WHO Averts Typhus Epidemic in Afghanistan

For hundreds of years, Afghanistan has been plagued by malaria and typhus. Not until the World Health Organization sent a four-man medical team to Kundus in 1951 to spray with DDT an area of 175 square miles against malaria was any organized attempt made to bring the diseases under control. The program was trebled in 1951 because of favorable results. During the off-season for malaria the WHO teams tackle the typhus problem. Here a WHO team in Kabul is shown spraying the people and homes against typhus.

Lions' Club to Sponsor Talent Shows at School

The most beautiful girls in Zebulon and the surrounding community will be featured in the dazzling beauty contest to be staged at the Lions Talent Show Saturday night in the Wakelon auditorium. The show, which is staged to raise funds for Miss Rebecca Talbert's special education class at Wakelon will feature some of the best singing and dancing talent available.

Saturday night's performance will be the first of a series of talent shows which will continue through November 8. Cash prizes will be awarded talent winners each evening.

Competing in the beauty contest will be Miss Ellen Batton of Bunn, Miss Katie Bell Strickland of Middlesex, Miss Willie Mae Johnson of Corinth Holders, Miss Gerry Phillips of Wakelon, Miss Lucille Boykin of Glendale High School, Miss Jackie Bragg of Bailey, and contestants from Wendell and Knightdale who have not yet been named.

Competing in the talent show will be Sonny Coley of Knightdale, the Live Oak Quartet of Selma, Blandy Privette, Bobby Sawyer, B. B. Barham, Joan Baker, Carolyn Hinton, the Marsh Knott Tub Band, Alice Fay Hinton of Middlesex, and Kenneth Hopkins of Hopkins Chapel.

First, second, and third prizes will be given each Saturday night. The fifteen winners from the first five nights will compete in the finals November 8 for prizes of $25.00, $20.00 and $10.00.

First place winner in the beauty contest will be presented a properly engraved cup. The second place winner will be awarded an orchid corsage.

Explorer Scouts Meet

Following a motion picture and a talk by J. C. Brookshire, Field Representative of the Oconeechee Council, boys attending a meeting at Wakelon School Wednesday night decided to organize an Explorer Post of the Boy Scouts in Zebulon.

James Debnam, who has spearheaded the move to form the Post, was in charge of the meeting.

Registration will be made and initial dues collected at the Boy Scout meeting Monday night, October 6.

Teen-Agers to Organize Here

The Zebulon Teen-Age Club will be organized for the fall season with the election of new officers and the appointment of committees to take place on Saturday evening at the teen club located at the old court house.

The Recreation Commission has appointed a committee to work with the teenagers in establishing their organization. It is expected that the teenagers will assume the responsibility for carrying out their program.

Mrs. Eugene Privett, Mr. Ed Ellington, Mrs. Ida Hall and the Rev. Carlton Mitchell represent the Recreation Commission.

The need for new equipment was emphasized at a recent meeting and it is hoped that funds can be secured through the Community Chest adequate for an improvement program.

The Community Chest drive will take place later in October.

Class Work Lauded

Funeral services will be held at the Zebulon Methodist Church at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Pastor S. E. Mercer will be in charge, assisted by Rev. Carlton Mitchell of the Zebulon Baptist Church and Rev. Kermit Combs of the Wakefield Baptist Church. Interment will follow in the Zebulon Cemetery.

National Guard Unit Yarborough Praises

"You have an excellent battery," Colonel Edward Yarborough told the officers and non-commissioned officers following his command inspection of Zebulon's National Guard unit Monday night. With other members of the staff of the 113th Field Artillery Battalion, Lt. Col. Yarborough conducted an inspection of the men in ranks and observed the classroom instruction following.

Making the inspection with the battalion commander were Lt. Col. Arthur Ball, Regular Army instructor; Major Darrell Perry, battalion executive officer; Capt. Collin McKinne, battalion S-3; Capt. Daniel, battalion motor officer; and Lt. James East, battalion liaison officer.

At Methodist Church

The cannons class conducted by Lt. George Winds and the mess class taught by Sfc. Percy Parrish received special praise from from the inspecting officers.

Two drill periods remain for Battery A before the visit of the Inspector General on October 14.

James Creech, Jr., was enlisted as a member of the local battery in brief ceremonies held prior to the inspection. He was assigned to the firing sections and will work with the 105mm howitzers.

Sfc. Bob Sawyer, supply sergeant for Battery A since his enlistment, was discharged last week following three years of service. Sfc. Sawyer, a veteran of World War II, continually received good reports on his work in supply.

Legion Post Holds Meeting Oct. 1st

Congratulations from the Department of North Carolina were read to Zebulon Legionnaires Wednesday night at the October meeting of the Post. The letter commended the local post on exceeding its membership quota before October 1. The quota set for the Zebulon post was 50; and on Wednesday night the membership roll listed 67 names.

Commander Charles Creech welcomed several new members to the meeting, which was attended by about 30 Legionnaires.

Plans for a Turkey Shoot to be held next month were discussed, and Commander Creech appointed a committee of four to complete arrangements. Headed by Casey Stallings, the committee included Sidney Holmes and Barrie Davis.

The Service Officer brought a report of assistance given the family of a needy veteran during the past month.

The Legion Post will send two representatives from Wakelon School to Boys State again this year. Commander Creech was requested to notify Principal W. R. Whittenton so that screening of Junior boys to determine those eligible to attend can be started.

The post will hold its November meeting at E. P. Privettes. Chicken barbecue will be served.

Supper at Pearce

The choir of Pearce Baptist Church will sponsor a supper in the school lunchroom on Saturday, October 4. Serving will be from 4:00 till 8:00. Pork barbecue, Brunswick stew, slaw, cake and drinks. $1.00 per plate.

World Communion Sunday to Be Observed at Local Baptist Church

The fall schedule will begin at the local Baptist Church on Sunday. The evening worship service will be at 7:30 and the Training Union will meet at 6:30.

World Communion Sunday will be observed Sunday morning. A new silver communion service will be dedicated and the ordination of new deacons will take place. The pastor will deliver a communion meditation and the choir will present the anthem.

New deacons elected to the Board include Mr. Rodney McNabb, Mr. Howard Massey and Mr.

Clubwomen Hold District Meeting Here on Monday

The annual meeting of women's federated clubs for the eighth district was held in Zebulon at the Baptist Church on Monday, with the local clubs as hostesses.

Following the business session luncheon was served in the church basement under the direction of Mrs. A. S. Hinton. In the afternoon the Zebulon Junior Club entertained with a reception at the clubhouse. A trip to Wakelon School to visit Miss Talbert's special education room was also of interest.

Mrs. J. G. Lane of Garner, district president, presided over the session. Mrs. J. W. Bunn of Raleigh, State President, Mrs. Bunch, District Director, and Mrs. Sam Leager, speaking for a new project at Caswell Training School, were featured speakers.

From the hostess clubs Mrs. Whittenton gave words of welcome, Mrs. Helen Screws presented gifts to the state and district leaders, Mesdames L. M. Massey and Frank Kemp sang solos and with Mrs. Carlton Mitchell sang two trios; and Mrs. Theo. B. Davis led in the memorial service.

Potholders made by Miss Talbert's class at Wakelon were one of the many favors given those attending.

Mrs. Whittenton has received a gracious letter from the state president, Mrs. Bunn, extending congratulation for the manner in which the district was entertained. As president of the local club Mrs. Whittenton states that this commendation belongs to members of both clubs here because of their full co-operation.

Barbecue Is Planned By Rolesville Seniors
