Practice for Cage Season Started For School Teams

Prospects for a successful basketball season are good, Coach Herbert Holt said yesterday, and even though he lost four starters by graduation last year, he expects this year's cage squad to be improved over that which took the floor in the fall of 1951.

The 1952-53 season begins on Tuesday night, December 2, when the Wakelon boys and girls play a twin bill against Rolesville.

The girls lost three starting guards and one starting forward by graduation, Coach Howard Thomas said, but his reserves of last year are improving rapidly to take their places.

About 40 boys are competing for starting positions and fifteen girls are practicing. More members of the girls' squad are expected when the tobacco season is over.

Season tickets for the basketball season will be on sale within the next two weeks, and boosters of the Wakelon teams can purchase them from any member of the basketball team.

"If anybody wants as many as a half dozen," Coach Holt said, "I'll deliver them myself."

Deed for Armory Site Is Scheduled for Transfer To State of N. C. on Monday

Town Attorney A. R. House turned the deed for the armory site recently purchased by the Town of Zebulon to the State of North Carolina yesterday, according to Mayor Worth Hinton, who said that the attorney was to register the deeds transferring the land to the Town of Zebulon from Zeb Corbett and complete all other necessary legal work Monday.

Minor changes were made in the deeds on Friday, the Mayor said, and all the papers were ready for Mr. House to take to Raleigh yesterday morning.

To illustrate the fast way in which the purchase of the four acres of land was completed, Mayor Hinton said that within one hour of the time the quit-claim deed and declaration of withdrawal were given to him by the Town Attorney, he had signatures from every property holder with land adjoining the site agreeing to abandon the proposed street which runs through the armory site.

Early Friday morning Town Clerk Willie B. Hopkins, with Notary Public Zollie Culpepper, went to Mr. Corbett's house, paid Mr. Corbett for the four acres of land and the papers were signed transferring title to the Town of Zebulon.

The Mayor emphasized that by taking additional time and making special effort the members of the Board of Commissioners saved the Town of Zebulon $1,000 in the purchase price of the armory site.

In addition, he said the cost of providing water and sewer connections to the site will be less than any other site which has been under consideration.

Rotary Endorses Bird Sanctuary

The idea of making Zebulon a bird sanctuary, proposed by the Carmen Flowers Garden Club, was endorsed by the Zebulon Rotarians at the regular weekly meeting of the group last Friday night. By making the town a bird sanctuary, protection under the law would be given all but birds classed predatory.

Included in the motion, which was made by Secretary Rodney McNabb, was a plea that the over-supply of tomcats in Zebulon be controlled or eliminated.

The program time of the meeting was filled with discussion. Dr. L. M. Massey brought the attention of the club to the number of children who drop out of school before graduating. He urged that the club make an effort to encourage students to complete their high school education.

Larry Whitehead of the Abilene, Texas, Rotary Club was a guest for the meeting, which was held in the Wakelon agriculture building following the barbecue in the lunchroom.

Maurice P. Tniem, bond chairman of the Wake County Tuberculosis Association's Christmas Seal Sale, announced today that approximately 1,000 letters carrying the health bonds were mailed Friday to Wake County businesses and large contributors.

The health bonds come in denominations ranging from $5.00 and up. Mr. Thiem is being helped in the drive by A. E. Elliott, Fuquay Springs; H. C. Benton, Apex; R. R. Thompson, Wendell.

Disorderly Conduct Cases Fill Zebulon Recorder's Court Docket

Class Plays

The Senior Class of Wakelon School will present a three-act comedy, "High School Hero," Friday evening, November 21, at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 25c and 50c. High School Hero is peculiarly appropriate for a high school class play because it is about a high school and the every-day problems common to high school girls and boys.

It is about Bill Rockwell, the high school hero, Class President and Football Captain, who is willing to sacrifice his own good name to protect a younger boy, and Lunk Bennett, the dim-witted fullback whose dark day was the day the English language was invented. Also featured is Eleanor Spencer, the new, young, attractive principal, and Dan Conrad, the "brash young football coach, and the hot water he gets into with Miss Spencer."

In the cast will be Fan Green, Sue Alford, Ronnie Richards, Mildred Fowler, John Phillips, Leroy Trevathan, Barbara Lou Chamblee, Bruce Wood, Rodney Bell, Kay Baker, Betty Sue Williams, Jimmy Joyner, Alton Temple, Sue Richards, and Juanna Joy Mitchell.

Appearing in the play also will be the Class mascots, Vicky Wood and Ben David Thomas.

On Friday, November 21, the Rolesville Juniors will present their play, "Everything Happens To Us," in the school auditorium at 8:00.

The play features the Ross family, who is excited because Rhett, the oldest son, is going east to marry a millionairess.

Mrs. Ross and her two young sons, who aren't much help, try frantically to redecorate their new home for Rhett's bride.

Each character in the play successfully messes up things for the family and the tragedy comes when Rhett calls to say the girl has changed her mind. In a surprising manner everything straightens out for all.

Gentle Farm Animals May Be Dangerous, Wakelon Teacher Says

"Speak to all animals when approaching them," recommends Ed Ellington, Agriculture teacher at Wakelon School. All livestock should be handled kindly but with alertness because even gentle animals may kick or strike when startled.

The so-called gentle bull is too often the one which acts at unexpected moments, goes someone to death or inflicts serious injury. One of the principal rules with bulls is to handle them as little as possible. With a well-constructed bull pen any bull can be cared for safely and with almost no handling. The gates and doors, as well as facilities for feeding, watering and breeding can be arranged so there is no need for the caretaker to expose himself to attack.

Bulls should be rung at an early age and worn or weakened rings should be replaced promptly. When it is necessary to lead a bull, always use a staff.

Bulls are not the only livestock on the farm to be handled with care. Horses are not considered dangerous, yet, according to the records of the National Safety Council they account for more ac-
