Listed were Horace Gay, Charlie Hawkins, Ralph Bunn, Charles Creech, Hardin Hinton, and Carl Kemp.

The Zebulon Post received a high National award, the Certificate of Meritorious Service, for reaching an all-time high membership. Only seven other North Carolina posts were so honored.

Demonstration Is Planned for Local Rural Fire Truck

A series of demonstrations has been arranged for the rural fire truck on display at the Zebulon Municipal Building, and people in four communities surrounding Zebulon will have an opportunity to see the truck in action within the next four days, according to Willie B. Hopkins, vice-president of the Zebulon Rural Fire Department.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the rural fire truck will go to Emit to Wm. Wilder's pond.

In addition to a fire fighting demonstration, the truck will pump water from Wilder's pond.

On Monday night the truck will be taken to Pilot, where the demonstration will take place at 7:30.

Tuesday night the truck will be seen in action at Lizard Lick at 7:30, and then will be driven to Martin's Center for a second show.

On Tuesday night of this week the truck stages a display at Hopkins Cross Roads.

The demonstrations are planned to acquaint farmers and others living in rural areas with the capabilities of the fire fighting apparatus mounted on the truck.

The campaign for funds is progressing at a satisfactory pace, according to Robert Ed Horton, who reported more than $2,000 has been contributed toward the purchase of the truck.

The local campaign, a Finer Carolina project, is receiving publicity all over the state. Frank Jeter told of the work being done over Radio Station WPTF yesterday and newspapers are picking up the story.

When the truck is purchased, it will be available to fight fires within a seven mile radius of Zebulon.

Rates charged members for the support of the truck will be determined by the amount of tobacco acreage and property owned by the member. Minimum fee for membership is $5.00.

Memberships are now being accepted with the understanding that all money will be refunded if the fire truck is not purchased and the rural fire department organization completed.

Other school problems, including questions submitted by the members, will be discussed by the panel, which includes Mrs. Fred Chamblee, Mrs. Jack Mitchell, Robert Ed Horton, Garland Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Braswell. Ferd Davis will serve as moderator.

"In selecting members of the panel, we tried to get people who have differing views on educational purposes and processes," Mrs. Eldred Rountree, PTA program chairman, said, "By getting different opinions, we hope to stimulate thinking — if every person on the panel had the same opinion, we might as well have a single speaker."

Mrs. Rountree stated that statements from other PTA members would be welcomed, especially if they took issue with opinions voiced by the panel.

Mrs. Braswell, recently elected president of the local PTA, to succeed Mrs. Kermit Combs, will preside at the business session. She urges all members to attend.
