Girl Scouts Celebrate Anniversary

Girl Scouting, founded by Mrs. Juliet Low of Savannah, Ga., in 1912, observes its 41st anniversary this week and Zebulon Girl Scouts are joining in the nationwide celebration with special events which began last Saturday at the Governor's mansion in Raleigh.

Mrs. Thurman Murray and daughter, Pat, were guests at the governor's mansion Saturday when Mrs. William Umstead received the visitors and explained the new "Our Country" Girl Scout badge.

On Sunday morning the Zebulon troops attended morning worship services at the Zebulon Baptist Church.

The day before, the Intermediate Troop began their anniversary celebration by making a trip to Raleigh for skating.

The Woodmen of the World Camp is feting the Girl Scouts at a wiener roast Wednesday evening. Members of the Boy Scout Troop will be guests also.

Girl Scouting gives girls an opportunity to develop their talents through eleven lines of endeavor. In this community it provides the only year-round supervised recreation for girls.

Mrs. Frederick Chamblee is Zebulon's representative on the Girl Scout Council. Other local leaders include Mrs. James Creech, Brownie Troop leader; Mrs. Thurman Murray and Mrs. Horace Gay, Intermediate Troop leader; and Mrs. Doris Privett, Senior Troop.

Mrs. Doris Privett was the organizer of Girl Scouting in Zebulon, and last year was honored with a 5-year Service Badge for her work.

Plans are being made now for the Day Camp to be held this summer at Lake Mirl. Last year's camp was so successful that the Troop leaders are preparing each week for this year's work.

Zebulon History Incites Additional Praise; Aid Offered for Town Growth

Another large concern has notified Ed Hales, president of the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce, that it found Mayor Worth Hinton's history of Zebulon interesting. J. F. Dalton, Director of Industrial and Agricultural Development for the Norfolk Southern Railroad, was complimentary in his comments on the reprint of the Zebulon Record feature, and promised the railroad's assistance in securing industry for Zebulon.

The reprints are being mailed out by many Zebulon businesses to out-of-state concerns with which they correspond.

Mr. Dalton's letter said in part: "We feel that Zebulon is indeed a very important community, and we are accordingly interested in rendering every assistance within our power to bring about developments in your community. We desire that you command our services at any time, and it is suggested that if and when you receive inquiries direct from prospects you call upon us for assistance."

The letter continued, "We find many industries are interested especially in one-story building already available, which may be leased under mutually satisfactory terms and conditions. A number of inquiries relate to sewing mills and similar textile operations."

In citing requirements by the larger plants, Mr. Dalton said, "Still, large industries are interested in a water supply and waste material disposal. Some industries are interested in a good supply of well water, and still other require a large supply of river water."

The success the Town of Wendell experienced in attracting industry by providing a building was brought to mind by the railroad man's statement that "some of the communities in the state have organized companies that are prepared to construct buildings and lease to suitable tenants under a long term lease on basis of liquidating substantially the entire investment during the initial term, and at the same time yield return sufficient to cover taxes, insurance, maintenance, and a fair return on the capital invested."

One of the goals desired by the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce is locating new business in this community.

Rural Fire Truck to Be Seen in Six Rural Areas During Week

Several demonstrations of a rural fire truck have been arranged for communities surrounding Zebulon, according to Robert Edd Horton, chairman of the Rural Fire Department Project in the Finer Carolina Contest. A fire truck has been obtained similar to the one planned for Zebulon, and this equipment will visit a half dozen sections three days of this week.

Whenever possible, the demonstration will be made by fighting fires set in old, abandoned buildings, according to Willie B. Hopkins.

On Tuesday night the truck will stage a demonstration at Pilot at 7:30 and at Pearces at 8:30.

Wednesday night the truck will be a Lizard Lick at 7:30 and at Martins Center at 8:30.

On Thursday night a demonstration will be held at Murray Town at 7:30 and at Ferrells School at 8:00.

Anyone living in any of the six communities who has an old building which they are willing to burn is asked to contact any member of the Rural Fire Department so that it can be used for the demonstration.

Rabies Vaccination Clinics Planned In Wake County Beginning April 1

Rabies vaccination clinics will be held at strategic locations in Wake County beginning April 1, according to Dr. A. C. Bulla, Wake County Health Officer, who said the clinics will continue through April 15. Veterinarians in the county are cooperating with the Health Department in the clinics. The law provides that an opportunity be given all dog owners each year between April 1 and June 30 to have dogs vaccinated against rabies.

Dr. Bulla warned that there is a penalty against each dog owner who fails to comply with this anti-rabic vaccination law.

Clinics in this area will be held on Friday, April 3, at Nowell's Drug Store in Wendell, G. J. Robertson's Store in Rolesville, W. H. Robertson's Store in Knightdale, and the Zebulon Municipal Building.

On Thursday, April 2, the clinics will be at Carey Robertson's Store and Eagle Rock.

Wednesday, April 1, the clinic will be held at Gay's Store on Route 64, and Wake Cross Roads, and New Hill Store.

Riley's Store at County Line will have a clinic Wednesday, April 8; and Hopkins Store at Hopkins Cross Roads will have a clinic on Monday, April 13.

Handbills publicizing the clinics and listing the dates for all the clinics in the county are being distributed by the health department.

Dr. Richard Spring of Zebulon is one of the eight veterinarians cooperating in the campaign, conducting clinics at Gay's Store, Eagle Rock, Zebulon, Hopkins Cross Roads, Bethlehem Church on the Poole Road, Riley's Store, Raybon's Store, and Kelly's Store on Highway 70.

Community Is Saddened By Unexpected Death Of John Green Kemp

The entire community was saddened early Sunday morning when it learned that John Green Kemp, 69, had died in his sleep Saturday night. Mr. Kemp was a valuable and honored member of the community, taking part in church and civic activities for many years.

At the time of his death he headed J. A. Kemp & Son, and was treasurer of the Zebulon Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Zebulon Baptist Church at 4 p. m., conducted by Dr. George J. Griffin, former pastor. Burial was in the Zebulon cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, the former Lily Biscoe Kemp; three daughters, Mrs. James E. Allen of Myrtle Beach, S. C., Mrs. James Rosenstack of Petersburg, Florida, and Mrs. Bruce Hodges, Jr., of Gastonia; two brothers, D. P. of Raleigh and Tom B. Kemp of New York City; a sister, Mrs. John Horton of Zebulon; four grandchildren.

Lions Hear Discussion By Scouting Leader

The Zebulon Lions Club, sponsor of the Girl Scout Troops in this community was told the responsibilities involved in sponsoring the Troops by Mrs. S. M. Young, Jr., of Raleigh, Council executive. Promotional work with the troops was emphasized by the speaker.

Mrs. Ruth Chamblee, representative of this community on the Council, was a guest for the meeting, which was held last Thursday night in the recreation room of the Zebulon Methodist Church.

A zone meeting attended by representatives of the Wendell, Wake Forest, Rolesville, and Zebulon clubs was held following the program. Donald Thomas of Wendell, zone chairman, was in charge of the assembly.

Grading at Armory Site Is in Progress

Grading is expected to be completed this week on the Zebulon National Guard armory site, and Captain R. E. Shelden, Budget Bureau engineer, reported that bids will be requested on the building immediately upon completion of the grading. Millard Duke, Zebulon contractor, was successful bidder for the grading work.

The entire front of the site is being leveled. The graded area will front 255 feet on Arendell Avenue, extending back 300 feet from the street. About 2,500 yards of dirt must be moved.

The armory will be located 100 feet back from the street and about 40 feet from the North side of the lot. The south side of the lot, where a 4½-foot fill is necessary to level the site, will be used for parking.

Rotarians Hear Trio Of Talented Pianists

A varied and enjoyable program was presented at the Friday night meeting of the Zebulon Rotary Club by Secretary Rodney McNabb. Three piano pupils of Mrs. McNabb played several selections and then Rodney conducted a quiz program on the State of North Carolina.

The talented pianists included Peggy Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Greene, Sr., Judith Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hood, and Robert Jenkins, son of Mrs. J. R. Buffalo.

The Rotary Club will meet at the Corinth School Friday night, where the seniors are serving a special supper.

National 4-H Club Week Is Observed

March 7-15 is National 4-H Club Week. In North Carolina, there is a total membership of 140,000, and in Wake County there is a membership of 1,500 boys and girls in the county's twenty-six clubs.

The 4-H club is designed for rural boys and girls to teach them modern farming and homemaking practices, to develop leadership, to develop better personality, and to mold better citizens.

President of the Wakelon Junior Club is Micky Phillips. President of the Wakelon Senior Club is Ruth Temple.

Building and Loan Meeting Thursday

A special meeting will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to discuss plans for organizing a Building and Loan Association in Zebulon. The public is urged to attend. The assembly will be in the Municipal Building.

Sfc. Walter Bailey Stationed in Germany

Sergeant First Class Walter C. Bailey, whose wife, Ruby, lives on Route 1, Lawrenceville, Ill., is now serving with the 43rd Infantry Division in Germany.

SFC Bailey, a supply sergeant in Company L, 102nd Infantry Regiment, joined the 43rd last month.

Bailey, who father, Mr. Donnie Bailey, lives on Route 1, Middlesex, has been in the Army since 1948.

Two Zebulon Girls Make Honor Roll

Top ranking students at Woman's College of U. N. C. for the first semester have been listed following a tabulation of academic grades, showing 202 students on the honor roll.

Among students on the honor roll were: Ruth Brown, Senior; and Joellen Gill, Sophomore; both of Zebulon.

The honor roll is composed of 12 per cent of seniors and juniors, ten per cent of sophomores and eight per cent of freshmen who made the greatest number of quality points during the semester.

Red Cross Fund Campaign Poster for 1953

The "marching flags" poster of the late N. C. Wyeth, first used by the Red Cross in 1933 and repeated in 1947, will be used again as the poster of the 1953 Fund Campaign because of its great popularity. Repeated also is last year's slogan, "Answer the Call."
