

BRICK HOUSE PLAN NO. 201
Brick House Plan No. 201, designed by F. Carter Williams, Architect, Raleigh, N. C., for Carolina Homes, published by Brick and Tile Service, Inc., Greensboro.

A home of modern architecture need not be a big house. This plan is for a small home but one that is modern in design and in ideas for increased livability. Here is a plan for a house with two good sized bedrooms with two closets each, a large living room with dining or study alcove, an adequate kitchen plus a bath and heater room and hall, all built within an area of 960 square feet. And the house is not crowded.

Within this space is a great deal of room for comfortable convenient living. The secret of this is the fact that the house is planned on an economical straight line, compact design, with care given that all the necessary features of a home are included and that no space is wasted. Every foot of space in this plan is functional.

The front entrance leads directly into the living room and faces the fireplace. Three windows form a corner grouping and assure light and air in abundance. Unified with the living room yet somewhat set apart is an alcove which may be used for dining or study. This alcove has a triple window grouping which makes it light and cheerful. There is room on the chimney wall for a built-in book case or china closet.

The nicest feature of this plan is the accessibility of the kitchen to all other parts of the house. It has a service entrance on the left side and also has ample room for a breakfast nook. It is sufficiently large for laundry equipment, or the heater room may be used as a laundry room. The kitchen can be reached from any part of the house with a minimum of steps which promotes a great saving of energy on the part of the housewife.

The two bedrooms are each well lighted and ventilated by double windows and a single window and since they are both corner rooms, they have the advantage of cross ventilation. They each have double closets and these is a closet in the hall off the living room for coats and other storage in addition to the linen closet. More storage space is available in the attic and a disappearing stairway may be installed in the central hall, if desired.

This house is designed on the brick cavity wall principle, wherein two row of brick are tied together with metal wall ties spanning a cavity of about 2 inches. This simple method assures dry walls which are fire-proof, rot-proof, termite-proof, cooler in summer, warmer in winter. It is the best construction known and yet is remarkably economical.

Plans and specifications are available at $20.00 for the first set, $5.00 for each additional set purchased with the original order. Make checks payable to Brick and Tile Service, Inc., 205 1/2 N. Greene Street, Greensboro, N. C.

editor mentioned as an entrant, says "no." Says he has private plans that preclude such.

Capus Waynick of High Point, current ambassador to Nicaragua now temporarily heading the Point Four program, suffered a blow to his potential candidacy with the death of T. V. Rochelle of High Point. Rochelle was slated to handle finances for the Waynick campaign, however, and a suitable replacement will be hard to find.

He thinks the Legislature should give the Budget Commission authority to add funds to building programs already authorized. Some are being held up because bids are higher than funds provided.

He thinks new money must be forthcoming from somewhere — either an added penny gas tax or an upped license tag fee — if the State is to take over building and maintenance of city streets.

He thinks elimination of sales' tax exemptions would be fair and just — and raise needed money.

He thinks folks who holler for more State services should be willing to pay the bill.
