Western Auto Store and Flowers 5c to $5 Store both have gone all out to furnish everything an angler needs to hook anything from a shad roach to a bass or trout, and an invitation has been extended to fishermen to make Zebulon their fishing headquarters.

CUCUMBER GRADING STATION

A new business came to Zebulon this spring when J. Raleigh Alford agreed to serve as buyer for the Mount Olive Pickle Company and constructed the grading station pictured above. Local farmers have contracted to grow nearly 100 acres of the "cukes" and others are signing the contracts daily. The grading machinery at the station will be installed at an early date. Cucumber planting begins about April 15 and the harvesting period is in June and July. Mr. Alford says his greatest problem this year is gaining the growers confidence, because some years ago a fly-by-night outfit broke its buying contract and left many farmers with ruined cucumbers on their hands.

Cannady Is First Entrant in 1953 Election Campaign

Politics began to thaw out in Zebulon this week, despite the cold snap which struck Wednesday. Armstrong Cannady broke the ice by filing his candidacy for Town Commissioner, and speculation increased in the expected contest for the office of mayor. Two years ago Cannady lost a close race in the commissioners' contest, his first bid for political office.

"My friends told me I came out too late two years ago," he said Wednesday, "and I'm not making that mistake this year."

In a prepared statement, Cannady expressed his platform as follows:

Your strong vote for me in our last city election has prompted me to join the race again this year. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you again for the fine support you gave me and to ask for it again this year.

If elected I will do everything in my power to make Zebulon a better place to live. I am for a progressive program to beautify and strengthen our town business-wise. We have come a long way during my six year stay here and our goal is unlimited as to how far we can and need to go.

I believe that my present job as salesman which carries me over 1100 miles of Eastern North Carolina each week and into many towns our size can bring new ideas and plans to our community which are badly needed at this time. Among the many things which I will strive to achieve are:

Platform Planks Given

1. To stop unauthorized solicitation of funds from our merchants by every Tom Dick and Harry Organization.
2. To enforce all of the town ordinances or strike them from the books.
3. To search for a way to reduce the town tax rate without reducing efficiency.
4. To provide extra protection for school children to and from school.
5. To advertise the advantages and opportunities for big business in Zebulon in State publications.
6. To develop and maintain a decent garbage and trash disposal service.
7. To enforce the Sunday Law.
8. To beautify our town through paving and planting of trees and shrubs.
9. To stop down town peddling when in direct competition to our merchants.
10. To keep my mind open to suggestions offered by the people of Zebulon.

My only wish in seeking this office is to return in part the blessing I have received in Zebulon through my service to the community.
