GET OFF MY ACHING BACK

L. C. Haswell (40) sparkplug of the Wendell White Rams in their pack of Bulldogs. Robert Kitchings (21) and Warren Greene (at right on ground) have just been blocked out of the play as Bill Joe Bailey drags Haswell to the ground. Wakelon won, 20-19.

Small Grains Demonstration to Be Conducted Near Bethlehem Church

A small grains demonstration project for 1950-51 is being held on the farm of Mr. J. W. Faison, which is nine miles east of Raleigh on the Poole Road. Go to the Bethlehem Church where signs will be erected to direct you to the farm which is about one mile from the church.

On Wednesday, November 1, a harvesting, drying, and seeding demonstration will be held on this farm. A corn picking demonstration will be held at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

Approximately 1-3 of the small grain production is planted following a corn crop in N. C. Corn harvest is relatively late and it results in late seeding dates for small grains on farms that practice this rotation.

The Department of Agricultural Engineering, N. C. State College, now has sufficient information to support the statement that farm drying plants are practical and useful on certain North Caro-

Bulldogs Meet Garner Under Lights Tonight

The Wakelon Bulldogs face one of their strongest gridiron opponents tonight at 8:00 on the Wakelon field, when they oppose Rock Brinkley's Garner eleven. The Bulldogs will be gunning for their fifth victory of the 1950 season.

Although the single loss to Fuquay Springs earlier in the season eliminated the possibility of a county football championship for Wakelon, Coach Herb Appenzeller's crew hopes for a high position in the final standings.

The whole Wakelon first team is expected to be in condition to play tonight.

Electric Power to Be Interrupted On Sunday for Line Repair Work

Electric power will be interrupted in Wendell and vicinity, Middlesex, Bailey and Sims vicinity, on Sunday, October 29, from 6:00 a. m. to 8:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m. in order for necessary repairs to be made, Ralph W. Talton, manager of the Zebulon district, announced this week.

During the past summer, lightning strokes damaged the copper line conductors in many places on the main 66000 volt transmission line between Zebulon and Raleigh. Repairs cannot be made and in order to guard against unexpected outages, it will be necessary to have the power off for the lina farms. From the agronomic view, it seems desirable to demonstrate the farm drying of corn to permit earlier corn harvests and subsequent timely small grain planting dates.

The average farm yields of small grains in North Carolina are relatively low in contrast to the production that is possible, where growers use seed of recommended varieties and improved agronomic practices.

Seed of improved, adapted small grain varieties and results of small grain investigations, particularly with respect to fertility and dates-of-planting, are now available for N. C. farmers.

The next logical step in improving the state-wide production of small grains, is to conduct a small grain field demonstration program where fields will be seeded and managed by recommended practices for farmers to observe them.

These demonstrations are being conducted by the County Farm Agent, G. W. Miller, Jr., Extension Specialists, F. J. Bell, J. C. Ferguson, and E. S. Coates, assisted by Dr. E. R. Collins, Head of the Agronomy Extension, the experiment station, and the N. C. Department of Agriculture.

Bobby Jack Ferrell Stationed in Texas

Pvt. Bobby Ferrell is stationed at the Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas, and reports that he is enjoying military life, although the fact that he sees no women bothers him.

His address is: Pvt. Bobby J. Ferrell, Af14366400, 3745 Training Squadron, Flight 5940, Sheppard A. F. B., Wichita Falls, Texas.

two two-hour intervals listed.

These sections will be affected: All lines between Zebulon and Wendell; Wendell and Rural (Eagle Rock, Edgemont, Lizard Lick, Corinth Holder, Archers' Lodge, and Flowers' Store.); All lines between Zebulon and Middlesex; Middlesex and Rural; Bailey and Rural. Sims and Rural.

Mr. Talton said Carolina Power and Light Company regrets the necessity of this inconvenience to you. However, when interruptions of this nature occur, it is evidence that the electric company is anxious to maintain the carefree and dependable service to which consumers are accustomed.

Lengthy Jury Trial Still Results in $200 Fine For Drunken Driving

The Saturday football games proved the undoing of Charles Mitchell of Zebulon, Route 4, when patrolmen returning home after directing traffic at a game spotted him stop at the ABC Store and drive off toward Spring Hope. They testified that they clocked him at 75 mph and found him in a drunken condition when they stopped him.

The defendant asked for and received a trial by jury, and although the case lasted nearly all day, the jury found Mitchell guilty as charged and Judge Irby D. Gill sentenced him to six months in the Wake County jail, suspended on payment of a $200.00 fine and $20.50 in costs.

Eugene Montague, charged with being drunk on the public streets of Zebulon, received 30 days suspended on payment of $10 fine and costs.

Leon Stallings of Route 4, Zebulon, was found guilty of appearing on the public highway of North Carolina in a drunken condition and fined $10 and costs.

Henry Griffin McFayden of Raleigh, charged with passing a vehicle on a curve when he had less than 500 feet vision, was found guilty and paid $35 fine and costs.

L. P. Scarboro was found not guilty of having a liquor still or still equipment.

Six months in the Wake County jail was awarded to Frank Smith for threatening to hit P. M. Horton with a grubbing hoe. The defendant gave notice of appeal and bond was set at $500. Smith waived hearing on a charge that he forged P. M. Horton's name on a check for $20 drawn on Peoples Bank & Trust Company and cashed it, and bond in this case was set at $500.

Rare Blood Type Is Desperately Needed

Mrs. J. K. Lamm, only living sister of Mrs. M. D. Terry, is desperately ill in Woodard-Herring Hospital, Wilson. She must have blood transfusions of a rare type and a plea is being made for any who can furnish the kind needed to communicate with the hospital or with the family. The types usable are ARH negative and ORH negative, and only these.

Halloween Carnival To Be Tuesday Night

The 1950 Wakelon Halloween Carnival will be on Tuesday night, October 31, at the school with a full evening of fun and activity planned for the whole community.

Feature of the evening will be the crowning of the Wakelon beauty queen. Managers for the contestants are working this week soliciting votes. Voting will continue until Tuesday night.

The program will begin at 7:30 in the school auditorium, where a stage show will be presented. Following this, the gymnasium will be the scene of other activity, including the crowning of the queen.

Dr. Massey Is Elected Society Vice-President

Dr. L. M. Massey, prominent Zebulon dentist, was installed as secretary-treasurer of the Fourth District Dental Society on Tuesday afternoon during the concluding session held in the Hotel Sir Walter.

Methodist Service to Be Sunday Night; Baptists Have Baptism Ordinance

Special notice is given to the fact that Rev. S. E. Mercer will preach at Zebulon Methodist Church on Sunday night at 7:30 due to the fact that it is a fifth Sunday. The pastor will continue his Sunday night series of messages on the Lord's Supper using the petition "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." There will be no preaching service on the first Sunday in November due to the fact that the pastor will be attending the Methodist Annual Conference in Kinston.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered to those awaiting baptism at the Baptist church Sunday evening at the evening worship service. The pastor will speak on the topic "The Newness of a Dedicated Life." The Junior Choir will sing Haydn's "Come, My Soul, Thou Must be Waking" with Patsy Allman as soloist.

At the morning worship services the pastor will preach on the theme "Reformation Echoes." The Adult Choir will sing Van Thompson's "Father in Thy Mysterious Presence Dwelling." Miss Marie Smithwick will sing Oley Speaks' "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled."

Order of Eastern Star Hostess for Meeting

The local Eastern Star chapter will be hostess to officials of the Order and to visitors from other chapters in this district on Saturday afternoon and night, when the annual School of Instruction will be held in the Wakelon gymnasium.

The local organization, though young in years, is known for its activities, and counts it an honor to entertain teachers and students for the instruction meeting.

Ed Hales Begins Move into New Building; Thurman Hepler Buys Lot

With construction work nearing completion, Ed Hales said yesterday that he will begin moving into his new building on the corner of Horton and Arendell Avenues today. The popular Smith-Douglass fertilizer dealer said that he will continue receiving more goods all this month.

Minstrel Plays to Full House Tuesday Night; Gate Receipts over $250

A packed house saw the PTA Minstrel Show Tuesday night in the Wakelon School auditorium, paying over $250 into the Association special project fund to help provide a full time public school teacher for the lower grades at the school.

M. L. Hagwood kept the show moving as the Interlocutor, and Endmen W. A. Allman, Frank Kemp, Gilbert Beck, and Fred Beck provided the blackface background for a steady stream of jokes.

Special features included Mrs. Theo. B. Davis as Liza Jane, who gave her "Reply to Jealousy."

"I Ain't Got Nobody," was sung by Mrs. James Alford, who was costumed as a torrid Lena Horne.

Mrs. Everette Ray played and sang "Come Down to My House, Baby," and B. B. Barham sang "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy."

The Quarterbeat Quartet was composed of Wallace Temple, Ed Ellington, Elwood Perry, and Wilbur Conn.

Mrs. Harold Greene and Mrs. Edison Wood sang and danced in a feature number, which proved one of the best on the program.

A view of lovely legs in 4-4 time was provided by Sue Richards, Juanna Joy Mitchell, Jo Ann Williams, and Linda Stell, who danced as the Rockettes of 1950.

Miss Elizabeth Salmon, daintily drying the tears from her eyes, sang "St. Louis Blues," and escaped to the wings just before the drooling end men lost complete control of themselves.

Magician Clarence Hocutt mystified the audience with an exhibition of mind reading.

The mixed chorus, which provided background music and sang for the choruses, included Anne Allman, Sue Alford, Kathryne Baker, Pauline Baker, Patsy Brantley, Fay Privette, Betty Jean Phillips, Joellen Gill, Artelia Bailey, Shirley Chamblee, Shirley Faulkner, Bruce Wood, Betty Sue Williams, Helen Wall, Warren Greene, Hilliard Greene, George Massey, Alton Temple, Tommy Temple, Charles Finch, Bobby Kitchings, Lawrence Liles, Ralph Lewis, Kermit Combs, Harold Pippin, E. V. Rountree, and Harold Sauls.

Barrett Ray Enrolled In Electronics School
