball, Regular Army Instructor for the battalion, chose Pvt. Connie M. Bunn and Cpl. Kenneth Chamblee as the best dressed of the lower four graders, and they were given cash prizes of $25.00 and $15.00.

This type of Federal Inspection is held only once a year, and every item of equipment, clothing, and all records are scrutinized.

Only four men were absent from this drill. Cpl. Ray Gainey was sick, Cpl. Wesley Pearce has moved his residence to Norfolk, Va., and was unable to attend, and Pvt. Worth Croom is a student at Campbell College and attended the inspection at Dunn on Wednesday night. No excuse was made for Pvt. Pete A. O'Neal.

Beta Club Sponsors Selection of Queen

One of the features of the half-time festivities at the homecoming game between Wakelon and Wendell Friday night, October 6, will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. A contest to select the beautiful lass is being conducted by the Wakelon Beta Club, an honorary scholarship group affiliated with the National Beta Club.

Contestants who have been entered to date are Laura Jean Massey from the Senior class; Betty Lou Bunn and Virginia Pearce, Juniors; Elva Jane Cox, Sue Richards, and Juana Joy Mitchell, Sophomores; and Joann Jones, Helen Faye Todd, and Geraldine Phillips, Freshmen.

Campaign managers for the contestants have been chosen and will solicit support from the community during the coming week.

Officers of the Wakelon Beta Club are Jean Richardson, president, and Jean Robertson, secretary.

Taken to Hospital

W. T. Whitley was taken to Rex Hospital last week after a fall from the steps of his home. His head was injured and he has been delirious a good part of the time, partly from medicines used, it is thought. Mrs. Whitley, who is an invalid from a broken hip, has been taken to the home of her brother, Mahlon Temple.

LIONS HELP

The Lions Club of Zebulon is in the middle of their famed White Cane drive to raise funds for their program of aiding the sightless in making their own way. The blind women in the picture is typical of those the Lions Club has helped.

Community Chest Directors Named

The Community Council met Tuesday evening and elected a temporary Board of Directors for the Zebulon Community Chest. Under the Chest plan of organization a temporary Board is elected to conduct the first solicitation of members. All those contributing become members of the Community Chest and the membership will meet to elect a permanent Board of Directors and draw up a constitution.

The Zebulon Community Chest will conduct its own drive for funds and all funds will remain in the local treasury to be used for needs in the local community.

Temporary members elected to direct the first local campaign are: Mrs. Irby Gill, Mrs. Vera Rhodes, Mrs. W. L. Simpson, Kermit Combs, R. H. Bridgers, J. C. Debnam, C. V. Whitley, Avon Privette and Ralph Talton. The first meeting of the Board will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 in the Zebulon Courthouse.

Leaving Zebulon

Friends here will regret to learn that the Dighton Fiddners with their two small sons, Mack and Johnnie, will leave Zebulon in a few days to make their home near Southern Pines. They have sold their home and will live with Mr. Fiddner's mother, whose husband died recently. For more than four years Mr. Fiddner has been associated with Whitley Furniture Company. He is a mortician and will continue in his profession.

In church, civic, school, and social life the family has made a notable contribution to the community and will be greatly missed. Mr. Fiddner served for some time as a member of the Wakelon school board.

PTA Has Meet Tuesday Night; Project Selected

The Wakelon P. T. A. held its first meeting of the year Monday evening, September 25, in the school auditorium with approximately one hundred and twenty-five people present.

Mrs. Garland Godwin, president, announced that Ferd Davis, vice president and program chairman, has resigned because he is now on active duty with the National Guard at Fort Benning, Ga. A new nominating committee was elected to present a name at the next meeting to fill the vacancy. The nominating committee to serve this year is Mrs. Ruric Gill, Mrs. Ed Kitchings, and Mr. James Alford.

The president also presented her committee chairmen. The chairmen and their committee members will be announced later.

Miss Gladys Baker was appointed program chairman for this year. She mentioned the fact that during this year as much local talent as possible will be used on the program, which should really interest everyone in the community.

The project for the year, presented by the executive committee, was unanimously accepted. The P. T. A. will supplement Miss Elizabeth Salmon's salary $40 per month in order that she may teach public school music. It is hoped that Wakelon will again have a glee club that will participate in various programs throughout the state during the school year.

Ways and Means Chairman

The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Billy Privette, announced that a negro minstrel will be sponsored by the P. T. A., the proceeds of which will be used for this year's project. All local talent will be used. Mrs. Rhoda Gill will direct the minstrel, and Mrs. H. C. Wade will be in charge of the dances. The minstrel will be given October 17 at 8:00 o'clock in the school auditorium. Admission will be 15 cents and 50 cents. Plan now to attend. The money you spend will mean much to your school.

Mr. W. R. Whittenton was presented and spoke briefly to the group. He expressed a desire to have every child in school participate in the school insurance program. It costs only forty cents per child for the school year and covers all injuries received while on the school grounds. He also expressed his appreciation to the P. T. A. for sponsoring a project which will mean so much to the school as a whole.

After the meeting adjourned, a reception was held in the Home Economics Building honoring the principal, his wife, and the new faculty members.
